By BOYD F. CARROLL
Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3—A political spoils move to oust William R. Nelson of St. Joseph as director of the staff of the Missouri Committee on Legislative Research merely because he is a Republican and to replace him with a Democrat was soundly beaten here yesterday afternoon by the committee.

This blocked an attempt to inject partisan politics into selection of the research staff of the committee which serves as a fact-finding and bill-drafting agency for the Legislature. It has operated on a non-political basis since its creation in 1943.

The committee, made up of 10 Senate and 10 House members, 11 of them Democrats and nine Republicans, had been expected to defeat the move pending since last July but by a close vote.

14 to 5 Vote.

Instead the group shocked the spoils advocates by defeating the ouster motion submitted by Representative Tom A. Shockley (Dem.) of Waynesville by the surprise vote of 14 to 5. One committee member did not vote.

Democratic and Republican members joined in denouncing the Shockley proposal which also had the backing of Speaker Roy Hamlin (Dem.). Hamlin is not a member of the committee but appointed the 10 House members. Only four of them, including Shockley, supported the move.

The proposal was attacked as an effort to force politics into the non-political research work of the staff and to destroy its usefulness and efficiency.

Shockley, the only committee member to speak in support of his motion to replace Nelson with a Democrat not named and to divide the other staff appointments on a political basis, first submitted the proposal at a committee meeting last July when several members were absent. At that time he said it was the idea of Hamlin and himself and was "purely political." Action was postponed until yesterday.

Effect of Proposed Plan.

Senator Edward V. Long of Bowling Green, Senate Democratic majority floor leader, told the committee yesterday that approval of Shockley's motion would result in complete destruction of the research committee and its usefulness.

"Then it might be just as well to repeal the law creating the committee" Long said. "What might be the real purpose of some of the people who support this motion. There may be more than meets the eye."

Without naming Speaker Hamlin, Long referred to extended delays in the still uncompleted law revision work of the 1949 legislature which have resulted in some degree from Hamlin holding up House committee reference of a Senate-approved bill setting up a continuing system of law revision.

When the Legislature recessed last July 2 until this fall, Hamlin had been holding the Senate bill in his office for more than three months without referring it to a House committee. The House will reconvene on Sept. 20 and the Senate on Oct. 11.

"Some of the officers of the House have been so presumptuous as to hold that bill," Long said. "There have been rumors in the Youth Rescued After 6-Hour Fight With Sandslide at Bottom of Well

Sheet Steel Tube Is Sunk 20 Feet, Sand Dipped Out, Boy Hauled Up With Minor Bruises.

ELKHART, Ind., Sept. 3 (AP)—Friends, rescue workers and welders battled an underground sandslide almost six hours last night to get a 17-year-old Chicago schoolboy out of a well.

When the struggle was over, Gene Sanders, apparently unhurt by being almost completely buried, wanted to take a bus back to Chicago. He was held overnight in Elkhart General Hospital.

The sand poured in over Sanders just as he and a friend, Gust Peterson, had finished digging a well 20 feet deep beside Peterson's farmhouse near Bristol, nine miles east of here.

Peterson, who had just started up a ladder, frantically scratched sand away from the boy's face, but more sand kept sliding in.

When Fire Chief John Williams of Elkhart arrived with an ambulance and rescue crew, he found Peterson bending his own body over the boy's face to keep the said away.

"Get out of there, or we'll have two to bring up," Williams ordered.

Air Mask Fitted to Face.

Fire Capt. Jack Landon of the Elkhart ambulance crew then fitted an air mask on Sanders's face.

Charles Miller, plant superintendent of the Elkhart Bridge & Iron Co., was called by police radio. He decided a sheet steel tube should be lowered into the well to block off any more sandslides.

Instructions for making a tube 42 inches in diameter and 20 feet long were radioed to the Elkhart plant.

An hour and a half later, Miller was back on the Peterson farm but the tube was too big. A crane operator found it wouldn't budge past a spot where the well narrowed.

The tube was pulled out and welders, working on the spot, cut out a strip 10 inches wide, then rewelded the tube.

This time the tube fit, and rescue workers began scooping out the sand around Sanders a bucketful at a time.

Gloomy at First.

Through the long hours, Sanders had been cramped in a sitting position. At first he told rescuers, "It's no use."

Later, he complained of feeling cold.

When at last he was hoisted out of the well in a rescue harness, he bowed to news photographers and said: "This'll cost you five bucks."

Doctors could only find minor bruises. They said he spent a restful night.

7 Classes of Auto Noises.

DETROIT, Sept. 3 (UP)—An engineering study announced today by General Motors Corp. put automobile noises into seven classifications: Squeak, rattle, thump, grind, knock, scrape and hiss.

DODGERS WHITTLE AT CARDINAL LEAD AS REDBIRDS REST

The St. Louis Cardinals, home from a successful road trip, were a game and a half ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the seesaw National League pennant race today.

The two-game lead the Cardinals had over the Dodgers was trimmed last night when the Brooklyn team shut out the New York Giants 8 to 0 while the Cardinals rested.

Brooklyn has a chance to shave the game and a half lead still more before the Cardinals meet Cincinnati tonight at Sportsman's Park. The Dodgers will play the Giants this afternoon in New York and a Brooklyn victory would cut the Cardinal margin to one game.

KING GUSTAV, 91, CAN'T SEE RABBITS, SO HE HUNTS ELK

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 3 (UP)—King Gustav V of Sweden has been forced by failing eyesight to change his target on hunting trips from rabbits to elk.

Extra Holiday Hazard for City: Flood of Bogus $10 and $20 Bills

A sudden influx of counterfeit $20 and $10 bills, which began here Thursday, is expected to increase over the Labor day weekend because banks are closed and serial numbers of the bills cannot be checked, Jackson N. Krill, agent in charge of the United States Secret Service office here, warned today.

If tradesmen are not on the alert, Krill warned, they may find by Tuesday morning that a "bushel basket full" of counterfeit bills have been passed here.

When Krill's office closed yesterday, a total of 10 $20 bills and 15 $10 bills had been turned in by merchants who had accepted them. One man apparently was passing all the bills, Krill said.

Theaters, taverns and small stores received the counterfeit bills Thursday and yesterday, Krill said. Banks are closed today, tomorrow and Monday, facilitating passage of the worthless currency, he pointed out.

The bogus money arrived simultaneously in St. Louis, Kansas City and Memphis, Tenn., Krill reported. The worthless $20 bills passed here were of a type never before been reported anywhere in the country.

The $20 bills bear the name of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis and the face plate number C43. The back plate number is 592 and the serial number on all the bills is H95621073C. Krill said the color of the bills is lighter than that of legitimate 20s and the paper quality is poor. The signature of the late W. A. Julian, former treasurer of the United States, is irregular.

The worthless $10 bills bear the name of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, Va., and the back plate number 207. They were made by a photo-engraving process. All bear the same serial number in the upper right and lower left corners, E269689959A. To the right of the picture of Hamilton is the check letter and face plate number, F28. Hamilton's picture, Krill said, is not as well executed as on genuine bills. The paper, although of high quality, does not have red and blue silk fibres through it, he added.

Krill suggested that any merchant who becomes suspicious of a bill should obtain a good description of the person who offers it. If possible, the merchant should try to detain the person and call police.

THRONGS ON LABOR DAY TRIPS JAM BUS, RAIL DEPOTS AND HIGHWAYS

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

Thousands of St. Louisans jammed Union Station, bus depots and highways leading out of the city last night and this morning as they departed on Labor day weekend trips. For many of them it will be a three-day holiday.

Extra coaches were added to nearly all trains leaving Union Station to provide for the increased number of travelers taking weekend trips. All the major airlines reported large numbers of holiday travelers and at least one of the airlines scheduled additional flights to handle the heavy passenger loads.

City, state and federal courts and offices in the area will be closed Monday, Labor day, as will banks and most stores, business offices and industrial plants. The market at St. Louis National Stock Yards on the East Side will be closed Monday, but livestock received over the weekend will be fed and cared for, pending opening of the market Tuesday.

Many St. Louisans, who chose to avoid the crowds leaving the city for the holiday, are expected to crowd into Sportsman's Park tonight, tomorrow and Monday to watch the National League leaders, the Cardinals, perform. A game between the Cardinals and Cincinnati is scheduled for tonight and the two teams will meet again tomorrow afternoon. The Cardinals will play Pittsburgh in a double-header Monday afternoon.

There will be no delivery of mail in the St. Louis area Monday. All post offices will be closed, except for the receiving windows at Main Post Office, Eighteenth and Market streets, which will remain open for receipt of mail and sale of stamps. There will be one collection of mail in the area Labor day.

There are no formal observances of Labor day planned by either AFL or CIO labor organizations in St. Louis this year, although three such observances will be held in East Side communities.

Some 20,000 members of 79 AFL labor unions in East St. Louis, in co-operation with veterans organizations, will stage a parade at 10 a.m. Monday, followed by a picnic at Jones Park, Twenty-fifth street and Caseyville avenue. The parade will form at Eighteenth street and Illinois avenue and follow a 15-block route to the park, where a short memorial service in honor of outstanding leaders in the labor movement will be held.

Members of AFL labor unions in the vicinity of Alton will participate in the fifty-second annual parade sponsored by the Alton Trades & Labor Assembly in Alton at 9 a.m. Monday. Civic and patriotic organizations have been invited to join in the parade.

The AFL Central Trades and Labor Union of Belleville will sponsor a picnic Monday at Swansea Park, a half mile north of Belleville on Illinois State Route 159, for members of affiliated unions and their families.

The annual B'nai B'rith carnival to raise funds for charitable and service activities conducted by the organization opened today at Westlake Park, St. Charles and Natural Bridge roads, St. Louis county.

Among other Labor day activities sponsored by private organizations will be: A picnic on the grounds of the St. Domenico Italian Orphan Home, 1340 Partridge avenue, University City, to raise funds to reduce the debt on the institution; the fall fastival of St. Frances's Orphans Home on the institution grounds on St. Frances lane, south of Natural Bridge road, Normandy.

ACCIDENT DEATH TOLL RISES TO 39 SO FAR IN HOLIDAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Millions of motorists in holiday mood headed for Labor day outings today as the nation began the summer's late extended holiday.

But before Saturday noon 39 persons were dead from accidents. Of this number, 34 died in automobile crashes, two were dead from drowning, and three from other mishaps.

The National Safety Council predicted a probable death toll of 280 in traffic deaths from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club said that Indiana State Police had reported to his office that the car traffic to the Chicago area holiday spots in the Indiana Dunes was the highest they had ever experienced. There were three traffic deaths in Illinois.

The 1948 Labor day weekend was marred by 407 violent deaths, including 293 traffic fatalities, 60 drownings and 54 persons killed in miscellaneous mishaps.

SENATOR ASKS FOR DATA ON TRUMAN, BARKLEY TRIPS IN MILITARY PLANES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson's refusal to fly Senators around the world in a military plane backfired today with a senatorial inquiry into free flights for Administration officials.

Senator Elmer Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma, demanded that Johnson furnish immediately a report on all the trips made by top Administration people in military craft, with an account of all the expenses involved.

Specifically, Thomas wants the record on flights by President Truman, Vice President Barkley and Johnson himself, among other officials who fly.

Yesterday Johnson wrote Thomas that a group of Senators, planning a flying trip to Europe and on around the world, could save the military up to $25,000 by riding ordinary commercial airlines. He said he did not want to compete, put out hints about the current economy drive in Congress and said besides, that the military just didn't have the planes to spare.

Thomas Hits Back.

Today Thomas blasted back.

If members of Congress "who make the policies for Government and provide the funds to keep it a going concern" must ride the private airlines, Thomas said it might be a good idea for the downtown Government leaders to do the same thing.

What's more, Thomas wrote Johnson, he was sending staff investigators of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which controls the nation's purse strings, to check all the recent flights from nearby Air Force and Navy flying fields.

Then Thomas supplied a list of eight detailed questions about aircraft travel by the President, Vice President and others. He wanted to know the length of flights, the purposes, the names of persons aboard and the total cost to the armed services and government.

Earlier there was we-might-pass-a-law reaction at the Capitol.

Late yesterday Thomas told a reporter his inclination was to protest against Johnson's letter, but he decided against it and made a meek reply. All he said then was that the information was being passed along to other Senators.

Decides to "Let Him Have It."

But today Thomas became irritated at news accounts and decided "to let him (Johnson) have it."

Before that he told a reporter: "This may bring this airplane issue to the front. If the military officials can assign planes to anyone they like, then Congress may have to take notice of it and fix the policy."

Thomas, one of the leaders of an insistent Senate economy bloc, conceded with a wry smile that the drive to slash Government spending apparently had boomeranged.

Other Senators grumbled private to reporters that President Truman, Vice President Barkley and other officials of the executive department make frequent flying trips.

They also recalled recent public testimony that John Maragon former Kansas City bootblack and man-about-Washington, and Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan of St. Louis, the President's Army aide, were able to arrange military air transport to Europe for perfume dealers.

But Secretary Johnson was firm, writing Senator Thomas:

"For economy reasons, both in aircraft and in dollars, so far this

MORNING MIST EATS INTO AUTO PAINT; CABBAGE A SUSPECT

TILGHMAN, Md., Sept. 3 (AP)—Auto paint is eaten away. Holes are burned through clothes on the washline. Stone houses are discolored.

Complaints from residents of this Chesapeake Bay island led to an investigation today of a mysterious "mist" believed to be responsible for such phenomena.

There are several theories. One involves fumes from a fertilizer plant. Another, put forward by Dr. Lewis S. Welty, Talbot county medical examiner, believes water cabbages may be to blame. Dr. Welty explains his water cabbage theory thus: When the big leaves of the plant rot, they give off a hydrogen sulphide fume. If enough hydrogen sulphide gets into the air and there is a heavy dew, the hydrogen sulphide may dissolve in the dewdrops and form sulphur dioxide. That in turn becomes sulphurous acid. The acid does the dirty work.

'Worse Traitor Than Tokyo Rose' Arrested After Army Discharge

Sergeant Captured on Corregidor Said to Have Aided Japs in Many Ways.

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
SGT. JOHN D. PROVOO

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (UP)—Justice Department officials today accused a California Army veteran, held on a treason charge, of being a "worse traitor than Tokyo Rose."

United States Attorney John F. X. McGohey said Sgt. John David Provoo, 33 years old, of San Francisco, already has made "a number of admissions" concerning charges that he voluntarily assisted the Japanese during the war.

Arrested After Discharge.

The 6-foot 2-inch Provoo was arrested by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents yesterday when he received his discharge at Governor's Island after eight years of military service. He was arraigned and ordered held without bail for a hearing next Friday.

"Tokyo Rose only broadcast propaganda," McGohey said. "This man was worse. He not only aided the Japanese by broadcasting propaganda, but he helped the Jap forces in the occupation of Corregidor."

Provoo, nicknamed "Tokyo Johnny" by Justice Department

EX-ST. LOUISAN HELD IN KILLING IN U.S. ARMY PRISON

Clarence E. Coons Jr. Accused at Camp Cooke, Calif.—Court-Martial Wednesday.

Clarence E. Coons Jr., formerly of Brentwood, who is serving a seven-year sentence for desertion from the Army in Europe and who was a central figure in an investigation of courtsmartial, has been charged with murder in the death of a fellow prisoner, it was announced today.

Coons and three other prisoners are charged with stabbing and beating Charlie W. Raylor of Daytona Beach, Fla., to death on June 10 in the United States Disciplinary Barracks at Camp Cooke, Calif.

It is charged that one of the four forced a prison guard at the barracks to free the other three, and that the stabbing of Raylor followed. Maj. Thomas H. Swan has been named as defense counsel at a court-martial, which will start Wednesday.

The other defendants in the death of Raylor are William D. Barnes of Nashville, Tenn.; John Lee of Louisville, W. Va., and Richard Spasoff of Clarksville, Pa.

In 1945 Coons was tried on a charge of desertion in the face of the enemy, a capital offense, by a court-martial at Loire, France. He was sentenced to serve 30 years, but this was reduced to seven years after his mother appealed to her congressman, Representative Walter Ploeser.

His mother said Coons wrote her that after participating in three European battles his nerves collapsed. He left his unit, the 318th Infantry, three times, he said, and was tried after being picked up by another unit in Luxembourg.

Coons's mother, who formerly lived at 8778 Brentwood place, Brentwood, now lives in Villa Ridge, Mo. A sister, Mrs. Arnold Pierce, lives at 2349 Brentwood boulevard. Coons is 30 years old.

URANIUM ORE FOUND NEAR WHITE HOUSE, 290 FEET IN AIR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Indications of uranium ore have been detected a few hundred yards from the White House—and 290 feet up in the air.

It's in the Washington Monument.

A geiger counter carried by a prospecting reporter stepped up its ticking briskly when placed near granite blocks which support a memorial stone from Colorado in the 555-foot monument.

There is raw uranium there, an expert said, but not enough to be either valuable or dangerous.

JUSTICE RUTLEDGE UNCONSCIOUS BUT CLINGS TO LIFE

Has Quiet Night—Ailment Disclosed as Heart Trouble, With Cerebral Hemorrhage.

YORK, Me., Sept. 3 (AP)—Dangerously ill Supreme Court Justice Wiley B. Rutledge still clung to life today in York Hospital.

The 55-year-old jurist, in a coma since noon yesterday following cerebral hemorrhage, had a quiet night.

Dr. Elmer Tower, attending physician, said that although Justice Rutledge still was in the coma, "his general condition is somewhat improved."

His ailment had at first been described only as a "circulatory condition," but after a relapse yesterday it was revealed that he was suffering from heart trouble.

Through the night, members of the judge's family—his wife, two daughters, son and daughter-in-law—watched anxiously at his bedside or rested in an adjacent room.

Justice Rutledge, regarded as a "liberal" member of the nation's highest court, entered the 22-bed hospital last Saturday. He became ill when vacationing at nearby Ogunquit, a summer resort.

Mrs. Rutledge, Mary Lou and Jean Ann, and Neal and his wife have been at the hospital constantly since Justice Rutledge suffered a relapse Wednesday. His condition had been reported improved earlier that day.

Justice Rutledge has been on the Supreme Court bench since 1943. He was the eighth and last appointee of President Roosevelt. He was elevated from the District of Columbia Circuit Court of Appeals.

A native of Cloverport, Ky., Justice Rutledge formerly was dean of the law schools of Washington University in St. Louis and of the University of Iowa.

JUMPS FROM SKIDDING CAR, WIFE'S AUTO RUNS OVER HIM

Air Force Major Seriously Hurt as They Are Moving Machines to New Home.

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Sept. 3 (AP)—Air Force Maj. William C. Sullivan was seriously injured last night when he jumped from his car, which had just skidded from a road west of here, and was run over by an automobile his wife was driving. He suffered fractures in his left arm, right leg and a possible broken neck.

The Sullivans were en route from Lowry Air Base at Denver to Reno, in two cars, where he was due to become Air Force contact officer for the Nevada Civil Air Patrol. Their home is Atlanta.

When the car Sullivan was driving skidded he thought a short in the wiring had started a fire and jumped from the car, Mrs. Sullivan saw his car skid, lost control of the car she was driving and it also left the road, running over Sullivan.

Barkley to Visit Mrs. Hadley Over Labor Day Holidays Here

Vice President Alben W. Barkley, the Kentucky squire whose attentions have been directed toward Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, 5539 Pershing avenue, in recent months, will be in St. Louis this weekend to visit the comely matron, who laughingly parries questions as to Barkley's romantic interest in her.

Barkley admitted at his home in Paducah, Ky., that he would visit Mrs. Hadley over Labor day, but was reluctant to discuss his plans. He explained, "My schedule isn't complete yet, but I'm going."

Mrs. Hadley said Barkley is scheduled to arrive in St. Louis Sunday evening "sometime, and probably will spend several days in the city." He has a speaking engagement in Springfield, Ill., Thursday morning and probably will leave St. Louis Wednesday night.

As to what plans Barkley and she might have for his visit here, Mrs. Hadley said, "No plans."

INFORMERS TELL OF DEALS NOW BEING CHECKED BY COMMITTEE

McCarthy to Demand Questioning of Frankie Costello of New York—Says He Is Necessary Witness.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Some entirely new cases are being opened up by tips poring in on Senate subcommittee members in the investigation of five percenters, Senator Mundt (Rep.), South Dakota said today.

He predicted that before the hearings by the Senate special investigating subcommittee are completed "it will be demonstrated that the influence racket in Washington is greater than expected." He predicted also that later hearings would show instances of "persons using White House contacts to advance their interests." The hearings are now in recess—probably for a month or so.

Mundt said many of the tips being received obviously are from cranks. He said, however, that "about 50 of them require a second look"—and he is sure that "some are pretty good."

Specific Deals.

Some of the leads, he said, deal with "specific transactions" that now are being looked into by committee investigators. Others, he disclosed, have come from federal employes referring the committee to certain Government files.

Senator McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, said yesterday that it was "very important" that Frankie Costello, New York gambling figure, be called, but Chairman Hoey (Dem.), North Carolina, indicated he is not convinced.

Hoey said at his Shelby (N. C.) home that nothing had been brought out to link Costello with any of the witnesses.

McCarthy said "a number of things" have cropped up in the investigation about which he wishes to ask Costello.

'Very necessary' Witness.

"I can't disclose them nor or it would foul things up," he told a reporter. He insisted, however, that Costello is a "very necessary" witness and he will insist that the so-called "slot machine king" be called.

The persistent McCarthy rang in Costello's name several times this week as he fired questions at Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan of St. Louis, President Truman's Army aide, in the Senate investigation of the part influence plays in getting business favors from Government.

McCarthy wanted to know whether campaign funds turned over to Vaughan had come from Costello. Vaughan said he had no knowledge of it.

Had Vaughan ever been investigated on a charge that "Costello" liquor interests paid him to get more grain for liquor-making? Vaughan said he had never heard of such a charge and denied it.

It New York, Costello was not available and his attorney declined to get in touch with him for possible comment.

More Quizzing of Vaughan.

Mundt and McCarthy said they expected Vaughan to be recalled for questioning on new evidence being dug up. Vaughan underwent a rigorous examination on the stand two days this week.

McCarthy told reporters he feels sure Vaughan would be asked to take the witness chair again and Mundt termed Vaughan's reappearance "very probable."

Both based their statements on new leads being run down by committee investigators. They said the investigation into the activities of five percenters has just begun. The committee is trying to learn the extent of any influence exerted by the five percenters on top Government officials.

Vaughan in his testimony before the committee readily acknowledged that he had lent a helping hand to friends in their dealings with the Government, but he denied doing anything improper. He said he had never sought, received or expected any fees or other remuneration for his favors.

Mundt said that when the committee resumes its hearings, he expects that testimony on new evidence being uncovered will involve Vaughan and that the President's aide will be called to answer it.

In the hearings already held, Mundt said, "we didn't start out to investigate Gen. Vaughan. His name just kept being brought into the testimony by other witnesses and so we called him to get his story."

Senator Hoey (Dem.), North Carolina, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, has said that he now knows no reason why Vaughan should be questioned further. But he added that there would be no hesitancy in recalling Vaughan if later developments should warrant it.

President Truman has said he intends to retain Gen. Vaughan, a buddy since World War I days, as his aide.

BRITISH DECISION ON DEVALUATION CALLED KEY NEED IN SOLVING CRISIS

U. S. Conference Must Quiet Rumors or Trade Slowdown Over Uncertainty Will Continue, Officials Say.

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Diplomatic officials said today that Britain's economic comeback route looks bleak until it rules decisively one way or another on devaluing the pound. They said Britain's reply on this point is probably the most important issue in the forthcoming British-American - Canadian financial talks.

If rumors of devaluation persist after the conference ends, they said, many British customers are likely to continue to hold back buying British goods, thus making it difficult for Britain to earn the dollars it needs so badly.

This slowdown in buying, especially by some American customers, has been one of the factors that has aggravated the British financial crisis in the last few months and caused the labor government to dip deep into its reserves.

Cripps to Get New Chance.

Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, has repeatedly tried to spike these rumors, but thus far has not succeeded. In fact, an increasing number of newspapers and business men have joined the chorus that Britain's money is over-priced under present conditions and that devaluation is necessary to increase trade.

Cripps will get another chance to put these rumors to rest during the meetings with Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder and Secretary of State Dean Acheson and top Canadian cabinet officers. These discussions are scheduled to begin next Wednesday.

Snyder and other top rank American Government financial and economic experts are said to believe Britain must cut the value of the pound if its goods are to be able ot compete in today's world market.

However, Snyder and Acheson are reported to have decided not to press the British lest the United States be blamed if devaluation fails to solve the British slump. American officials do not regard it as a "cure-all" but are convinced it is one of the important steps necessary to restore confidence in Britain's economic future.

Preliminary Talks End.

The preliminary agenda drawn up by British-American-Canadian "fact finders" in their sessions which ended yesterday made no mention of devaluation as a topic for discussion at the conference starting Wednesday. The three-power negotiators agreed to suggest six steps which could ease Britain's dollar shortage but which would not solve the long-range British problem.

Some diplomatic officials believe it is possible that a decision on the future rate of the British pound may be delayed until after the International Bank and Monetary Fund meeting which begins here Sept. 13.

The International Monetary Fund was created three years ago to stabilize world currencies and it would have to approve any change in the par value of any member country. There are reports that the French government delegation is determined to bring up the question of devaluing the pound at this meeting.

Canada's Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson, and Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott are scheduled to arrive here Monday to be on hand for the three-power financial conference. British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Cripps are on their way aboard the Mauretania.

NEW TROPICAL STORM ABATES AFTER KILLING 7 ON BARBADOS

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 3 (AP)—The small tropical storm that claimed seven lives on the British island of Barbados apparently has spent its energy and flattened into nothing more serious than a strong easterly wind.

The San Juan, Puerto Rico, weather station late last night said the disturbance had lost any semblance of an "eye" and although it contained strong winds, had none of the characteristics of a regular tropical storm.

Storm warnings which flapped over Hispaniola were ordered down. Small shipping in Puerto Rico and Virgin Island waters was warned to stay in port for the next 24 hours. On Sept. 1 seven persons were drowned and 27 houses were smashed, as the trail end of the storm lashed Bridgeport, capital of Barbados.

BRITISH - RUSSIAN TRADE PACT TALKS NEAR BREAKDOWN

LONDON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Diplomatic officials reported today that British-Russian talks for a one-year trade pact involving nearly £100,000,000 ($400,000,000) worth of business are near a breakdown.

Under these separate agreements, this country would, for instance, get coarse grains or timber for canned fish in return for various goods the Russians want.

The officials said the talks seem about to collapse because: (1) Britain is unable to meet Russia's demands for guaranteed delivery dates of the goods it wants to buy; (2) Russia has been trying to get certain kinds of goods the western powers have barred to Communist countries. (These, broadly, are goods which might have a military use); (3) Russia thinks British prices are too high.

Trade Talks with Yugoslavs

Meanwhile, informed sources said Britain is negotiating in Belgrade to send Yugoslavia some of the goods cut off from Premier Josip (Tito) Broz's hard-pressed government by Russia and its satellites.

Informants said the talks envisaged a five-year British-Yugoslav trade agreement covering $1,000,000,000 to $1,500,000,000 worth of goods. They include machinery and many other items which the Soviet bloc had agreed to send the Yugoslavs before its break with Tito.

The Board of Trade said today the United States "can produce enough in four hours' work to pay for everything they import from Britain in a year." In an article titled "the challenge of the United States market," the Government board's weekly journal commented: "British exports to the United States are not catching up with the potential."

Dollar earning British sales in 1948 totaled $283,137,324. In the last reported month of this year, July exports to the United States were running at the rate of less than $200,000,000 for the year.

Great Buying Power Cited.

"Statistically there is no reason why British goods should not sell in the United States in greatly increased volume," said the journal, noting that the buying power of Americans last year was estimated at $188,901,300,000. It asserted there is "an entirely new type of market: a mass market which is ready to buy goods which no mass market ever bought before."

"There will always be a small and profitable market in the United States for luxury goods of the type which Britain can make better than any one in the world," the journal said. "But what is more important, there is growing up—and growing fast—a quantity market for quality goods. The increasing care which the American buying public is showing, coupled with the size of their savings accounts, could well be developed into a new emphasis and concentration on quality."

FIGHT OVER PLAN TO MERGE AMVETS AND OTHER GROUPS

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 3 (AP)—A battle over whether the Amvets organization should be merged with the American Veterans Committee was shaping today as the fifth national Amvets convention officially opened here.

The Virginia department offered a resolution asking that the convention consider the consolidation of all other World War II veterans organizations with the Amvets. However, the Colorado department of the Amvets notified the convention that it would withdraw if the convention approves the merger.

The Amvets executive committee held a closed meeting, lasting about an hour and a half, to discuss the merger proposal. The group named a committee to study the matter and report to the convention. Gil Harrison, of Los Angeles, national chairman of the AVC, met briefly with the committee at the beginning of the closed session.

EISENHOWER URGES U.S. HEAR BRITISH WITH SYMPATHY

Common Interests Cited in Reference to Financial Crisis of World War II Ally.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 3 (AP)—The United States should look sympathetically toward Britain in its financial crisis, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told an audience in his boyhood state last night. The Western Allied commander in World War II, now president of Columbia University, spoke at a Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner in his honor.

"From the standpoint of common interests we are very close to the British people," he said, "our self interest inclines us to look to their case sympathetically so they may regain their former position."

He said "the United States is not a bottomless pit from which we can constantly pour out our assets, but we do have a community of interests with the United Kingdom."

Eisenhower praised the United Nations as "the greatest concept for eliminating from the world the scourge of war." He said that through this organization the United States could most successfully project itself and its influence over the world.

The Atlantic pact is not contrary to the principles of the U.N., he asserted, and never mentioning Russia by name said that the pact was one big expression of a desire of the United States to give resistance to any attacker of freedom. The pact, he said, is merely one expression of the desire of nations to live together in freedom.

'WORSE TRAITOR THAN TOKYO ROSE' ARRESTED

workers, said it was "the first time he had heard" of the charges. He was pale and grave as McGohey reminded him that conviction of treason carries the maximum penalty of death. The attorney said Provoo had been unaware that he was under investigation for the last three years.

McGohey said that Provoo visited Japan in the summer of 1941 just prior to Pearl Harbor and studied Buddhism there. On his return to the United States he enlisted in the Army and was assigned to the Philippines.

Report of FBI.

FBI agents said that when Japanese troops overran Corregidor, Provoo met them in the garb of a Buddhist priest to demonstrate that he could be useful to them because of his knowledge of Japanese language and customs.

According to McGohey's application for Provoo's arrest, his offer was accepted by the Japanese. He was used by the Japanese to guard other prisoners and to aid in questioning them, "among other things," said Irving Saypol, McGohey's assistant.

He was said to have prepared radio scripts and performed in "defeatist" broadcasts to American troops from Tokyo as well as "performing numerous acts of assistance" to the Japanese armies.

Provoo was identified as a co-worker of Mrs. Iva Toguri d'Aquino, so-called "Tokyo Rose," by Government Prosecutor Thomas DeWolfe who is conducting her treason trial in San Francisco. He said he once considered Provoo as a possible witness but he was told by the Army that he was "undergoing a serious re-adjustment period."

Treatment as a Prisoner.

The reward of Provoo's alleged treason was "a measure of freedom" and a few luxuries while he was a prisoner of war in Tokyo, FBI agents said. He and 30 other collaborationists were housed in an old school house near the Tokyo radio and "lived a lot better than other prisoners," they said.

Saypol said American occupation troops found Provoo in a prisoner-of-war camp after the fall of Japan. He said other inmates accused Provoo of having interviewed them for Japanese army officials and that Japanese records gave partial support to the charges.

Provoo was permitted to serve out his period of enlistment and to re-enlist after he was honorably discharged in 1946. When his reenlistment term expired yesterday he was given an administrative discharge, neither dishonorable nor honorable.

The defendant is the son of J. F. Provoo of Sausalito, Calif. He had a "good employment record" at the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank before the war, Saypol said.

HOLLYWOOD REAL ESTATE MAN WINS BENDIX AIR RACE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3 (AP)—Joe Debona, who flies for fun and sells Hollywood real estate for a living, won the Bendix cross country race for propeller planes today.

streaked across the finish line at the National Air Races after the 2000-mile run which he covered in about 4 hours 16 minutes.

Two years ago, DeBona almost won the Bendix and its $10,000 first prize. He trailed Pau Mantz, the fabulous flyer of Hollywood, by just over one minute. DeBona is Actor James Stewart's personal pilot.

There wasn't another contestant in sight when DeBona finished.

Earlier, Maj. Vernon A. Ford, of San Francisco, sped across the finish line with an average speed of 529.6 miles an hour today in the jet division. It was the fastest time ever made in that division. His elapsed time was three hours, 45 minues, 51 seconds for the 1933-mile dash from Muroc (Calif.) Air Base.

The winner of the race could not be determined until three other jets arrive, since they started at intervals.

Capt. E. J. Newman of Mason City, Nebr., the second to take off, was also the second to finish. He crossed the line about 26 minutes behind Ford.

Five of the planes left Rosamond Dry Lake, Calif., at the scheduled starting time of 6:30 a.m., Pacific standard time (9:30 a.m. St. Louis daylight time). The sixth, piloted by Vince Perron of North Hollywood, was four minutes late, but under rules of the race still will have the same official starting time.

Paul Mantz, of Burbank, Calif., the defending champion, three-time winner and record holder in the event, finally decided at the last minute to let two of his contract flyers pilot his two entries—Stan Reaver and Herman (Fish) Salmon. They are flying F-51s, or Mustangs.

The other entrants are Don E. Bussart, Hong Kong, flying the Havilland, and Leland Cameron, North Hollywood, flying the B-26.

All six, if they finish, will get prizes, and there will be one left over. First award is $10,000, second $5500, third $3000, fourth $2500, fifth $1500, sixth $1000, seventh $500.

Army Jet Pilot Lands in Peoria, Ill., After Engine Fails.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 3 (AP)—An Army jet plane flying in the jet division of the Bendix air race made a forced landing here today after the engine conked out at 20,000 feet.

Capt. F. M. Rizer of Syracuse, O., said his plane left Muroc Air Base, Calif., at 9:30 a.m. (St. Louis time) en route to Cleveland. His craft was one of four Air Force jets racing to Cleveland.

Capt. Rizer said he was flying at an estimated 590 miles per hour ground speed when his engine conked out. Peoria, a check-in point in the race, was only a few miles away and he glided in to the Peoria Municipal Airport at 12:40 p.m.

When his plane touched the runway, its front landing gear collapsed and it nosed into the ground. Capt. Rizer was unhurt, but the plane was damaged too badly to continue in the race.

Plane on Transcontinental Flight Develops Fuel Trouble.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 3 (AP)—A single-engined Aeronca plane on an attempted non-stop transcontinental flight today developed fuel trouble over Lafayette, Ind., and turned toward Cleveland, the Civil Aeronautics Administration radio control station reported here.

CAA officials said radio conversation between the Lafayette Airport and the pilot, Norman Marsh, a cartoonist, confirmed a report that the plane was on an attempted flight from Los Angeles to New York.

The Quincy (Ill.) Herald-Whig reported earlier that the plane, named "Danny Hale," was over Springfield, Ill. The plane was headed for La Guardia Field, N. Y.

The plane was reported to have left Los Angeles at 12:59 a. m. Pacific Coast time with enough fuel for 26 hours of flying.

Sentenced in Jewel Theft.

VENICE, Italy, Sept. 3 (AP)—Cristofor Cellura, 34-year-old butler, was sentenced to four months in prison today on charges of stealing jewels valued at more than $2500 belonging to Film Actress Merle Oberon. Sentence was suspended because of Cellura's good record.

FISHING BOAT TIED UP AT NAVY WHARF STRAFED BY PLANE

Connecticut Air Guard Spokesman Says Three Craft Fired Over Practice Range.

NO MAN'S LAND ISLAND, Mass., Sept. 3 (AP)—The three-man crew of a fishing vessel reported last night that their boat was strafed by a fighter plane. Several hours later a spokesman for the Connecticut Air National Guard said three planes fired over the Navy practice range.

Capteain-owner Lee Broderick, 40 years old, of the 35-foot New Bedford sharkfisher, Sharker I said they were tied at an island wharf when a low-flying plane dived and sent a score of slugs into and around the boat.

The other crew members were Ellis Henry, 25 ,and Louis Oliviera, 22, also of New Bedford.

Intelligence Officer Maj. Carl Jensen of the 103rd Fighter Squadron at Groton, Conn., said an inspection plane reported all clear when it flew over the range 10 minutes before the fighters.

Jensen said after the fighter made two passes their leader saw a small mast sticking above the Navy wharf. He gave the cease-fire order and went down to investigate, Jensen added, after he saw three figures sitting on a wharf, waving their arms. The planes then returned to their base, he said.

The 103rd had the Navy's permission to use the island area, Jensen said.

A Navy spokesman said the island is for the exclusive use of the Navy and there is a $500 fine against anyone using the wharf.

According to the crewmen, who were on the wharf cutting up sharks, 20 shells pierced the craft and many others splattered about them on the landing.

Officials at New Bedford reported Henry said one slug landed between his feet as he attempted to motion the low-flying plane away.

Henry said the plane that attacked them was flying alone and came at them from a quarter of a mile away "20 feet above the water."

FINLAND WAR DEBT RECEIPTS TO GO IN GOOD WILL FUND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—All future payments by Finland on its debt to the United States will be used as a special good will fund for exchange of scholars and technical knowledge under an act signed by President Truman.

Finland is the only nation among World War I debtors to make consistant payments of principal and interest.

Congress was told that Finland is to pay $13,408,207 in the next 34 years under existing agreement, of which $5,478,025 will be interest. The original debt was $8,281,926 in 1920 and Finland has already paid more than that amount, mostly in interest. As of June 30, 1949, the unpaid principal was listed by the Treasury as $7,392,903.

In setting up the special fund, which will be administered by the State Department, Congress noted the "abiding friendship and good will which the people of the United States hold for the people of Finland."

$64,000 IN JEWELS VANISH DURING SHIPMENT BY PLANE

LONDON, Sept. 3 (AP) — A guarded shipment of jewelry worth about £16,000 ($64,000) has disappeared from an airplane between Paris and the Bahamas, a spokesman for the Boucheron jewel firm here said.

He reported the jewels were lost several weeks ago after being packed by the Paris headquarters of the Boucheron firm and routed via London and Lisbon to Nassau.

The representative said the shipment, intended for display and sale in Nassau, was inspected both in Paris and London by customs officials. An employe of the company flew with the shipment. At Nassau, he became suspicious and found the jewelry had been removed from the sealed boxes and strips of lead substituted. The jewels were insured.

Jap Sentenced to Be Hanged.

MANILA, Sept. 3 (AP)—Saburo Ito, who headed Japanese civilian volunteers at Davao, on the southern island of Mindanao, today was sentenced to be hanged for war crimes. He was convicted by the National War Crimes Commission, which has ordered 58 other Japanese hanged.

Congress Awards $25,000 to Man Injured by Post Office Auto

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—A Pittsburgh man who claims to have been reduced from the presidency of an electric company to poverty as the result of a traffic accident will receive $25,000 under a bill signed by President Truman.

He is George E. Hampton, 61 years old, who was struck by a post office special delivery automobile in 1942.

Describing himself as now virtually penniless and with no prospects of ever again earning a living, he claims—besides medical and surgical expenses—direct financial losses of $45,405 and expected earnings that will never come to him of $276,000.

Representative Davenport (Dem.), Pennsylvania, author of the bill, announced the President's action yesterday, and added:

"This was an unusually high amount for Congress to vote for a personal injury case but I feel that Mr. Hampton is deserving of every penny of it."

Action on the measure was unusual in that Davenport obtained additional evidence after the bill was passed by the House and as a result the Senate more than doubled the payment.

In explaining its action, the Senate Judiciary Committee included a photograph of Hampton's injured legs in its report.

Here is the evidence as it was presented to Congress:

Hampton was struck and dragged 30 feet by an automobile driven by a post office special delivery messenger, William E. Wagner. The accident occurred Nov. 24, 1942. It was raining at the time and Wagner said he was unaware of Hampton until the car struck him.

Hampton suffered multiple fractures of legs and ribs and his skull was fractured. Later, because of an infection, his left leg was amputated above the knee and his right leg is useless.

At the time he was struck, Hampton was president of the Hampton Electric Manufacturing Co., Oakmont, Pa. Because of his injuries the company which he headed has been forced out of business.

Disappointed College Boy Suitor Kills Secretary in Dallas Office

KEITH PETERSEN

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 3 (AP)—A disappointed college boy suitor walked into a downtown office building here yesterday and killed a Dallas secretary after she told him she was to marry another man.

Murder charges were to be filed today against Keith Petersen, 21 years old, of Dallas, junior journalism student at Southern Methodist University for the pistol killing of Carolyn Schofield, 20.

Petersen surrendered to officers shortly after the attractive secretary was killed by six pistol shots in the office of Henry Rogatz, petroleum engineer, about 4:25 p.m.

Officers took a signed statement from the youth. Young Petersen smoked innumerable cigarettes, but appeared calm, as he talked to officers.

He met Miss Schofield at a Y.M.C.A. dance on Oct. 30, 1942.

"We have been going together off and on ever since," he said. "We were engaged, but I guess you would not call it formally engaged."

Recently, Miss Schofield would not give him a date, although he telephoned many times. Yesterday afternoon he called her at the office twice.

The first time, she said she did not want to see him any more. On the second call, Petersen asked if he could see her occasionally. She said she thought it was best that they break off altogether.

"I came to town and went to a hardware store and bought a new pistol for $56," he told officers. "I also bought a box of 50 cartridges."

With the pistol in his pocket and the box under his arm he went to the office where she worked. Questioned as to whether he intended to kill Miss Schofield, he said, "No."

For an hour and a half he tried to persuade her to go with him again. She said she was going to marry another man.

"I got up and went out finally," Petersen said. "I went to the rest room and loaded the pistol and went back to talk with her some more."

This time, Petersen said, he pointed the pistol at Carolyn and told her to go into an inner office.

"I told her not to scream. Then she grabbed for the gun and I tried to hit her over the head with it but I missed. Then I started to shoot. The first shot hit her and she looked surprised," Petersen said.

Petersen told officers that he fired five more shots, one of which missed, as she lay on the floor.

"I called my mother at home and told her I had just shot Carolyn," Petersen said. Then he called his father, Lewis F. Petersen, an official of the Dallas Power and Light Co., whose office was nearby.

Officers said young Petersen was waiting for them when they arrived.

HELP DECLINED BY MAN ALONE ON ATLANTIC VOYAGE

Sailor en Route From Gibraltar to New York Rejects Navy Aid.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 3 (AP)—Atlantic Fleet Task Force 51 thought it had a rescue operation on its hands Thursday when it sighted a small ketch 200 miles east of New York.

The wind was blowing at 40 knots and a heavy squall was bouncing the tiny vessel about like a matchstick.

Help? Thanks, no, he said. Where was he going? Merely from Gibraltar to New York. He'd been en route for 60 days already.

Still, there was one little thing the task force could do for him: Please give his name and his position to the New York Times.

The task force radioed its story to fleet headquarters here. It said the name Atom was inscribed on the ketch and that it was identified as having been registered in New York under the number 10-390.

CARLTON SKINNER APPOINTED FIRST GUAM CIVILIAN GOVERNOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—President Truman today named Carlton Skinner of Milford, Conn., to be the first civilian Governor of Guam. Skinner, 36 years old, is a former Washington newspaper man and is now serving as special assistant to Secretary of the Interior Julius Krug.

The White House said he will take office soon, succeeding Adm. C. A. Pownall. It added the appointment is part of the President's program for "according civil government and a full measure of civil rights to the inhabitants of Pacific islands under the jurisdiction of the United States."

The new Governor will remain responsible to the Navy Department until July 1, 1950, when responsibility for Guam will be transferred to the Interior Department.

Scotland Yard Man's Car Stolen.

LONDON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Scotland Yard started hunting a stolen car today—with perhaps a little more than usual interest. The car belongs to one of the Yard's divisional chiefs. It was stolen from in front of the Highgate police station.

SHOT WHEN HE BREAKS IN TAVERN WHERE WIFE IS

Husband Wounded by Bartender—Had Asked Spouse to Stay Out of Place.

Lloyd Thomas Christopher, an automobile salesman of 5027 Fairview avenue, was shot in the left arm early today after he had kicked in a glass in a locked door of a tavern at 3442 Hereford street, where his wife was drinking against his wishes.

Christopher, who was taken to Barnes Hospital, was shot by Harry Carl Court, 2628 Indiana avenue, a bartender in the tavern, police reported. Court and Christopher were booked suspected of assault to kill.

Police said Christopher told them his wife, Mrs. Helen Mae Christopher, was not at home when he arrived there from work about 1:30 a.m. He said he suspected she was in the tavern, owned by Court's wife, Mrs. Flavia Court, around the corner from their home. Christopher had asked his wife to stay out of the place, he said.

When he went to the tavern, he could see no one, because the place was dark and the door was locked, he said. So he went home and got a flashlight and a pistol and returned to the place. In the beam of his flashlight, he said, he saw his wife drinking in a booth and Court behind the bar.

Christopher knocked on the door for admittance, he said, but was ignored. Finally, he said, he kicked the glass out of the door and walked in. As he did so, he said, Court reached under the bar and got a revolver. Court fired two shots at Christopher. One bullet struck his arm between the wrist and elbow, the other went wild.

Court told police that Christopher fired two shots at him before Court fired. Police, however, examined Christopher's pistol and found it had not been fired.

ACCUSED OF BURNING WIFE TO DEATH AT ESTATE IN BRITAIN

CHELTENHAM, England, Sept. 3 (UP) — Capt. George Stephen Peel, 40 years old, was held for trial today on charges of burning to death his handsome wife in the bedroom of their 20-room farmhouse in the heart of the fashionable fox-hunting country near here.

The charred body of Mrs. Martha Dorothy Prentice Peel, 36, was found in their burning bedroom with the door locked early Friday. A laborer on the farm discovered the fire. It was confined to the bedroom.

Peel was ordered held at a hearing yesterday.

Capt. Peel fought with the British tank corps in Libya and was a war prisoner in Italy. They have two children, Alexandra, 8, and David, 17 months.

SENATE SETS NEW BREVITY RECORD; MEETS 15 SECONDS

Only 4 Members in Chamber for Token Session on Weekend.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—The Senate set a new record for speed today by meeting and recessing in about 15 seconds. Only four Senators were in the chamber for the token session. It was over so quickly that no one kept an exact time check.

Senator Hayden (Dem.), Arizona, presiding in place of Vice President Barkley, had a clerk read the brief agreement made last Wednesday night to give Senators a vacation until next Wednesday. Then Hayden banged the gavel and it was all over.

Other Senators present were Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois, Taft (Rep.), Ohio, and Miller (Dem.), Idaho. Senator Elmer Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma strode in — at the appointed hour, he thought—only to find it was all over. It was the only Senate session in recent years without an opening prayer.

KAMMANN IS FIRE CHIEF; MARSHAL'S JOB TURNED DOWN BY EGENRIETHER

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

Walter H. Kammann will be promoted from fire marshal to fire chief, Mayor Joseph M. Darst announced yesterday, following a 45-minute conference in his office with Frank Egenriether.

The Mayor refused to permit Egenriether to withdraw his resignation as chief. But Darst offered Egenriether his choice of two lesser jobs—fire marshal or battalion chief. Egenriether rejected both, saying he had resigned for a principle.

Egenriether quit Aug. 3 rather than assume responsibility for dismissing 124 firemen in an economy move suggested by the city administration. Later the plan was dropped.

Egenriether on $50 Pension.

Egenriether made it clear to reporters that he would make no further effort to get back in the fire department in any capacity. He said he would "have to do something" to earn a living but he had no plans yet. His sole income is his $50-a-month pension.

Mayor Darst announced he would recommend Kammann, a Republican, for the post of fire chief to Director of Public Safety Myles P. Dyer. Earlier in the day, Dyer had announced flatly that Kammann would be the next fire chief because he had ranked first in the civil service examinations.

Kammann will become chief next Saturday, the day Egenriether's vacation ends. They are close friends. Egenriether, like Kamman, is a Republican. The city administration is Democratic.

Any battalion chief can be appointed fire marshal without examination, it was learned. As chief, therefore, Kammann will be able to designate his successor in the post of fire marshal. He will probably confer with Mayor Darst before making the appointment, however.

After the conference with Egenriether in the Mayor's office, Darst said to reporters: "I've said several times that I'll appoint the high man on the civil service tests as chief. Don't you believe me?"

First Meeting.

In answer to further questions, the Mayor said he had never met Kammann or Acting Chief Hugh Lyon, who ranked second in the examination. The Mayor added that his meeting yesterday with Egenriether was their first.

Egenriether, who came out of the meeting first, related Darst told him that "legal technicalities" prevented the Mayor from permitting Egenriether to withdraw his resignation. Darst reminded Egenriether that he had said several times that the high man on the examination would be named chief.

Egenriether had not taken the examination for chief. Under civil service rules, he was not eligible, since the tests were promotional in nature and open only to men of lesser rank.

When Darst offered Egenriether his choice of the two lesser posts, Egenriether said, "I gave that quite a bit of thought. But I feel that when I resigned, I was fighting for principles that I regard as right.

"Under those circumstances, I just can't accept a lesser position. I have to live with myself and I have to live with my conscience.

"If I took a lesser job, it would be like admitting I was wrong in the first place and I don't think I was wrong."

Mayor Says He's Sorry.

Darst told Egenriether he was sorry the chief "couldn't see his way clear to accept a lesser position." As Egenriether left the Mayor's office, Darst said to him: "If you change your mind, get in touch with me."

Egenriether said almost all his friends "asked me to go back to the department in a lesser position, but I just can't see myself clear to do that."

Both the Mayor and the retiring chief said their conversation had been on a very friendly basis. Darst remarked later: "Egenriether impressed me as a man of very good character."

He continued: "Of course, Egenriether has his own conscience and I've got mine. I can't be responsible for what's in another man's mind. I say that in the friendliest spirit."

A. A. Ahner, who took the lead in a drive to reinstate Egenriether as chief, announced he would confer again with Egenriether today on whether any further steps will be taken to assist Egenriether. They discussed the matter last night.

Ahner, an industrial relations counselor, has said the fund of $1500 contributed in the campaign to restore Egenriether to his job will be returned to contributors in the event Egenriether does not wish to return to the fire department.

Statement by Ahner.

Ahner issued the following statement:

"I am grievously disappointed by the Mayor's refusal to reinstate Chief Egenriether. At the same time, there has been a refreshing reaction to what transpired. It should convince our city officials there is a vigilant public opinion in this community and it should purge any remaining tendency on their part to tamper with the civil service.

"I offer my thanks to the many thousands of civic-minded St. Louisans who cheerfully lent their co-operation and encouragement during the effort to have Chief Egenriether reinstated and I am hopeful that effort will mark the end of sniping at the civil service."

MAN STRUCK BY AUTO DIES; DRIVER SOUGHT

Victim Injured Aug. 10—Another Hurt When Hit by Natural Bridge Bus.

Police today were seeking the driver of an automobile which failed to stop after it struck and fatally injured William A. Thomure, 10 Shaw place, as he was crossing Vandeventer avenue at Greer avenue. Thomure, who was 70 years old, died Thursday at St. Mary's Hospital of head injuries suffered Aug. 10 in the accident. He was a retired painting contractor.

Albert Dilthy, 4627 Labadie avenue, suffered head injuries last night when he was struck by a Natural Bridge bus at Natural Bridge and Cora avenues. The driver, Kenneth Totsch, 1484 Union boulevard, told police Dilthy was crossing the street and stepped into the path of the bus after stopping, apparently to let it pass. Dilthy was taken to City Hospital.

Four persons were injured early today in a three-car collision on Kingshighway a short distance north of Penrose street. Police said the accident occurred when a southbound automobile driven by Arthur Moeser, 5952 Emma avenue, swerved into a northbound traffic lane and collided with one driven by John Mantia, 9119 Seneca avenue, Overland. Mantia's automobile was then struck from the rear by a taxicab driven by Edward Gholson, 4489 Washington avenue.

Miss Marian Reinecke, 5262 Davison avenue, a passenger in Mantia's automobile, suffered injuries to her right side and was taken to City Hospital. Mantia was treated for injuries to his right hand, left hip and knees. Moeser suffered injuries to his left knee. Gholson's wife, who was in the cab, was treated for injuries to her left side and forehead.

MAN ACCUSED OF MOLESTING 2 YOUNG GIRLS IN MOVIE

A 25-year-old clerk was arrested last night at the Plymouth Theater, 1175 Hamilton avenue, and booked for investigation after the manager, William Hayes, told police he saw the man molesting two girls seated next to him in the show.

Hayes told police he saw the man place his arm around one of the girls and put his hand in the lap of the other. Police said the girls, one of them 10 years old and the other 11, identified the man and corroborated Hayes's statement.

HANDBOOK CHARGE DROPPED; RAID MADE WITHOUT WARRANT

Defense Contention of Illegal Search of Jeffla Hotel Is Upheld.

Charges of setting up and keeping a handbook at the Jeffla Hotel, 2636 Lafayette avenue, against George A. George, who said he is owner of the hotel, were dismissed yesterday after Police Judge James H. Connor sustained a defense motion to suppress evidence.

George's attorney, Morris A. Shenker, contended whatever evidence the police had against his client had been obtained through illegal entry and search, since the officers failed to obtain necessary warrants before entering the hotel and arresting George.

One of the arresting officers, Det. Sgt. George A. Kern of the police gambling squad, admitted on examination by Shenker that police did not have warrants for the arrest of the defendant or to search the premises. When asked by the court why warrants were not obtained, Kern replied that police went to the hotel to investigate a tip that a handbook was operating there, and when they went in they found what they thought was sufficient evidence to make a case.

At the time of the Aug. 1 raid, police reported they found that race results were being announced over a loudspeaker, and they seized betting tabs and racing forms. Police quoted George as describing himself as an "old time bookie," and saying he had opened the handbook a few days before and was "trying to make a go of it."

INSTRUMENTS FAIL, AIRLINER LANDS AT AIRPORT HERE

An Eastern Air Lines DC-3, carrying 20 passengers and three crewmen, made an emergency landing last night at Lambert-St. Louis Field. Instruments failed to function properly so that the pilot could not determine whether his wheels were down and locked in position. However, the landing gear functioned properly and the plane landed normally.

Capt. O. E. Taylor of Atlanta, Ga., the pilot, flying the plane from Atlanta to Evansville, Ind., noted as he approached Evansville that the red lights on his instrument panel failed to turn to green when he lowered and locked his wheels.

He decided to continue to St. Louis and notified the control tower at Lambert Field of his predicament. Three Navy crash crews and an ambulance crew were alerted at 9:55 p.m. and stood by until the plane landed at 10:10. The twin-engine plane, which had been due here at 9:58, circled for several minutes and then made a routine landing. Pilot Taylor cut off electric power just before touching the ground to avoid fire.

BROTHERS FINED TOTAL OF $600 FOR BEATING FATHER

Herbert Coke, 31 years old, and his brother, Virgil, 22, were fined yesterday in police court on peace disturbance charges for beating their father, Frank, 58, during an altercation Aug. 20 at their home, 2601 South Broadway.

The father testified Herbert struck him numerous times on the head after an argument concerning allocation checks sent to the elder Coke while his son was in the Army. The younger son struck him once in the fight, the father said. Herbert said he struck his father because the latter threatened him with a knife.

Judge James H. Connor told the sons "apparently you have never heard of the commandment: 'Honor thy father and thy mother.'"

He then fined the elder son $500, and the younger $100.

Crusader for Clarity and Brevity Aims Blast at Legal Mumbo-Jumbo

Such mumbo-jumbo as "and/or," "witnesseth" and "to-wit" would be cut to a minimum in legal documents under a proposal by Harrison W. Tweed, American Law Institute chairman, who is here to direct a session on legal draftsmanship Wednesday in conjunction with the American Bar Association meeting.

"Attorneys must learn the necessity for fewer words, better chosen words and more concentration on saying things that are comprehensible to everyone," said Tweed, a 63-year-old New York lawyer and a graduate of St. Mark's, Harvard and Harvard Law School.

"Future litigation is avoided by clarity in legal papers. How can two laymen, for example, follow the terms of a contract between them if they cannot understand the language? The same principle applies to wills, most of which are at least 50 per cent too long.

"Entirely too much time is wasted on old-fashioned terms that mean little or nothing to our clients or to the courts."

Tweed said the institute is working on the draft of a federal income tax law, which would clarify and simplify the present complicated method of determining the taxpayer's debt to the Government. He estimated it would be at least two years before the institute's proposed law would be ready.

"Of course, we don't know what Congress would do with it, but everyone knows there is much room for improvement in clarifying our present income tax statutes," he declared.

CHIEF JUSTICES FROM 45 STATES GATHER IN CITY

Chief justices of 45 states were here today to open a three-day conference for the exchange of ideas and information on the operation of the judiciary in all sections of the country.

The chief justices hope, by pooling information on the judicial systems as established in the individual states, to improve the administration of justice on a nation-wide basis.

The chief justices are conferring here preliminary to the opening of the annual meeting of the American Bar Association on Monday, when they will then participate with the latter organization in a sectional meeting. Tuesday night they will attend the "judiciary dinner" at Hotel Jefferson.

One topic of discussion by the chief justices will be Missouri's non-partisan court plan and this state's policy, as established in the 1945 Constitution, of placing the supervision of lower courts in the state supreme court.

"There is a general tendency to get away from the election of judges by party ticket," Chief Justice Laurance M. Hyde of Missouri's Supreme Court said. "Most states are trying to find ways to select judges on the basis of ability to do judicial work."

Justice Hyde, chairman of a committee that will organize the chief justices into a permanent group at the meeting here, said he felt the conference, first of its kind ever held, would "prove beneficial to the judiciary, the bar and the public."

Only Nebraska, Wyoming and North Carolina, which have crowded appellate court dockets, failed to send delegates.

Other matters of discussion include opinion writing, conferences by appellate court judges before and after hearings, oral arguments by attorneys, submission of records and writing of briefs.

The chief justices are to exchange ideas on the diversity of opinion as to whether appellate judges should study the case and its record before hearing oral arguments of opposing attorneys.

Another problem for consideration is the handling of habeas corpus cases, filed in increasing number by prison inmates who contend they were "railroaded" into the penitentiary.

A reception for the chief justices and their wives will be given at Hotel Jefferson from 5 to 7 p. m. today by members of the Missouri appellate courts.

Also opening today, as a preliminary to the American Bar Association meeting, is the two-day Junior Bar Conference. Sessions will be held at Hotel DeSoto, with 350 delegates, from every state, attending.

The junior bar conference, attended by attorneys under 36 years of age, is expected to consider a resolution for improving procedures in the various states for committing persons to mental institutions.

Paul Lashly, chairman of the annual meeting committee, said there will be a discussion of the progress of the American Law Students Association, organized last year, and the pormotion of closer relations with attorneys in other American countries.

The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws is winding up its six-day meeting here today by giving final approval to a uniform commercial code, which has been several years in the making. The code, to be submitted to all states for adoption, includes uniform laws on sales, commercial paper, bills of lading, warehouse receipts, bank collections and other matters.

Sessions of the fiftieth annual meeting of the National Association of Women Lawyers continued today at Hotel Chase. The three-day meeting, attended by 250 delegates will end tomorrow.

Miss Lillian E. Schlagenhauf, an attorney of Quincy, Ill., and former assistant attorney general in that state, told the women attorneys at a luncheon today that "the world can have no peace unless there is a moral revival."

"The greatest forces are not the tramp of armies, nor the glitter of gold, nor the splendor of thrones, nor even the creation of the intellect, but the greatest forces are moral and spiritual forces—and women are the champions of the good, the moral and the true," she said.

Mrs. Eleanor March Moody of Boston was elected president of the National Association of Women Lawyers today, succeeding Miss Charlotte E. Gauer of Chicago.

Other officers elected were: Miss J. Helen Slough, Cleveland, first vice president; Mrs. Mary H. Zimmerman, Detroit, second vice president; Mrs. Hazel D. Selby, Boston, treasurer; Mrs. Irene Kennedy, Washington, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lorna M. Shipley, Alamagordo, N. M., recording secretary; Mrs. Victoria V. Gilbert, Shelbyville, Ky., librarian-historian. Miss Gauer was named as delegate to the American Bar Association house of delegates.

FOUR NEW POLIO CASES REPORTED IN CITY, COUNTY

Death and Three More Patients on East Side—10 Fatalities There Since June 1.

Four new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in St. Louis and St. Louis county today, while in East St. Louis one death and three new cases were reported.

Harold Williams, 18 years old, Glen Carbon, Ill., died yesterday of the disease at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis. He was admitted to the hospital Aug. 24 and his death brings to 10 the number of poliomyelitis deaths reported by the hospital since June 1.

Of the three new patients admitted to St. Mary's Hospital, one was Henry Isaak Jr., 4 years old, of Carlyle, Ill., whose father died of the disease last Monday at the hospital. The boy's 11-year-old sister, Rose Marie, and 9-year-old brother, Jerome, also are patients at the hospital.

Other new patients at the East St. Louis hospital are Sylvia Jackovich, 5, of 1128 Grand avenue, Madison, and Mrs. Gloria Moore, 24, of Steelville, Ill. The new cases brought the total number of infantile paralysis victims admitted to the hospital since June 1 to 165.

Of the four new cases reported in the St. Louis-St. Louis county area, three were city residents and one a county resident, bringing the total number of cases reported in the city so far to 252 and the county total to 92. There have been 37 deaths in the city-county area so far.

New cases in the city were a boy, 9 years old, 4533 Pennsylvania avenue; a boy, 13, of 2512W Dodier street, and a girl, 1804 South Compton avenue. The new county case was an 11-year-old boy of Pattonville.

Meanwhile, from Springfield, Ill., it was reported that the poliomyelitis outbreak appeared to have reached a "leveling-off point" in Illinois. Although the number of cases still was running high, it was reported the total number of cases this week would be less than 300 for the second successive week. The outbreak apparently reached its peak week before last when 353 new cases were reported, it was said.

CALLS OF SYMPATHY OVER DEATH OF DOG SHOT BY CHILDREN

More than 200 telephone calls of sympathy, including offers of 12 dogs, have been received by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schumacher since publication yesterday of an account of the death of Smokey, a partly blind dog, the victim of air rifle pellets fired by neighborhood children.

"We have been offered everything from brindle bulls to dachshunds," Schumacher, who lives at 712 Largo avenue, Lemay, said. "But now that all of our four children are grown we feel that we do not need another dog to replace Smokey. He was our faithful friend for 15 years. When our boys were overseas they always remembered him in their letters."

Schumacher said that some of the callers, as well as neighbors, offered to contribute to a reward fund for apprehension of the children who held the dog, which was blind in one eye, while others fired at it with an air rifle, inflicting 50 wounds.

"But Smokey is gone," Schumacher said, "and nothing can bring him back. We prefer to regard the matter as closed. If only the urchins will realize what they have done and learn to love animals in the future, that will be reward enough."

AUTO ROLLS DOWN 50-FOOT GRADE, ONE HURT SLIGHTLY

An automobile driven by Ralph Bailey, Alton, skidded off United States Highway 99, one-fourth of a mile north of State Highway 140 in St. Ferdinand township, last night and rolled down a 50-foot embankment, landing on its left side. Bailey suffered a scratch on the right elbow. A passenger, Herman Ottersburg, also of Alton, was not injured.

Bailey told police he was driving north when his brakes locked on a sharp curve in the highway. The automobile swerved to the left, he said, and went off the road. Both men were able to climb out of the machine, although it was reported to be demolished. Bailey refused hospital treatment for his injury.

Didn't Do It Soon Enough.

SEATTLE, Sept. 3 (UP)—Salesman Lloyd A. McIsaac explained today that he was on his way to a repair shop when police arrested him for operating car with defective brakes, headlights, tail lights, window glass, horn, muffler and tires.

Children Aid Anti-Polio Drive With $150 From Shows, Raffles

Back with us

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer

From left, JUDITH ENGEL, 8 years old, her sister, ROBERTA, 12, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Engel, 7540 Gannon avenue, University City, and DEE RADMAN, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Radman, 7541 Gannon, counting the $25.65 they obtained in a neighborhood contest for the St. Louis and St. Louis County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Children's interest in this year's outbreak of infantile paralysis has produced a large number of late-summer projects to raise money to help sufferers from the disease, ranging from raffles to an art show of toddlers' work. Five such enterprises in the last few days have raised a total of $150.

Roberta and Judith Engel, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Engel, 7540 Gannon avenue, University City, presented $25 yesterday to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They are 12 and 8 years old respectively. With the help of Arlene Dee Radman, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Radman, 7541 Gannon, they sold chances in their neighborhood on articles including phonograph records, cologne, furniture polish and glassware.

A song-and-dance act and an auction of goods donated by merchants were on the program of a carnival held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Schear, 742 Kingsland avenue, University City. Thirteen children took part and raised $53 for polio funds.

Seven children staged a carnival Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stone, 1341 Montclair avenue. They netted $37 from games, raffles, fortune telling and sale of popcorn and punch. Half of the money will go to St. Anthony's Hospital, and half to the Fern Waldman Memorial Cancer Fund.

Jeanne Winkler, 13, 4279 Holly avenue, and her cousin, Robert Winkler, 8, have shown home movies for children twice in the last week, and obtained $21. Five children living in the 8300 block of Washington avenue, Overland, will give $14 raised from a movie show to the polio foundation.

DROPS FIREARMS CHARGES AGAINST STATE LEGISLATOR

Charges of discharging firearms, peace disturbance and failure to make a major street stop against State Representative Thomas A. Walsh, Twelfth District Democrat, were nolle prossed today by Assistant City Counselor M. Ralph Walsh when the complaining witness failed for the third time to appear in court.

The charges grew out of an altercation on May 22 between Thomas Walsh and James Markham, 3317A Iowa avenue. The city had been granted two continuances since Walsh's arrest in order to get Markham to testify. When a policeman informed Police Judge John L. Waechter today that Markham told him he had no further interest in the case, Judge Waechter permitted the city to drop the case.

Walsh was arrested after Markham reported that the driver of a coupe had pursued his automobile and fired a revolver shot at it when Markham admonished the other driver for failing to make a boulevard stop at Delmar boulevard and Euclid avenue.

Markham reported the coupe license number and police arrested Walsh as he got out of the automobile in front of 5235 Highland avenue, the home of relatives. Walsh, who gave an address in the 3700 block of Euclid avenue, admitted, police said, that he made a "rolling stop" at Delmar and Euclid. Walsh said another driver swore at him but he denied firing a shot.

NINE-YEAR DELAY ON SOCIAL SECURITY COSTS MAN $2777

A retired St. Louis factory worker discovered last month that he had lost $2777 in social security benefits because he waited more than nine years before applying for payments, T. L. Gaukel, St. Louis manager of the Social Security Administration, said yesterday.

"The man was laid off in 1939, after having earned enough wages over a sufficiently long period to be fully insured," Gaukel said. "When he finally applied last month, he found he was entitled to $24.80 a month for life, and could have been collecting that amount since 1940.

"Of course, his case is only one of many in which workers discover they have lost substantial amounts due to failure to investigate their social security rights."

To qualify for retirement payments, Gaukel explained, a worker must be at least 65 years old and have worked in a job where social security taxes were deducted roughly half the time from Jan. 1, 1937, to age 65. He also must be retired and must have filed an application, and cannot be earning wages of more than $14.99 a month in a job covered by social security.

Supplemental benefits also can be paid to a wife if older than 65 and to unmarried children or step-children under 18, Gaukel said.

CITY ASKS STATE P.S.C. FOR WATER RATE REHEARING

Points Out That Commission Sanctioned 'Dangerous Precedent' in County Case.

The City of St. Louis today filed with the State Public Service Commission a formal motion for rehearing of the case in which the commission lately sanctioned increase of the St. Louis County Water Co. rates to cover local license taxes.

The city buys water from the St. Louis County Water Co. for city-owned tracts in St. Louis County—Lambert-St. Louis Field, Meramec Hills and Tilles. Its larger interest in the commission's action, however, is as a "dangerous precedent, which might well mean an increase in St. Louis utility rates of more than $3,500,000 a year."

An application of the county water company, for higher rates in municipalities that levy a license tax of more than 2 per cent against the company, was denied by the commission Aug. 10. At the same time, the commission ruled that the company might apply for a rate system by which all license fees levied against the water company by municipalities should be added to the rates charged residents of those communities.

The motion for a rehearing, signed by City Counselor James E. Crowe and Associate Counselor Forest G. Ferris Jr., charges that the commission's order is an unlawful attempt to interfere with municipal taxing powers; that insufficient time was granted for hearing of opposition pleas; that it is not based on any showing as to the reasonableness, or the contrary, of the company's rates; that no showing was made that the franchise charges were confiscatory; and that the one item of franchise taxes was singled out, without consideration of other items of expense involved.

If the principle of passing on utility franchise taxes to consumers should be established, lawyers believe it might be applied to gas, electric and telephone charges. The city charges utilities 5 per cent of their gross receipts as a license tax. The utilities now absorb these charges.

11 PASSENGERS PUSH STALLED BUS TO TOP OF GRADE

Eleven men can push a 14,500-pound Public Service Co. bus up a slight grade. If there was any question about the matter, it was resolved early this morning.

Eastbound Manchester bus 3581 stalled on Flora avenue just west of Big Bend road, Maplewood. After futile efforts by the driver to start the vehicle, an athletic-looking young man on board suggested that putting the bus in gear while coasting down hill might turn the trick. He offered to push if others would join him. Ten men did.

While seven women peered curiously from windows in the half-light of dawn, the 11 men easily pushed the heavy vehicle across Big Bend, then hopped on for the down-grade coast. At this point the operator discovered that he was unable to engage gears, operated by an automatic shift, while the engine was not running.

All passengers, including 11 still breathing hard, took the next bus.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

A Heartening Suggestion

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In your editorial "Liberty Begins at Home," you proposed that the Freeholders who are now rewriting the City's Charter, include in it a Bill of Rights for the protection of our citizens who happen to be on the bottom politically and economically.

Your suggestion is truly a challenge, to the Freeholders, and also to the thinking citizens of our city.

It is heartening to have this suggestion coming from a newspaper of the standing and influence of the Post-Dispatch. I hope you will follow it through.

Truly no city or nation can long remain free and strong, and grow in the love and respect of its people, which trample the poor underfoot.

If this proposal is accepted it will take away the thunder of the Communist and other group isms in this country.

A Rather Warm Shoulder

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The article in Friday night's Post-Dispatch which read "County Charter Group Ignores Proposed Draft," and stated that A. E. L. Gardiner, author of the draft, had been given a cold shoulder at the meeting, surprised me very much.

I feel this is an attempt to give a misleading slant to the news, as several persons who were present as interested individuals, felt that Chairman Kerth in no way gave the impression of "cutting off discussion." The fact is he permitted Mr. Gardiner to read at length from his draft-preamble on through a number of articles, and explain as he went along.

After all, proper procedure would require members of Mr. Gardiner's Legislative Committee to be given the opportunity to study the proposed draft, which he drew up of his own volition, before it is considered by the commission as a whole—or does your reporter object to that?

Recreation for Servicemen

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The Belleville U.S.O. is not the only agency in this area which has facilities for servicemen.

The Central Branch of the Y.W.C.A., 1411 Locust, has a program of dancing, entertainment, parties, games and refreshments, which is conducted by the girls of the Sunday Evening Club and their chaperones. The activities of this club are open to both civilians and servicemen, and, at the present time, the men from Scott Air Base constitute the largest part of the male members. We are open every Sunday evening from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m. and all servicemen are welcome.

The men who attend regularly will find that they will soon be welcomed into many of the private homes.

We resent the inference that the people of St. Louis are not as hospitable as they once were. The Cathedral Girls Club, the Wellston Y.W.C.A., and the Central Y.M.C.A. conduct similar programs every Sunday evening. Why does not Gen. McBlain give more publicity to these programs at this time?

Little Charlie's Haircut

Speaking of England, it seems what that country needs is a less expensive royal family. Imagine a barber having to take a plane from London to Balmoral, Scotland to perform a tonsorial operation on little Charlie.

She Likes Bus Radio

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The great Post-Dispatch has a new cause, I see, and I'm not sure that you're playing the game fairly either.

I have been noticing in the "Letters" part of the paper that you never publish any which are favorable to radio on the busses. I don't ordinarily write letters like this, but I just wanted to make certain that someone took the time to tell you that there are a lot of us who like the music and news broadcasts.

Why don't you print some of the favorable letters that you must get? Or would you like to deny working people their simple pleasures and perhaps have the old blue laws in operation again?

Prefers the Subway Roar

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I agree with the newcomer from New York concerning the noise on St. Louis busses. The pleasant roar of the subway is certainly more to be desired than the cheap radio "music," the chatter of women and the squealing of children on our busses. The latter two can't be controlled, but the first can.

Like thousands of others, I prefer to choose my own radio programs and not be forced to listen to what someone else likes. No one likes good music better than I, but there is a time and a place for it and certainly that isn't on the bus.

If the Public Service Co. must have radio music (so-called) why not limit it to three hours daily, with announcement of the time posted in the busses? Some of us could avoid this ordeal then and the poor bus drivers could have a rest.

A Way Out

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Those of us who object to being subjected to a public nuisance by KXOK and the Public Service Co. on street cars and busses have the following recourse:

Ask the Federal Communications Commission to revoke the license of this station on account of being a public nuisance.

Up to the Legislature

In the work it left undone last spring, the present Legislature made "probably the worst record ever made by a Missouri Legislature," Curtis A. Betts writes. As a result, the legislators will reconvene this month to face a calendar they will be lucky to clear by Christmas.

Probably the most acute single item is to expand the staff and operating funds of the state hospitals. The people affected are a helpless and submerged class; their miserable plight should hang heavy on everyone's conscience.

A reverse urgency attaches to the Quinn bill that would depose the non-partisan Highway Commission and appoint a patronage administrator to rule the roads. Mr. Betts correctly calls this even more dangerous legislation than the Governor's rural road bill. The urgency of the Quinn bill is urgency to kill it.

Small-loan interest is still deadlocked. If the Senate and the Governor will accept the House's fair measures, that will be fine. If they won't, it is better to let the deadlock continue than knuckle under to the loan lobby. Certainly the Legislature should scuttle the lobby's effort to amend the interest rate provision out of the State Constitution.

Coming to measures of particular St. Louis interest, the Legislature has many reasons to authorize unit control in the schools and no valid reason not to honor this request.

Probably, as Mr. Betts suggests, Mayor Darst's belated request for standby state rent control is a token offer that he won't push. Nevertheless, it is a kind of insurance that this community needs.

We trust, too, that the Legislature will approve Missouri's $50,000 contribution to the Missouri-Illinois development agency. It means no immediate gain to the state, but it promises long-run benefits to the city that will pay continuing dividends to the whole state.

In its synthetic wrath because the streetcar fare was increased, the Darst Administration is asking that the regulation of utilities be shifted from the state to the city. Since every major St. Louis utility also operates in suburban territory, this request is fatuous.

Candidate Darst condemned the city earnings tax, but Mayor Darst wants the Legislature to continue the city's permission to levy it. A local income tax is an unhappy necessity, and it is only fair that it should reach suburban people who work in the city. The Legislature can correctly insist, however, that the present flat-rate and inequitable tax be changed to a tax in harmony with the state's own graduated tax.

The Legislature faces a mountain of work because of its past negligence. It would be pleasant to record, three or four months hence, that it overcame the late start and finished with a distinguished record.

Harry Slattery in the Great Book

Harry Slattery was a shy man who lived most of his life in the center of a fight, and it was always the good fight. "He is the kind of man," said the elder Senator LaFollette, "I would like to go tiger hunting with in the dark—because you can always reach out and be sure he is there."

In what has been done to conserve the nation's forests, in what has been done to build dams and power plants and transmission lines to make electricity the servant of the people, Mr. Slattery left a permanent impress upon his country.

He started fighting as secretary to Gifford Pinchot, father of the United States' conservation program, in the Taft Administration. He fought alongside Senator Walsh in the exposure of the Teapot Dome oil scandal. He fought for the legislation that led up to the creation of the Tennessee Valley Authority—the federal power act and the Muscle Shoals controversy. As administrator of REA he fought persistent attempts to hobble it with politics.

What his friend, that great American George W. Norris, said about him is as fine an epitaph as could be written, and as fitting: "Harry Slattery is the type of man whose work for the preservation of our national resources will go down in the Great Book."

Fewer, Better Aldermen

Good reasons why the Board of Aldermen should be reduced from its present membership of 28 were brought out at the Freeholders' second hearing on the subject.

Speaking for the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Richard Hoffman pointed out that a smaller board would make the individual members feel more personally accountable for legislative decisions. This, she said, would lead to "a more effective deliberative body." The League favors a board of 15, and an increase in salaries.

"Bodies larger than that," added David W. Salmon, Washington University political scientist, "necessarily break down into committees, and there is not enough open discussion. I can't see how a body larger than 15 can be more representative than one of 15."

The committee system is inevitable in Congress, but it is at the root of some of the most serious difficulties in the national legislature. A smaller government like that of St. Louis can minimize the difficulties by minimizing the role of the committees. That means a smaller Board of Aldermen.

Vaudeville has come back, but there's still some question whether the same can be said for the audiences.

Bare Pasture for Five Percenters

Whatever the five percenter investigation may or may not have proved in connection with General Vaughan, it does promise to bring some worthwhile reforms into the Government's buying methods. If these are carried out as promised, there will be little scope left in Washington for the five percenters and other influence peddlers.

Most of the promises come from Jess Larson, the Government's chief purchasing officer. Buying will be decentralized more and more, he says, so that fewer and fewer business men will have to venture into the mazes of Washington in search of contracts. Courteous and efficient information centers also are to be maintained so that no business man should need the services of those who offer to show him around for a fee.

Defense Secretary Johnson and Budget Director Pace already have worked out a plan under which it should be easier for small firms to do business with the Pentagon. The Secretary also has a plan for making purchases whenever possible in those areas in which employment is below normal.

With the best of good will, there probably always will be some red tape in the purchasing of an organization as complex as the Government of the United States. And so there will be temptations to find short cuts. Government employes, however, are being warned against accepting favors from those with axes to grind. And firms which use unethical methods are to be blacklisted.

So it seems that in the future the Washington meadow will look less lush to the five percenter.

No Glory for the Mayor

Mayor Darst is having his way in the Egenriether affair. But there will be precious little glory in his triumph. If the Mayor feels that he has scored a political hit, his standards certainly are different from those of a great many St. Louisans.

About the only satisfaction in the news is that Mr. Egenriether's job is going to his friend, Fire Marshal Walter H. Kammann, an experienced and respected man in the department. His top score in the civil service examination is a further assurance of his competence. If he gets better cooperation from the City Administration than it seems to have been willing to extend to Chief Egenriether, he can do a good job.

What remains disturbing is the way in which the Mayor and his associates took advantage of Mr. Egenriether's resignation. The Chief was led to believe that he would have to discharge 124 firemen to meet the City Hall's demand for economy. Rather than do that, he sent in his resignation as of Sept. 10. In the face of this, the Mayor said that he had already decided against the discharges. But he would not allow the Fire Chief to withdraw his resignation even though he himself had removed the cause. Yesterday's offer of two lesser jobs hardly makes up for this.

It will be said, of course, that the Mayor showed his respect for the civil service system by appointing the man who did best in the examination. It will be said further that the Mayor did not play politics since Mr. Kammann is a Republican. But the civil service amendment is intended to govern more than appointments. It is also intended to protect the tenure of public servants after appointment.

It hardly worked that way in the Egenriether case.

Highway Miracle Under Way

When Americans climb in their cars this Labor day weekend, they will take the roads they use for granted. In the eyes of an English observer, they will be using a "Highway Miracle."

In 1900, says the London Economist, only six American states granted any road funds; highways were almost an exclusive responsibility of towns and counties. The Federal Government started in 1912 to match state road funds on a very modest scale. From then on, state and federal treasuries went in deeper and deeper, finally evolving the formula for 50 per cent federal aid.

The country has 3,009,000 miles of road, half of it surfaced. All this has taken huge spending—up to a million dollars a mile for the highest-type road. The Economist doesn't suggest that the results aren't worth the money, but it does say: "In some sections the roads are spectacularly good, in others they are surprisingly poor. Britons often remark that the small English roads are much better than their American equivalents."

The British magazine finds other drawbacks in the miracle, too. "This year, as he (the average American) drives out of the cities, nose to bumper with his fellow 'pleasure' drivers . . . his progress along the reeking highways has been slower than usual." (On the two-lane stretches of United States 66 between St. Louis and Chicago, for instance.)

And it's not so good where the roads converge, either. "The 40,000,000 motor cars in the United States travel at an average speed of 49 miles an hour on the roads, but when they get to cities they bog down and turn streets into a mechanical morass." (Between Kingshighway and the Mississippi between 5 and 6 p.m., for instance.)

No doubt road-building progress across this broad land does deserve the label of industrial miracle. But it will be a happier miracle when American motorists stop killing and maiming one another on a scale that would put a fair-sized war to shame. And there's no better time than this Labor day weekend to start that miracle.

The Arctic Rampart

On the ice and tundra of the Alaskan Arctic in the coming winter Americans and Canadians will undergo hardship and peril because the first line of defense of their countries is believed to be the Arctic Ocean.

"Exercise Cross-Index" will bring soldiers and flyers together to work out problems of warfare in the frozen north. For every problem of war becomes a new problem under Arctic conditions, and it is the polar wasteland that offers the shortest route from any possible aggressor in Europe or Asia to the industrial heart of the United States.

This fact is pertinent to the defense, among other things, of the Sault Ste. Marie locks, which are the Achilles heel of the Lake Superior iron ore deposits. It is pertinent to the defense of the Canadian uranium deposits around Great Slave Lake. It is pertinent to the defense of the atomic plant at Hanford, Washington.

There is so much that must be known, and the effort to learn it has been a saga of pioneering and heroism for some three years now, by British forces as well. How do you fly an airplane in a temperature of 80 below? What do you do when the engine has to be started with blow torches, when the rubber hose breaks off like licorice, and when four-fifths of all you do must be devoted to keeping yourself from being destroyed?

How can ships plow through the ice pack, planes take off from icy decks wallowing in heavy seas, submarines operate in the frigid deeps, troops establish beachheads and hang on against the fury of a 100-mile-an-hour wind? What is the weather like high above the Arctic where guided missiles must travel? Much of the Arctic is not accurately on maps. Scientists do not even know the shape of the earth well enough to aim guided missiles accurately.

So to learn these facts, and how to put them to use, there have been Exercises Snowdrop and Frigid and Frost and Micowex, and others. Geographers and weathermen have made expeditions. Airmen have made tests of jet planes in the polar cold and experimented with the possibilities of reinforcing Alaska with troops by plane. Twenty thousand sailors and marines on 30 ships have made amphibious landings.

Not all the courage and sacrifice is demanded in time of war.

How UNESCO Aids Science

The Mirror of Public Opinion

A recent international conference in Paris decided to extend science abstracting services to all scientific fields, since over a million technical articles are published every year and scientists need to have this growing fund of knowledge made available to all nations.

From a UNESCO Radio Broadcast

Last winter a strange disease paralyzed the largest automobile factory in France. In one week, 500 workmen were off the job, their eyes swollen shut by a burning blinding inflammation. The disease had never before been seen in France. Scientists at the famed Pasteur Institute suspected it was a rare tropical malady known as keredo-conjunctivitis.

Searching their files for a clue to check the epidemic, they found a small white card. This card mentioned a magazine article in an American medical journal, issue of January 1943. From the article — which because of the war they had never seen—the French scientists learned that the same eye infection had struck the huge Kaiser shipyards of California during the war. Doctors at Columbia Medical Center had developed a cure, and fully described it in the magazine article.

Dr. Bodet

Thus, in less than an hour—thanks to the little white card—the French scientists had a tool to work with. In a few weeks they stamped out the epidemic.

The small white index card contained what scientists call an abstract. An abstract is a summary or short description of a longer article. Today a man would have to spend his full 40-hour week merely to read the titles of the million or so articles appearing each year. That is why in every field there are periodicals devoted to printing abstracts, and that is why most scientists make it their business to read through the abstracts concerning their chosen field.

For example, 16,500 scientists subscribe to a monthly bulletin called "Chemical Abstracts." When a chemical engineer—say in Czechoslovakia—scans the pages of this bulletin, he learns about some 5000 articles appearing in some 4300 periodicals published in 31 different languages.

Even if he knew 31 languages, it is doubtful that he could afford to subscribe to all these journals, much less find time to read them. Scientists use abstracts like detectives use fingerprints—to identify and ferret out subjects of special interest.

Abstracting services aim to link up the various fields of human knowledge; to bridge the gaps of time, space and language. For lack of abstracts on Japanese science, Dr. Anderson—an American who won the Nobel Prize in 1937 for work on cosmic rays—knew nothing of a valuable article on the subject that a Dr. Yukawa had published two years earlier in Japan.

Nearly 1000 organizations throughout the world produce science abstracts. Yet of all the scientific articles appearing each year, fewer than half are ever abstracted. However, many are condensed over and over again by different abstracting services.

Of all the sciences, only chemistry is fully and systematically covered; others—meteorology, statistics, fisheries and important branches of botany and zoology—are hardly abstracted at all. A recent UNESCO survey of scientific articles published in the Middle East revealed dozens of journals unknown to Western scientists. And only a lucky accident brought to a Chinese nutritionist's hand the abstract of an article from Jamaica on the use of yeast as a food to curb famine.

To tackle such shortcomings in the network of science abstracting, UNESCO held a world conference in Paris recently. One hundred forty-seven scientists and librarians from 28 countries, speaking 15 languages, attended. They decided that world-wide consulting machinery, such as exists among abstracting services in the fields of medicine and biology, should be set up for the other sciences—physics and engineering, chemistry, agriculture.

The UNESCO conference on abstracting skirted many stubborn obstacles of language, professional jealousy and currency. However, its plans for the future speak well for the freer and wider interchange of our growing scientific heritage. Shakespeare made the point when he had Hamlet say of the strolling news-bearing players: ". . . let them be well used: for they are the abstracts and brief chronicles of the time."

Speaking for our own time, UNESCO's Director General, Dr. Jaime Torres Bodet, closed the International Conference on Science Abstracting with these words: "It is in the very interests of peace to prevent the sciences from isolating themselves in special watertight compartments."

Time Doesn't Change Dictators

From the San Francisco Chronicle

On Aug. 20, 1949, the Russian Government sent a note to Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia which protested "unlawful arrest and beatings" of 6000 Russian citizens:

"Apparently the Yugoslav Government does not intend to bring to account those who are to blame for these practices. If that is so, the Soviet Government deems it necessary to declare that it will not reconcile itself to such a situation, and will be forced to resort to other more effective measures necessary to defend the rights and interests of Soviet citizens in Yugoslavia and to call to order the violators."

Remind you of anything?

On Sept. 12, 1938, Adolf Hitler said:

"If the Sudeten Germans cannot defend themselves, they will receive help from us . . . I can tell the democracies that we will not remain indifferent for long if these tortured and oppressed creatures (the Sudetens) cannot defend themselves. They will receive help from us. The depriving of the rights of these people must end."

And on Sept. 3, 1939, Adolf Hitler said:

"In the last months I watched developments and issued warnings. I told the Polish Ambassador three weeks ago that if Poland takes further steps against Danzig or continues to oppress the German minority or attempts to crush Danzig economically, then Germany will no longer be able to view the situation in silence."

Between Book Ends

The Happy Schubert

FRANZ SCHUBERT: THE ARIEL OF MUSIC, by Robert Haven Schauffler. (G. P. Putnam's Sons, 427 pgs., $5.)

James Lyons in the Saturday Review of Literature.

The publisher's claim that this "will immediately become the standard and definitive study" of Schubert's life and works is, to say the least, premature. It is in fact a charming book, full of delightful minutiae and great good sense. But it is no authoritative biography. That is yet to be produced.

Mr. Schauffler is an accomplished author, with dozens of titles to his credit. He is likewise a scholar of parts and an established "popular" musicologist and enjoys a large audience as such. His latest no doubt will be well received and it deserves to be. In its genre, however, it must be taken with a grain of salt per page.

Like the Messrs. Erskine, Taylor, Spaeth, et al., the author prefers the folksy, pull-up-a-chair approach. This presumably entertains the layman and makes for a higher general level of lowest common denominators, which is redeeming. Unfortunately, it doesn't make for objectivity. Oversimplification is only one of the evils which attend high-readability prose.

Robt. H. Schauffler

That is not to say this volume teems with errors. As to dates and opus numbers and that sort of thing, Mr. Schauffler seems to have been meticulous. He cites all the most respected sources and gives credit where due.

The weakness can be traced to his habit of insisting on a thesis—biography demands none—and presenting mostly the data which fits itself to it. Some significant chaff gets inundated by the wheat.

Briefly stated, the thesis proper is that Schubert was a happier man than most biographers have made him out. It must be said that the evidence offered supports this for the most part. Nonetheless, in playing the psychiatrist Mr. Schauffler manages to challenge his conviction pretty strongly. He draws a convincing portrait of the Schubert born to Viennese Schlamperei, only to remind the reader that the composer's first songs included the "Corpse Fantasy," "The Parricide," and "Hagar's Lament"—in the last of which the son for whom an angel foretold a great future is driven out with his mother by a cruel father to famish in the wilderness.

About 200 pages, more or less, are devoted to a consideration of the legacy which is Schubert's music. As program notes Mr. Schauffler's analyses are quite sound, though he is cavalier in spots. In his reference to the A major Sonata, Opus 120, for instance, he finds that work "far below . . . in musical value" the posthumous B flat Sonata. One could quibble with several such remarks.

The book was subsidized, the author relates, by the Schubert Fund Committee and Mr. and Mrs. C. Dewar Simons. Music lovers are in their debt. There is a certain poignancy in Mr. Schauffler's explanation: "Any biography that requires as many years of research as this book has called for needs subsidization for the same reason that a symphony orchestra needs it."

Survey of American Writing

A LITTLE TREASURY OF AMERICAN PROSE: THE MAJOR WRITERS FROM COLONIAL TIMES TO THE PRESENT DAY, edited with an introduction by George Mayberry. (Scribners, 950 pgs., $5.)

This valuable book has every kind of writing in it from the sulphuric blasts of Jonathan Edwards to the yeasty poetic yearnings of Thomas Wolfe in our time. With such a variety it follows that it could have been little thematic unity. Its connecting thread is one of chronology. Though such a selection could hardly be complete and could hardly escape the charge of having left out something important it is nevertheless a representative compilation. Most significant American writers may be found there.

Business Outlook

Jobless Claims Continue to Drop — Building Activity Only 3 Pct. Below Last Year's Unusually High Level.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (UP)—The Department of Labor came up with good news on two economic fronts today. In separate announcements, it reported that:

1. Unemployment claims continued to drop last week, with initial claims—those filed for the first time by a jobless worker—totaling only 251,000, a new low for the year. Continuing claims totaled 2,138,700, a drop of $50,000 from the previous week.

2. Building activity in cities in the first six months of 1949 was valued at $3,500,000,000, only a scant 3 per cent below 1948's unusually high level. The June total, $736,000,000 was just short of the monthly record of March, 1946.

Both of these developments tended to bolster the arguments of Government and industry economists who contend that business is again on the upswing and that the post-inflationary "period of readjustment" is near an end.

Joblessness Decreasing.

The department said that the drop in unemployment claims reflected decreasing unemployment, the reopening of closed plants and a continuation of the recent downtrend in industrial layoffs.

But it said that at least some of the decline should be attributed to the fact that some workers have exhausted their unemployment benefits. It said state reports show 809,500 in this category during the first six months of 1949.

The rise in building activity is closely tied in with the decline in unemployment claims. Government economists have long contended that an upswing in the construction industry during the spring would provide jobs for some of last winter's unemployed.

Home Building.

The Labor department noted that, just as these economists predicted, the June total was almost double the February low. Homebuilding, it said, accounted for $1,800,000,000—more than half—of the full six-months total.

The department said that it's statistics apply to cities of more than 2500 population. The leading states on its list, it said, were California, New York and Texas.

It said that all sections of the country reported a decrease in the number of construction permits for one-family houses. But it added that most showed sharp increases in apartment house permits.

Apartment house construction made up one-third of the homebuilding total, the department reported, compared with only one-fourth in the first six months of 1948.

PARTY SPOILSMAN FAILS TO OUST DIRECTOR NELSON

capitol corridors that the bill will be held until we fire Bill Nelson.

"If it be necessary that we fire either a Democrat or a Republican to get some member of the Legislature to do his constitutional duty —if it be that 'or else'—then it will be 'or else' for me."

More Criticism.

Representative James P. Boyd (Dem.), of Paris, chairman of the House Committee on Judiciary, said appointment of the director and selection of the staff on a political basis "just because the Democrats are in power will destroy the purpose for which it was created."

"I will never, never cast a vote to throw this body into politics," Boyd said.

Senator Floyd R. Gibson (Dem.), of Independence, a member of the committee since its creation, urged the group to beat the motion "and give a vote of confidence to the director and staff."

"If this committee goes on record as putting this agency on a political basis simply to fill jobs," Gibson said, "then we might as well abolish it.

"This should not be loused up with politics" was a concurring observation by Senator H. R. Williams (Rep.), of Cassville.

Shockley's Comment.

"Maybe the feelings of some of the Senators are hurt" said Shockley who readily concedes he is a partisan Democrat. "No one ever hurts my feeling if they kick me in the pants. I just go on."

"I think this thing is on a partisan basis now" Shockley said. "You fellows (the Republicans; have had it. Now we want it."

Shockley said his original plan concerning the staff "was to do it all on a partisan basis, but some of the boys thought the director should be put on a partisan basis and the other jobs divided on a bipartisan basis."

The present eight-staff members, Director Nelson said, inclued five Democrats and three Republicans.

When a secret ballot was suggested Shockley insisted on a record note.

Senator Anthony M. Webbe (Dem.) of St. Louis announced at this point "I will vote no whether there is a secret ballot or not."

How Committee Voted.

When the roll was called the five members who supported Shockley's motion, all Democrats were Senator Michael Kinney, of St. Louis, and Representatives Shockley; L. E. Merrill, of Brunswick; Fred R. Columbo, of St. Louis; and Charles H. Pulis, of Mexico.

The 14 who voted no were Senators Emery W. Allison (Dem.) of Rolla, president pro tem of the Senate; Frank M. Frisby (Rep.), of Bethany; Gibson; M .C. Mathes (Rep.), of Hillsboro; R. Jasper Smith (Rep.), of Springfield; Webbe and Williams and Representatives Henry Andrae (Rep.), of Jefferson City; Boyd; Melvin E. Fish (Rep.), of Pollock; Joe H. Miller (Rep.), of Carrollton; and Gene Nickle (Rep.), of Pineville.

Representative C. P. Turley of Van Buren, Democratic majority leader in the House did not vote.

Nelson an attorney and former member of the House has been a mmber of the research committee staff since 1945 and director since 1946.

WHOLESALE INDEX UP THREE-TENTHS OF 1 PCT. IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (UP)—The Department of Labor yesterday reported average wholesale prices increased three-tenths of 1 per cent last week.

The department reported a general upward movement in exchanges and markets. Exceptions were hog, cotton, cottonseed oil and cocoa bean prices.

As of Aug. 30, the department said, average wholesale prices were 9.8 per cent lower than a year ago. At week's end, the department reported, the wholesale price index stood at 152.4 compared to the 1926 average of 100.

Farm products last week advanced 1.8 points in price. Food rose six tenths of 1 per cent. Textile products were up four tenths of 1 per cent and building materials dropped eight tenths of 1 per cent. Metals and fuels were at the same level as last week, at 167.9 and 130, respectively.

year I have refused to agree to the assignment of special mission aircraft to accompany congressional parties on trips around the world."

Planned 6-Week Trip.

Thomas had informed the Defense Secretary that a number of the 17-member appropriations subcommittee, which handles the armed services' multi-billion dollar money bills, wanted a large military airplane to make the inspection trip of six weeks to two months.

They planned to take a boat to Europe Sept. 21, then tour Europe by military plane, with some of the Senators continuing the inspection tour by aid to the Middle and Far East, and then fly on home.

But Johnson replied:

"I have felt that the services do not have aircraft to spare for trips of this sort, and, also, I have felt that I could not justify placing the armed services in competition with commercial carriers who are engaged in carrying passengers over these same routes."

Costs $130 an Hour.

Johnson commented:

"The Air Force estimates that it costs $130 an hour to keep a four-engine aircraft aloft, and that on a trip of six or seven weeks' duration, the cost to the Government for such a special flight easily can exceed $25,000.

"It is this cost, coupled with my feeling that our aircraft should be on military duty and that we should avoid in every way possible competing with and reducing the revenues of our private air carriers, that impels me to offer you an alternative suggestion for the travel of those members of the committee who decide to travel around the world."

This suggestion was that the Senators ride the commercial airlines which, the Secretary wrote, have offices in Washington.

Thomas had supplied the Defense Secretary with tentative itineraries for the inspecting Senators.

But Johnson said a flight by commercial airline from Frankfurt, Germany, to Tokyo costs $867, and even if eight Senators decided to fly around the world the "total cost by commercial carriers would be less than $7000 to Tokyo."

From Tokyo, he said, Senators "could even return to the United States on our daily scheduled military air transport service," rather than a specially-assigned military plane.

Declines to Go Along.

Secretary Johnson declined an invitation to ride with the inspecting senators, saying:

"I am sure you agree with me that my job is here, and that I would be remiss in my duty to it, to the Congress and to the country to leave now for any extended length of time."

He ended with:

"I would appreciate consideration being given to the possibilities of the use of the commercial facilities for that part of the trip which will proceed eastward around the world from Germany or Greece to Tokyo."

Thomas told the Secretary the trip abroad was "to investigate conditions where vast sums of public money are being expended."

And as for riding commercial airlines to the Middle and Far East, Thomas wrote the secretary:

"Of course, if transportation could be secured on such private air lines at a less cost to the Government than the cost to the military establishment, it would be efficient to use such private facilities."

Thomas said some Senators may take their wives along but would meet all their expenses.

A check showed the following senators have made reservations for the European trip: Thomas; McCarran (Dem.), Nevada; Chavez (Dem.), New Mexico; Ellender (Dem.), Louisiana; Kilgore (Dem.), West Virginia; Ferguson (Rep.), Michigan; Saltonstall (Rep.), Massachusetts; Young (Rep.), North Dakota; Thye (Rep.), Minnesota; Tydings (Dem.), Maryland; Green (Dem.), Rhode Island; Robertson (Dem.), Virginia, and Cordon (Rep.), Oregon.

Chavez and Kilgore planned to take their wives. It was uncertain which Senators intend to make the full around-the-world trip.

WILLIAM DRAPER LEWIS DIES

NORTHEAST HARBOR, Me., Sept. 3 (AP) — William Draper Lewis, former dean of the law school at the University of Pennsylvania and former director of the American Law Institute, died at his summer home here yesterday. He was 82 years old. He was the author of a number of books on legal, economic and historical topics.

SOME DARK SPOTS ON MAC ARTHUR'S PICTURE OF JAPAN

By KEYES BEECH

The Chicago Daily News-Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1949.

TOKYO, Sept. 3—There is nothing to worry about in Japan, according to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. A few minor problems exist but they are being overcome, said the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers on the occasion of the fourth anniversary of Japan's surrender.

Nevertheless, there are certain facts that must be recognized to fill out the picture.

For instance:

"The threat of Communism as a major issue in Japanese life is past," said MacArthur.

Dues-paying party membership has grown from 8000 in 1946 to about 150,000 in 1949. Communist candidates polled 3.8 per cent of all the votes cast in 1946; 9.6 in 1949. Communists elected five candidates to the Diet (parliament) in 1946; 35 in 1949.

Rightists for Showdown.

"The danger that a military state will re-emerge, or that the police system as now constituted and manned will fail to maintain reasonable law and order, is nonexistent."—MacArthur.

Neutral foreign and Japanese observers believe that only the presence of American troops prevents the right and left from flying at each other's throat. Premier Shigeru Yoshida had publicly vowed to "crush" the Communists, and doubtless would try if the Americans would look the other way.

Break-up of the Zaibatsu holdings—monopolies of large families —and land reform have created an "economic basis for the existence of a broad middle class" which will "support the ideal of democracy as their way of life." —MacArthur.

Of some 300 companies marked for deconcentration, only 11 have been deconcentrated. Land reform is generally considered a success.

Labor and Trade With China.

"Since Oct. 1, 1945, some 9,500,000 people have been added to the population of Japan—5,000.000 by repatriation and the rest through natural increase. Yet there has been no mass unemployment, no social unrest, and no large-scale dole."—MacArthur.

There have been frequent scuffles between rightists and leftists, as Japanese police records show. The number of work stoppages has declined due largely to SCAP's severe attitude toward strikes that hamper recovery. The union of 1,000,000 government workers, which accounted for most man-hours lost, was abolished and the workers put under civil service.

Japan must look elsewhere than Communist China for revival of its foreign trade—MacArthur.

MacArthur's own economic advisers don't agree with this. They don't see how Japan can exist without trade with China except at United States expense.

JOHN S. M'MILLAN, PARTNER IN INVESTMENT CONCERN, DIES

John S. McMillan, a partner in Dempsey-Tegeler & Co., an investment business, 407 North Eighth street, died of heart disease yesterday in St. Luke's Hospital. He was 44 years old and lived at 2 Greenbriar drive, Ladue.

Mr. McMillan had been active in fund-raising campaigns for the Community Chest for many years and was a former treasurer for the American Red Cross here. He had been treasurer and a trustee of the St. Louis Country Day School. In 1929 he was graduated from Princeton University and began work with the Mercantile Commerce Bank & Trust Co. where he rose to the position of trust officer before he went to Dempsey-Tegeler & Co.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Cornelia Wheaton McMillan; a son, John S. McMillan Jr., a daughter, Anne McMillan, all of the Greenbriar address; and his mother, Mrs. C. H. McMillan, 11 St. Andrews drive, Ladue. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

DR. ERNST MUELLER FUNERAL TO BE AT 10 A.M. MONDAY

Funeral services for Dr. Ernst Mueller, a physician in St. Louis for about 65 years, who died of infirmities of age yesterday in Alexian Brothers Hospital, will be at 10 a. m. Monday at the Kriegshauser undertaking establishment, 4228 South Kingshighway, with burial in Calvary Cemetery.

Dr. Mueller, who was 93 years old and lived at 3548 Arsenal street, had continued to practice medicine until a few weeks ago, although a fractured hip, suffered at the age of 86, confined him to a wheel chair. He formerly was superintendent of the old City Sanitarium and was attached to the staff of Alexian Brothers Hospital for a time. He kept up a general practice throughout his career and specialized in neurology.

Surviving are a son, George A. Mueller, 6253 Rosebury avenue, and two grandchildren.

111 JAPANESE REPORTED KILLED AND 500 INJURED IN TYPHOON

TOKYO, Sept. 3 (AP)—A typhoon which lashed the Tokyo-Yokohama area Wednesday and caused floods in central Honshu took 111 Japanese lives, national rural police reported today. Nearly 500 were injured.

Police listed 3164 houses destroyed, 13,243 half-demolished and 1276 washed away. The shipping toll was put at 110 vessels lost, 12 sunk and 45 damaged.

The flood threat to Tokyo subsided as the rivers on the plain north of the metropolis went down from peak levels.

Gen. Sir Walter Kirke Dies.

CARLISLE, England, Sept. 3 (AP)—Gen. Sir Walter M. St. George Kirke died last night. He was 72 years old. Gen. Kirke retired from the army in 1940 after a career climaxed by appointment as commander in chief of the British home forces in 1939.

PLYMOUTH AND BRIGGS PLANTS SHUT BY TIE-UP

Chrysler Workers Ask for Strike Vote Under Michigan Labor Law.

DETROIT, Sept. 3 (AP)—An unscheduled strike gave more than 7300 auto workers an early start on their Labor day holiday weekend.

Employes of Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corp. and its supplier, Briggs Manufacturing Co. were sent home after 163 Plymouth assembly workers did not return from their lunch period at 8 p.m.. yesterday.

CIO United Auto Worker representatives of the strikers said they were protesting against the firing of a steward who took part in a brief walkout a day earlier. Affected by the incident were 3900 other Plymouth workers and 3400 employed by Briggs. Both plants were scheduled to shut down at midnight Friday until Tuesday morning.

The walkout came a few hours after the UAW asked the state to conduct a strike vote among nearly 80,000 Chrysler workers in Michigan. Such a vote would determine whether the members want a walkout called to enforce demands for $100-a-month pensions, welfare benefits and an hourly wage increase.

A similar election — conducted under the Michigan Bonine-Tripp labor law—already has been held among the state's Ford Motor Co. workers, also numbering about 80,000. They approved a walkout 7 to 1. The union, which is concentrating first on Ford in its drive for economic benefits, told the mediation board yesterday that state attempts to settle the Chrysler dispute would be useless.

Philip Weiss, state labor mediator, said he would sit in on the Chrysler-UAW bargaining session next Wednesday and make arrangements for a strike vote.

It probably will be at least two weeks before it can be held, he added.

TRUMAN NAMES DELEGATES TO UNESCO CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP) —President Truman has selected George V. Allen, Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs, to head the United States delegation to a general conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) in Paris Sept. 19 to Oct. 5.

These four have been named members of the delegation:

WOMAN PILOT GROUP OFFICER

Miss Adela Scharr, 4533A Bircher boulevard, was elected vice governor of the north central section of the Ninety-Nines yesterday at a sectional meeting of the organization at Cleveland. The Ninety-Nines is made up of women who hold private airplane pilot licenses.

Happy Girl, 6, Leaves Hospital; Treatments Check Chronic Disease

Linda Jane Carty Expected to Lead Normal Active Life — Suffered Attacks of Nephritis Since She Was 2.

Six-year-old Linda Jane Carty left St. Louis Children's Hospital yesterday with some assurance, for the first time since she was 2, that she won't be back again soon. Her doctors announced her case of chronic nephritis, a kidney disease, was sufficiently arrested to allow her to lead a normal active life.

Dressed in a bright yellow and brown dress, Linda was met at the hospital by her father, David P. Carty, superintendent of the Millstadt (Ill.) schools, where she lives. Doctors and nurses, who had become good friends of the cheerful, well-behaved little girl, were on hand to say goodby to an extremely happy Linda.

Entering the hospital first in October 1945, Linda spent over two years recovering from a severe case of nephritis. In 1948 she was in the hospital often for check-ups and to fight infection that follows the disease, and this year has been back twice for about two weeks each time. Developments in the treatment of nephritis have placed the child in the category of an arrested case.

Bubbling over with joy and energy, Linda was very anxious to get home to play with her two younger brothers and sister, but a little less eager to start in the first grade of her father's school on Tuesday. Her father said he was "very happy to have his little blonde wearing her coming-home dress" which was bought a year ago.

DR. HOWARD RUSK TO GUIDE EUROPEAN DISABLED PROGRAMS

Former St. Louisan to Help Poland, Austria Plan Rehabilitation Work.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept 3 (UP)—The United Nations announced yesterday that Dr. Howard A. Rusk, a leading authority on rehabilitating the disabled, will leave for Europe Wednesday to help plan programs in Austria and Poland. He also will examine the possibility of setting up an international rehabilitation center.

Both Austria and Poland asked the U.N. to send an expert on up-to-date methods for rehabilitating disabled. Poland asked for Dr. Rusk by name.

Dr. Rusk, a former St. Louisan, directed the United States Air Force rehabilitation program during the war and held the rank of colonel. He is now head of the department of treatment of the disabled at New York's Bellevue Hospital and lectures at the New York University Medical School.

Dr. Rusk will offer to bring back with him from Austria, Poland and Israel three-person teams for a year's training in latest rehabilitation methods.

Each team will consist of a doctor, a nurse and a therapist. The idea will be for them to guide the programs in their own countries following their year's practical work among paraplegics, amputees and other disabled persons being cared for under the N.Y.U. Bellevue program.

STEEL PLANT CLOSING DOWN

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3 (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. announced yesterday it would close the iron and steel making facilities at its Massillon (O) plant tomorrow for an indefinite period.

Republic said about 1700 workers would be laid off, because "the demand for alloy steel from the Canton-Massillon area has declined to a point that all orders can be filled by the Canton plant for the time being."

U.S. NAVAL GROUP IN SPAIN ON FIRST VISIT SINCE WAR

Four-Ship Squadron at El Ferrol—Franco Expected to Entertain Officers.

EL FERROL, Spain, Sept. 3 (UP)—A four-ship American Navy squadron, under the command of Adm. Richard L. Conolly, steamed into Ferrol harbor shortly after dawn today on the first United States naval visit to Spain since before the war.

Adm. Conolly's flagship, the cruiser Columbus, fired a 21-gun salute as it entered the harbor. A 21-gun salvo from the batteries of Fort San Juan replied.

The Columbus and the accompanying cruiser Juneau and the destroyers Stribling and Bordelon then passed in single file review before a Spanish squadron commanded by R. Adm. Salvador Moreno aboard the cruiser Canarias.

The two flagships exchanged 17-gun salutes.

Conolly and other officers in the fleet were expected to be received by Generalissimo Francisco Franco at his nearby summer estate, Pazo de Meiros.

An elaborate schedule of receptions, bullfights and excursions was arranged for the 98 officers and 1914 enlisted men in the squadron.

Joseph Kolarek, press attache at the embassy, said the Czech Foreign Office asked several days ago that the picture be withdrawn. Kolarek asked the Czech officials why they objected to it. He said he was told "having the picture in the window is an unfriendly gesture to Czechoslovakia." Cardinal Mindszenty is serving a life sentence on charges of treason made by Hungary's Communist - dominated government.

Kolarek said photos in the display were chosen as world personalities, "statesmen, actors, non-Communists, Communists and baseball players."

CIO Union Officer Dies.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Charles E. Lanning, 49 years old, secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Rubber Workers, died yesterday several hours after he collapsed during a conference of union officials. He had been secretary-treasurer of the union since 1942.

Nazi Organizer of Dollfuss Killing Dies Repentant in Hiding in Rome

ROME, Sept. 3 (AP)—Otto Waechter, Nazi organizer of the assassination of Austrian Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, repented and confessed to a priest before he died in Rome, Giornale d'Italia said yesterday.

The newspaper, in reporting the death of the former S.S. leader, said he had been hiding here for three years in a religious institution under the name of Otto Reinhardt. He was said to have died of a liver ailment.

Dollfuss was shot down in Vienna July 25, 1934. Otto Planetta was hanged six days later as the gunman. Waechter was reported to have been at Planetta's side when the shot was fired. He fled to Germany.

Waechter was one of many men of all creeds and political colors who during the war sought and were given refuge in Vatican City and other buildings of the Roman Catholic church. These included Italy's premier, Alcide de Gasperi, and one of his present arch foes, Pietro Menni, leader of Italy's pro-Communist socialists.

Schuschnigg Recalls Effort to Bring Waechter to Justice.

Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg, former Chancellor of Austria, who is now teaching at St. Louis University, knew of Waechter and directed some of the Austrian government's efforts to apprehend him after the assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss.

"But as soon as Dollfuss was killed," Dr. von Schuschnigg said, "Waechter fled to Germany where he was not only given sanctuary, but also a big job in the Nazi organization. We were unable to get to him to arrest him."

The former Chancellor said Waechter's confession to a priest before his death was anticlimatic, "because everyone knew he was the Nazi spiritual leader in charge of the preparations for the political assassination of Dollfuss."

After Germany invaded Poland, Waechter was given a Nazi job under the military governor of occupied Poland. At the end of the war he disappeared, Dr. von Schuschnigg said.

YUGOSLAVIA CUTS AIR, RIVER TRADE TIES WITH RUSSIA

Belgrade Announces Dissolution of Joint Aviation and Danube Shipping Companies.

BELGRADE, Sept. 3 (AP) — Yugoslavia has severed two of the chief commercial ties binding it to Russia.

Premier Josip (Tito) Broz's government yesterday announced, through its official news agency, Tanjug, that joint Yugoslav-Russian civil aviation and Danube river shipping companies had been dissolved "on the proposal of" Yugoslavia.

The latest move in this cold war between the two Communist countries came amid reports that Russia and its Cominform allies had set up an anti-Tito underground in Yugoslavia.

The move dissolving the jointly-owned firms was foreshadowed three weeks ago when Transport Minister Bozidar Maslaric denounced Russian participation as exploitation of Yugoslav labor and resources.

Putting Yuspa (the aviation company) out of business will cut Yugoslavia off from its former Cominform friends. The airlines routes had run from Belgrade to the capitals of eastern Europe.

It will also prevent Soviet citizens from entering this country as employes of the airline.

Russia, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania adopted a new convention for control of the Danube Aug. 18, 1948, over the protests of the United States, Britain and France. The agreement threw out the post World War I agreement calling for international control and gave all authority over the river to the countries through which it ran.

At that time Russia apparently presumed that, through control of those countries, it would control the Danube. The 2000-mile long river is the chief artery of commerce in the Balkans where railroads and good highways are uncommon.

Now the 250 miles within Yugoslavia's borders will be controlled only by Marshal Tito. There are other areas of the river where Yugoslavia holds one bank of the river.

Tito Government Denies Statements About Invasion Possibility.

BELGRADE, Sept. 3 (AP) — Yugoslavia denied today that official Yugoslav sources had said the Tito government is considering the possibility of a Soviet army invasion.

A statement issued through the Ministry of Information said:

"On the second of this month, the United Press printed news from 'official Yugoslav sources' to the effect that the Yugoslav government is supposedly considering the possibility of an invasion of Yugoslavia by Russian troops. It is officially stated that this news to the effect that Yugoslav official circles made such statements is an ordinary fabrication and arbitrary guesswork of the correspondent of the United Press in Belgrade."

ST. LOUISAN FILES EARLY FOR SENATE RACE IN 1950

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 3 (AP)—Dr. Herman H. Grosby of St. Louis may be testing that old saying about the early bird.

He filed today as a candidate for the 1950 Republican nomination for United States Senator. The August primary is just about exactly 11 months away.

Needless to say he is the first political candidate to file for any of next year's election races. He has been an unsuccessful candidate in the Missouri political arena several times before.

Senator Forrest C. Donnell, also a Republican, is expected to run for re-election.

SAD SACKS ELECT ST. LOUISAN

DES MOINES, Sept. 3 (AP)—The Sad Sacks—Amvet fun organization—broke tradition yesterday by electing a woman national commander.

She is Mrs. Eva E. Manchester of Washington, D.C., the only woman ever to head a veterans' organization fun group such as the Legion's 40 and 8 and others. Her title is Saddest Sack. Other officers chosen include Provost Marshal, or Hoosegow, John Stegman, St. Louis.

FLEESON
Farm Produce Supports to Remain High

Few Price Cuts No Matter What Bill Congress Passes.

By DORIS FLEESON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.

THE best that the Administration will claim for the Anderson farm bill it now expects to get is that it moves the issue off dead center and avoids the least desirable of all plans—the Aiken sliding price supports.

President Truman has promised not to veto Senator Anderson's solution. In turn he has been assured that it will pass and can be substituted in conference for the House-approved Gore bill.

The President has not abandoned the Brannan plan. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan assures his boss that farm surpluses are on the way, that the Anderson bill gives him no power to deal with them, and that Congress will feel differently next year.

The news for the consumer is that prices of farm products will go into no nose-dives. Congress is sticking to high price supports—not so high as formerly but not drastically reduced.

Meanwhile, the politicians of both parties are happier. Republicans have been eager to get out from under the Aiken scheme ever since farm-state desertions contributed so largely to their defeat last year. Luckily, they postponed to next Jan. 1 the effective date of the Aiken bill when they passed it in the closing hours of the Eightieth Congress. Now it is due to slip into limbo, unwept, unhonored and, they hope, unsung.

G.O.P. Criticism on Way.

This is clear again from their standpoint. With the Aiken bill off the books they can plunge into aggressive criticism of what the Democrats do—and they will, at a farm-state conference late this month.

The Democrats can console themselves that they are gaining time. Also, most of them have considerable confidence that any bill on which Senator Anderson, Truman's first Secretary of Agriculture, puts his name will be all right.

The President's current attitudes toward Anderson are a puzzle. The junior Senator from New Mexico a former member of the House, was for a while the fair-haired boy of the White House. The President tentatively planned to make him Democratic national chairman to succeed Robert Hannegan and the palace guard mentioned what an attractive Vice President he would make.

In trying for the Senate, Anderson did the Administration a special favor by knocking off a former Hoover cabinet member, Patrick J. Hurley, who is a harsh critic of the Truman China policy.

Anderson Ignored.

However, after Anderson arrived there he was ignored in discussions of agricultural policy. The Brannan plan was advertised as the true gospel and New Mexico's junior Senator was not invited to the Des Moines meeting at which it was launched.

Recently, just as it became increasingly clear that it was the Anderson bill or something wanted even less, the President vetoed a comparatively minor reclamation project in New Mexico costing $2,000,000, which Anderson sponsored.

At the same time, as Senators were swift to rib Anderson, the President approved a $60,000,000 project of like nature in Utah which had been pushed by Senator Watkins, one of the irreconcilable Republican isolationists. The projects are so similar that Anderson was told Watkins gave up hope when the New Mexico bill went down and had prepared a statement for release attacking the expected Truman veto.

Anderson and Brannan act in concert in one respect. Asked about their mutual relationship, both reply: "No comment."

Heads Scientific Society.

Dr. Viktor Hamburger, professor of zoology at Washington University, was elected president of the Society for the Study of Development and Growth yesterday at a symposium at New London, Conn. The organization is the only one of its kind, dedicated to a study of both normal and abnormal growth. Other officers elected yesterday were Dr. R. H. Goodwin of Connecticut College, New London, secretary, and Dr. Lindsay M. Black of the Brooklyn Botanic Gardens, treasurer.

Brecheen Picked to Face Reds

By Bob Broeg

Playing at a pace that in past years was fast enough to win five of St. Louis' nine National League pennants, Eddie Dyer's league-leading Cardinals were ready to resume their championship drive tonight at Sportsman's Park, where the seventh-place Cincinnati Reds will be met at 8:30 in the opener of a six-game home stand.

As a result of Brooklyn's victory last night at New York, the Redbirds' lead this morning was one and one-half games. The Dodgers and Giants were scheduled to meet again this afternoon at the Polo Grounds before the Cardinals return to action, seeking their seventh victory in eight starts.

With 27 games to go, Dyer's darkhorse entry that forged in front after a slow break from the barrier in the spring has played at a .622 clip, and the same percentage the rest of the season would bring 17 more victories and a season's total of 96.

What It Takes to Win.

Only the powerful veteran team of 1931 and the young swifties who began a three-year reign in 1942 won pennants with more than 96 games on the credit side, though the '46 club needed that many victories to gain the historic playoff with Brooklyn.

The fewest games with which the Cardinals ever prevailed was in 1926 when they captured their first flag, gaining 89 victories under Rogers Hornsby. The most was in 1942 when a blistering stretch of winning baseball gave the Redbirds 106 victories, a sensational total just two more than the Dodgers achieved in a heart-breaking second place finish.

Coach Clyde (Buzzy) Wares, a wise old owl who has been perspiring through tense pennant races with the Carlinals since 1930, expressed belief that 94 victories might be enough this time, but that figure would seem to be slicing the braunschweiger too thin. That total could be enough, however, if, for instance, the Redbirds were to sweep a three-game showdown series with Brooklyn here, Sept. 21-22, during the Cardinals' second September home stand.

Since they began to fly in late May, taking off from seventh place after losing 17 of their first 29 games, the Redbirds have won 67 times and lost only 31. And if that 98-game pace were maintained to the finish, St. Louis would wind up with 97 or 98 victories, a total that would be extremely tough to beat.

Can't Do It on Paper.

As they say in the dugout, though, they'll have to play and win 'em one at a time, and that time - tested philosophy makes the first order of business an all-lefthanded duel tonight between Harry (11-9) Brecheen of the Cardinals and Johnny (4-8) Vander Meer of Cincinnati, with southpaw Max (1-3) Lanier and Ken 13-14) Raffensberger likely to pitch Sunday's game.

Brecheen has won three games from the Reds and lost two to Bucky Walters' team. Vander Meer, a brilliant pitcher in a 3-2 extra-inning defeat at Boston in his last start, actually has had a most disappointing season except for two shutouts over the Redbirds.

Cincinnati is one second division club the Cardinals have used as a stepping stone almost as often as Brooklyn, which has defeated the Reds in 15 of 20 games. The Redbirds have won 12 of 16 from Cincy, including an impressive nine in a row.

However, as the Dodgers learned Thursday night when the Reds outbattled them in 10 innings, Cincinnati will have its say in this race. And Vander Meer and Raffensberger long have established themselves as two of the most difficult pitchers in the league for the Cards.

Pennants, oldsters in the famed uniform of the Redbirds learned long ago and the kids are finding out now, don't come the easy way. And Manager Eddie Dyer sized up the stretch this way:

"No one will roll over and play dead, regardless of whether this club or that one rather would see us win than Brooklyn, or vice-versa. We've had to look at the best pitchers the other clubs have all season, and there's no reason the last month won't be the same. That's baseball, pal, big-league baseball, a profession of high ethics."

Longden to Ride In the St. Leger

LONDON, Sept. 3 (AP)—John Longden, ace United States jockey from California, who is visiting in England, was engaged today by the Aga Khan to ride next Saturday in the St. Leger, last of this season's British three-year-old classic races.

Longden will be on either Hindostan, a 20-to-1 shot, or Dust Devil, 66 to 1.

Lehner Drives in Brownie Run; Fannin vs. Feller

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3—A ladies' day crowd estimated at 30,000 saw the Browns oppose the Indians in the first of a two-game series here this afternoon with Cliff Fannin pitching against Bob Feller.

The Indians got to Fannin for two hits in the second inning, but the threat was erased when Bob Dillinger speared Joe Gordon's low line drive and doubled Larry Doby off first. Kennedy followed with a double down the right-field line, but was left stranded as Ray Boone ended the inning by striking out.

The Brownies scored after two were out in the third. Bob Dillinger sliced a drive which hit the first base bag and streaked along to the right-field corner for a double. Paul Lehner then singled past Mickey Vernon and Dillinger romped home.

THIRD — BROWNS — Sullivan flied to Easter. Fannin grounded out, Boone to Vernon. Dillinger doubled down the right field line. Lehner singled past Vernon, scoring Dillinger. Lehner was out stealing, Hegan to Gordon. ONE RUN.

INDIANS — Hegan walked. Feller sacrificed, Graham to Priddy, who covered first. Hegan took third on a wild pitch. Fannin took Mitchell's tap and threw him out, Hegan holding third. Vernon struck out.

INDIANS — Easter fouled to Moss. Doby was called out on strikes. Gordon was safe when Sullivan let his easy grounder get through him. Kennedy tripled to right-center, scoring Gordon with the tying run. Boone's smash off Dillinger's glove went for a hit, scoring Kennedy. Hegan singled between short and third, Boone stopping at second. Feller forced Hegan at second, Sullivan to Priddy. TWO RUNS .

Faulkner Triumphs in $6000 Golf Tourney

LITTLE ASTON, Birmingham, England, Sept. 3 (UP)—Max Faulkner, one of the younger members of the British Ryder Cup team yesterday won the $6000 lotus professional golf tournament with 277 for 72 holes.

Ryder Cuppers Charles Ward and Jimmy Adams placed second and third. Ward ended with a score of 278 and Adams had 282. Bobby Locke of South Africa, the open champion, finished with a 287.

Mrs. Douglass Gains Title in Handicap Golf

Mrs. William O. Douglass of Norwood, a 20-stroke handicap golfer, totalled 222 to win the St. Louis Women's District Golf Association's annual 54-hole medal handicap tournament concluded yesterday at the Meadow Brook Country Club. Mrs. Douglass, pacesetter for all three rounds, had net scores of 69, 79 and 74.

The new champion, who replaces Mrs. Glenn Delf, gains a leg on the Nineteenth Hole Trophy, donated by Eugene L. Burg in 1929. Miss Virginia Pepp was the initial winner of the trophy. The medal handicap event, however, started in 1927 with Mrs. H. E. Davis taking the top honors at Glen Echo.

Marilyn Herpel, another Norwood golfer and former district girls' champion, gained the first flight honors with a net total of 227. Miss Herpel, owning a three-stroke handicap, shot gross rounds of 77, 80 and 79. Another former girls' district victor, Mrs. Frank Adam of Sunset, was runnerup with 231. She had a handicap of 13 strokes.

Mrs. Shirley Ross of Sunset, an 18-stroke handicap player, was runnerup to Mrs. Douglass with 227. Mrs. Sye Bramoweth of Meadow Brook, a serious contender for the No. 1 award going into the final round, one stroke behind Mrs. Douglass, with 149, won the combined third and fourth flight laurels with 228. Mrs. William Greenstein, also of Meadow Brook, was runnerup with 230.

Mrs. Sye Bramoweth of Meadow Brook, won the Kocian Trophy, based on medal handicap against par. She was 6 up on par for the three days of play.

18-Year-Old Swimmer Wins $12,500 Race

TORONTO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Cliff Lumsden, 18-year-old Toronto truck driver, last night became the youngest swimmer to win the 15-mile Canadian national exhibition's annual swim marathon.

Only three of the 47 entrants from Canada and the United States finished the grind in the 62-degree Lake Ontario waters.

Lumsden clambered onto the finish raft while Ben Gazel of Toronto was about 700 yards to the rear. William Sadlow Jr. of Whitestone, N. Y., the other survivor, was more than two miles behind.

Donald Cronin of South Glens Falls, N. Y., was pulled out after nearly 8½ miles and Alex Winick of Toronto gave up after negotiating only seven miles. They were so far back that, even if they had finished, they wouldn't have reached the raft until midnight or later.

Lumsden led from the first splash in the race for the cash prizes totaling some $12,500. First prize was supposed to be $5500 but it wasn't certain how the money would be distributed with only three finishers.

Lumsden finished fifth last year and turned over the $500 prize to his mother. The year before he was sixth.

Among the early victims of the cold water was Stephen Wozniak of Buffalo, N. Y., 1948 winner. He was pulled out after 1½ miles.

Next to Lumsden the youngest winner was Marvin Nelson of Fort Dodge, Ia., who was only 19 when he finished first in 1930.

Charity Boxing Promoters Take It on Chin to Tune of $25,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Charity and former bantamweight champion Harold Dade both took a beating in the "Carnival of Champions" at Chicago Stadium last night.

Sandy Saddler, New York's former featherweight champion, gave Dade a rough going-over for a one-sided victory in their 10-rounder which was the chief item of business as five world champions mixed in as many exhibition bouts.

The show, billed as a benefit for Negro charities, attracted only 7236 patrons, who paid a gate of $21,873. That was less than half the $46,000 the sponsors needed to make a profit.

Spindly Saddler, weighing 127¼ against Dade's 126, led from the time he had the Chicagoan in distress with a left hook to the chin and stinging body punches in the first round.

Williams had his nose bloodied by Arthur King of Toronto, Ont., British empire lightweight champion, in their spritely four-rounder. Ortiz also had a spirited session with Chuck Wilkerson of Cleveland. Pep easily outboxed Cuban titleholder, Miguel Aceveda. LaMotta nearly folded New York's Al Winn with body blows in the fourth. Robinson clowned most of the way against Al Mobley, Newark, N.J., opening up with a stinging attack in the fourth.

Schroeder and Sedgman Match Tops on Card

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 3 (UP)—Defending Champion Margaret Osborne du Pont of Wilmington, Del., fought her way into the semi-finals of the United States Tennis championships today by defeating Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., 6-3, 10-8.

Tall, fifthlseeded Mrs. Todd twice fought off match points in the sixteenth game of the second set and rallied to square the games at 8-8 but Mrs. du Pont broke service in the eighteenth game to win the set.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 3 (UP)—A young Australian, an exiled Czech and six Americans, headed by terrific Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., squared away today in the quarter-finals of the United States Tennis championships.

Schroeder, top-seeded and champion of Wimbledon, drew the tough, 21-year-old Aussie, Frank Sedgman, who twice carried the California favorite to five sets this season before going down to defeat.

Drobny Drubs Cochell.

The six surviving Americans were the six top-seeded U. S. players and the last Yank to bow out was the seventh seeded—Earl Cochell of San Francisco. Cochell was beaten by Drobny in the fading light yesterday, 6-3, 6-2, 8-6.

Despite the presence of Schroeder and Gonzales, Parker gained considerable support as a darkhorse by trimming Eric Sturgess of South Africa, runnerup a year ago and seeded first in the foreign list. The 33-year-old Parker, more aggressive than usual, turned in a brilliant victory, 6-3, 6-8, 6-1, 6-4, averaging his defeat by Sturgess at Wimbledon earlier this year.

Schroeder gained his quarter-final bracket with a merciless pounding of Sam Match of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2; Sedgman drubbed Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N. J., 6-3, 6-2, 8-6 and Talbert won as he pleased from Little Robert Abdesselam of France, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Gonzales, Larsen, and Mulloy gained their positions Thursday.

St. Louis's Guariglia Three Up After 18 in U.S. Caddie Semi-Final

By Robert Morrison
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 3—Don Guariglia of St. Louis was 3 up after 18 holes today in his 36-hole semi-final match with Joseph Grochmal, Springfield, Mass., in the national caddie tournament over the Ohio State University course.

In the other semi-final at the end of 18 holes Frank Gurasci of this city was even with Mel Stevens of Detroit.

Guariglia finished the first nine of the morning round with a 37, one over par, and was in with a 39 for a 76.

The final 18 holes of the match were being played this afternoon.

The Normandie caddie got many good shots off the tees and also showed better form on the greens than his opponent. Grochmal on the other hand had trouble with his approaches. On the very first hole of the match Grochmal took a bogey five because he went into a trap. A 10-foot putt got Guariglia a par four.

On No. 4, Don chipped up for a par four and gained a two-up advantage. He made it three-up on No. 5 when Grochmal was off with his tee shot. The Massachusetts boy cut Don't lead to two-up with a 40-foot putt on No. 6. However, the St. Louis lad went three-up again on the tenth hole when Grochmal missed the green on his approach.

Grochmal got back a hotel on the 11th green chiefly by better chipping for a par four, then blew the chances on 12th, 13th and 14th on his putting. Guariglia went three-up again on the 15th with a birdie three.

The cards:

Out: Par	4-4-4-5-3-5-4-3-4—36
Guariglia	4-5-4-4-3-5-4-3-5—37
Grochmal	5-5-4-5-4-4-4-3-5—39
In: Par	4-4-5-3-5-4-4-3-4—36—72
Guariglia	4-5-5-3-5-3-5-4-5—39—76
Grochmal	5-4-5-3-5-5-5-4-5—41—80

Because he failed to show as much steadiness and stroking authority as the other semi-finalists did yesterday, the St. Louis kid went into his match today the underdog.

But if his old wood-shafted No. 17 chipping iron continues to serve him well, he may get into the final.

He rushed to a 5-up advantage in seven holes of his quarter-final match yesterday, but he needed all of that and could have used a little more in the 18-hole bout.

Not until the first extra hole did Don finally gain a 1 up victory over the rallying, 17-year-old Bob Stewart of Kansas City, Kan., and even then Stewart narrowly missed, in his powerful comeback.

On that 19th hole; a par four, Guariglia was slightly short of the green in two. Stewart made a high iron approach, heading right for the pin, but the ball fell just short of clearing a steep trap bank next to the green.

Just one foot higher with that shot and Stewart probably would have had an easy putt for a birdie. But as it was, the ball buried out of sight in the bunker. Stewart ticked the grains of sand to uncover it enough to see it, as the rules allow, then blasted out to the fringe, still too far from the cup.

Guariglia then flipped the ball with his old "17" iron to four feet past the pin for his third stroke. Stewart clipped to a foot for his fourth and Don won by canning the sizable putt under pressure.

"I gotta play better than I have to win in the semi-final," Guariglia said after recovering from his double dose of finishing tension in the 37 holes he played yesterday.

Guariglia's quarterfinal card:

Par out — — 4 4 4 5 3 5 4 3 4—36
Guariglia — — 3 4 4 5 2 5 4 4 5—36
Stewart — — 4 5 4 6 3 5 5 4 5—41
Guariglia five up.
Par in — 4 4 5 3 5 4 4 3 4—36—72
Guariglia 4 5 6 3 5 5 5 3 5—41—77
Stewart — 4 4 5 3 4 4 5 3 4—36—77
Match even.
Extra hole—Guariglia 4, Stewart 5.

Dodgers Send Jack Banta Against Giants' Kennedy

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—Brooklyn's Dodgers, still trailing the league-leading Cardinals by one and one-half games, sent young Jack Banta to pitch against the New York Giants this afternoon.

Banta, who has pitched effective ball in his last few starts, has a 7-4 record. He was opposed by Lefty Monte Kennedy (10-10).

A crowd of about 20,000 was in the Polo Grounds at starting time.

Three St. Louisans Win Championships in 35th Division Tourney

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo., Sept. 3—The special troops battalion of the 138th Infantry regiment of St. Louis won the 35th Division athletic championship at the summer encampment here. The winners amassed a total of 546 points out of a possible 1062. Lt. Charles Middleton, special services officer of the battalion, 5633 Clemens Ave., was presented the huge trophy by Major General John C. McLaughlin of Sedalia, commanding general of the division.

Special troops, which consists of the heavy tank company, heavy mortar company, service company, medical company and regimental headquarters company, won divisional titles in boxing, volley ball and basketball. Another local unit, Company I of the 138th Infantry won the table tennis title. They were captained by Sgt. 1C Fred McAvoy, well-known in local table-tennis circles and formerly a national ranking player.

In the boxing finals three St. Louis boys won championships with a fourth in a runner-up spot. Joe Hager of the 138th medical company beat a fellow St. Louisan, Thomas Armstrong of Company H, 138th Infantry for the 135 pound novice title. Manuel Martinez of the 138th Medics took the 147 pound novice bout, and James Marshall of the 1807th Engineer Aviation Co., based at Jefferson Barracks, won the 147 pound open championship.

St. Louisans 2nd In Casting Meet

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 3 (AP)—Earl Osten, Del Corona, Calif., yesterday won the salmon fly distance event at the National Association of Angling and Casting Club's tournament here.

Osten averaged 183 feet, 8 inches to outdistance Charlie Schall, St. Louis, who was next with 177 2-3 feet. Third place was taken by Paul Ufer, Toledo, O., with an average of 175 1-3 feet. Ufer came through with the longest single cast, 193 feet. Marion Garber, Toledo, and Ben Rice, San Francisco, tied for fourth place with 174 1-3 feet.

Largest entry of the meet was in the fishermen accuracy bait when 119 representing 22 states took part.

The men's division with 78 contestants was won by Marion Garber, Toledo, with an 87 average. Charles Sutphin, Indianapolis, was second with 83, followed by Tom Sibila, Barberton, O., 81; Dick Perkins, Memphis, Tenn., 76, and Marvin Allen, Chicago, 76.

There were 20 in the women's division, won by Mrs. Adella McDonald, Chicago, and Mrs. Belle Compton, Paterson, N.J., who holds the national record with 76. Her average today was 64. Close behind with a 60 average was Mrs. Mollie Lou Schneider, Jeffersonville, a former national title holder. Fifth with 58 was Mrs. Walter Willman, St. Petersburg, Fla.

The distance baits championship was won by Jack Moore, Indianapolis, with 2170 total footage. Bill Lovely of St. Louis was second with 2163.

Turnesa Upset by Texan, 2-1

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 3 (UP)—Playing ragged golf with the pressure on, Charley Coe of Oklahoma City still managed a 5 up lead over Rufus King of Wichita Fall, Tex., at the halfway mark in their 36-hole battle for the United States amateur championship at Oak Hills Country Club here today.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Sept. 3 (UP)—Rufus King, a 33-year-old rancher-oil man from Wichita Falls, Tex., met Charley Coe, a red-haired beanpole from Oklahoma City today in the 36-hole final of the forty-ninth National Amateur golf tournament.

Coe, who was beaten in the semi-finals last year by Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, was favored over the relatively unknown King in the pay-off battle between the two southwestern shotmakers on the Oak Hill Country Club course.

But from the manner in which King upset Defending Champion Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, N.Y., 2 and 1, in a thrill-packed 36-hole semifinal yesterday, he had many supporters in his quest for the prized amateur crown.

While King eliminated the favored Turnesa in the hardest-fought match of the tournament, Coe breezed through the semifinals with an 8-and-7 triumph over Bill Campbell, the Huntington (W. Va.) state legislator.

King, a Grand American trap-shooting champion at the age of 14, demonstrated a world of gameness as he ousted Turnesa, the 1948 champion, in the biggest upset of the tourney.

The tough Texan grabbed an early 2-up lead by winnig the first hole with a par 4 and the second with a birdie 3, and spent the rest of the match beating off Turnesa's relentless challenge. King held a 1-up lead at the ninth hole, widened it to 2 up at the end of the first 18, and lost a hole on the outgoing nine of the afternoon round to have his advantage cut to 1 up.

Then little Willie, staging an equally game struggle, evened the match by dropping a 12-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the twenty-eighth hole.

But at that stage the deadly approach shots that had earned Turnesa the nickname "Willie the Wedge," failed him and lost him a crack at his third amateur title.

After halving the twenty-ninth, King went 1 up on the thirtieth as Turnesa flubbed a trap shot. Both hooked their drives on the thirty-second, but big Rufe made a brilliant recovery to the green for a par 4, while Turnesa hit a tree and wound up with a bogey to go 2 down.

The thirty-third hole was halved and Turnesa won the thirty-fourth in par, while King hooked his second shot and took a bogey, leaving the Texan 1 up with two holes to go.

Then once again Turnesa's short game failed him when he needed it most. Both players wound up in traps with second shots. But King laid his next shot on the green for a birdie 4 while Turnesa missed his third shot, overdrove on the fourth and finally took a 7, which closed out the match.

Coe, a 25-year-old Walker Cupper, played his long tee shots and deadly irons right down the middle all through the match as he shellacked Campbell.

The Oklahoma insurance broker, who stands 6-feet-2 and weighs only 135 pounds, held a 4-up lead after the first 18 holes, increased the advantage to 8 up at the twenty-seventh and closed cut the match on the twenty-ninth.

Douglas and Sallee Win.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 3 (AP) — Dave Douglas, Newark (Del.) professional, and Gene Sallee, amateur of Springfield, teamed up yesterday and won the best ball pro-amateur preliminary of the Ozarks Open Golf tournament. They posted 64, one stroke better than that of Jimmy Clark, Los Angeles pro, and Robert Riggs, Joplin (Mo.) amateur.

Tied for third with 66s were the teams of Otto Greiner, Baltimore pro, and Sam Valuck, Muskegon (Mich.) amateur; Paul O'Leary, Bismarck (N.D.) pro, and Bo Wininger, Stillwater (Okla.) amateur.

One Will Be Champion

Old Fairmount Favorites To Compete in Mile Trot

By Herman Wecke

Four old Fairmount favorites, Clever Sunny, Jimmiekin, Come Springtime and William Van, will hook up in a 14-class allowance trot race over the mile route in what could easily be the feature of tonight's harness race program at the Collinsville track.

A $3000 divided event for 17-class trotters is billed as the feature and in this race Harold Song, a five-time winner last spring, will be one of the starters. Harold will find a couple of tough customers in Montgomery Spencer and High Bridge. The secondary, a 13-class divided pace, brings together such "wigglers" as Jerry Strong, Marcellus, The Refresher and Winsocki.

The fans were present again last night, the attendance being announced at 7110, but once again they kept the rubber bands on the bank roll as only $64,617 passed through the mutuel windows.

Those who did some betting and were fortunate enough to pick the winners had a good night with long-shots. It started off with the first race when Scotch Princess hit the winner's circle at $12.40 for $2.

However, the big payoff came in the fourth, when Jess Brainerd, never better than fourth in eight previous starts this season, won to the tune of $75 for $2. Then in the sixth, first half of the $3000 divided pace, Caramac beat the favored Joe Jester and paid $50.20. Joe Jester came back in the second half to win.

Wayward, with Eddie Fox in the sulky, became the first double winner, accounting for both heats of the 16-class allowance trot. Fans remembered Wayward from last spring, when he won seven times, and as a result he paid only $4.20 and $3.

Neil Boardman, who topped the drivers last fall, but who had tough sledding in the 1949 spring meeting, when he won only twice in 55 attempts, had two winners. In addition to Scotch Princess, he won with Nite Express at 4.40 for $2.

Cincinnati in Final of Legion Title Series

OMAHA, Nebr., Sept. 3 (UP)—Cincinnati eliminated Wheeling, W. Va., 5 to 0, in the Junior American Legion baseball tournament last night and won the right to oppose Oakland, Calif., tonight in the championship series.

Wheeling, which lost the first round opened to Oakland, joined Atlanta, Ga., on the sidelines.

Oakland, a second-round winner over Cincinnati, can end the double-alimination meet with a repeat victory today. If Cincinnati wins, the finale will be played tomorrow night.

Negro All-Star Game to West

Representatives of a number of major league clubs sat in at Sportsman's Park last night as the West team defeated the East in the annual district Negro all-star game, 9-8. The game is sponsored by the St. Louis Argus.

Two crack Negro professional teams met in the nightcap, the Homestead Greys of Washington, D.C., defeating the Komedy Kings of New York, 5-0. Cecil Kyser hurled five-hit ball for the winners.

Bill Ball, one-armed St. Louisan, who plays with the Kings, made three fine catches in the outfield.

The first game of the playoff in the Tandy Industrial League will be played tomorrow between the St. Louis Giants and St. Louis Senators at Tandy Park. Each club won pennants in the split season. Game time, 2 o'clock.

Believe It or Not! 44,248 Fans Cheer Umpire on His Day

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—The big town has given Bill Klem, "the old arbitrator" a day he'll never forget.

There was mist in the eyes of the 75-year-old supervisor of National League umpires and tears trickled reluctantly down his cheek as he heard the words of praise from old friends.

"This the greatest day of my life," he said humbly at a noon luncheon in his honor, "this tribute tells me I made good. That is exactly which I started out to do."

Klem received numerous gifts from representatives of the major leagues, umpires, players, fans and baseball writers.

All joined in tribute to the veteran with such expressions as "greatest umpire the game ever had" and "unmatched in integrity, honesty and ability."

Rodney Does Mile in 1:59 2-5 in Beating Brother Egan Hanover

DU QUOIN, Ill., Sept. 3 (AP)—Poplar Byrd, from the Poplar Hill Farms of Lexington, Ky., won his second race of the week at the Du Quoin fair yesterday. Driven by Wayne Smart, Poplar Byrd stepped the first heat of the free-for-all race in 1:59 3-5 and came back to take the second in 2:01 4-5.

Rodney, Mr. Harness Horse of 1948, which has a record of 1:58, was clocked in 1:59 2-5 in the first heat of the Maud S. Trot. He was driven by Bion Shively. Egan Hanover, full brother of the winner, was second on each trip while Gainsway Farms' Way Yonder was third and K. D. Owen's Laurelite last in the four-horse field.

Castleton Farms Mighty Song won the Court Jestor pacing stake in straight heats. Driven by Dep Palin, Mighty Song was clocked in 2:01 and 2:01 2-5.

BOY BITTEN BY COPPERHEAD; POLICE GET SERUM FROM ZOO

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (UP)—A copperhead snake bit a boy in Brooklyn early today and a police car raced to the Bronx zoo in a 45-mile round trip for anti-toxin serum to save the youth's life.

Edward Fabry, 17 years old, was bitten by one of a collection of 30 reptiles he keeps at his home when he was showing friends shortly after midnight how he fed it. His mother gave him first aid, cutting a gash in the bitten finger of his left hand and extracting the poison with a suction pump she keep on hand for such an emergency. Writhing with nausea and stomach cramps, the boy was taken to Kings County Hospital.

Doctors there said his mother's emergency treatment had put him out of danger, but anti-toxin was urgently needed for proper treatment. A police car sped to the Bronx zoo, at times hitting 95 miles an hour, and returned with the serum.

BULGARIA ACCUSES GREECE OF 25 AGGRESSIVE ACTS

SOFIA, Sept. 3 (AP) — Bulgaria today charged Greece with violating its territory and said it refused to be responsible for what might follow.

A statement by the government press department said a protest had been sent to the United Nations listing 25 aggressive acts committed by Greece against Bulgaria between Aug. 22 and Aug. 30.

These included invasions of Bulgaria by units of the Greek army, flights by Greek planes over Bulgarian territory and searching of Bulgarian ships in the Aegean by Greek warships.

It said most of the reported incidents occurred near the Greek-Yugoslav-Bulgarian border. (Greek army troops have been battling rebel forces in this area. The Greek Government has accused Russian satellite states to the north of helping the rebels.)

LEGALIZING OF DRUNKOMETER TEST IN MOTOR CASES URGED

A resolution calling on the Missouri Legislature to legalize the use of drunkometers, a device to test persons suspected of intoxication, was adopted yesterday at a meeting of the Greater St. Louis Prohibition Club at Third Baptist Church.

The resolution urged the Legislature to pass a law permitting use of the drunkometers to test motorists involved in "liquor-caused accidents."

The St. Louis group also made plans to assist the national chairman of the Prohibition Party in the advance campaign plans, which calls for contributions of $80,000 to finance 800 public meetings and obtaining 80,000 subscriptions to the party's official publication, the National Prohibitionist.

ROBBERS GET $650 IN HOLDUP, TIE UP DRUG STORE CLERK

An employe of the Steyh Drug Store, 2901 Sidney street, was held up last night by two men who took $150 from Martin's wallet and the employe and then, bound him with wire and fled in his automobile.

Webster D. Martin, 1605 Missouri avenue, the employe, told police he was locking the front door from the outside after closing the store when the two robbers approached him. One of them pushed a revolver into his back and said: "This is a stickup. Get back inside."

While the man with the revolver stood near the door, Martin was forced by the other robber to open the safe from which the man took $500. While the robber was tying Martin's hands behind his back and binding his legs with wire, he took $150 from Martin's wallet and his automobile keys.

Martin managed to get his legs loose from the wire after a 10-minute struggle. With his hands still tied, he walked up some rear stairs to the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. John Gubser, who untied his hands and called police.

The store is owned by Herbert Steyh, 4707 Southwest avenue.

KOREA'S BIG TURTLE MAY BE AN OMEN BUT IT'S SHRINKING

SEOUL, Sept. 3 (AP)—They'd better get that big sea turtle up here from South Korea quick before it shrinks to tortoise size.

The big fellow, which fishermen said probably was 1000 years old, was caught off the southern tip of Korea a few days ago.

President Syngman Rhee, announcing the remarkable catch, said the turtle was six or seven feet long. If seven feet long, it would be perhaps the biggest one ever captured.

The newspapers said the turtle was five by six feet long. And today, Information Director Clarence Ryee said it might be only five feet long.

"It's an omen," President Rhee enthusiastically told a news conference yesterday. "It means prosperity for the nation. The turtle is our symbol of longevity and prosperity."

The turtle figures in Korean folklore and history.

With a small fleet of these strange craft, he thwarted an invasion by the Japanese dictator Hideyoshi, ramming and sinking the enemy ships with the great turtle-headed prow while archers fired flaming arrows from beneath the armored carapace.

CHILD PSYCHOLOGIST INDICTED IN KILLING OF HER YOUNG SON

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 3 (AP)—A 31-year-old child psychologist accused of beating her 18-month-old son to death by banging his head on the floor was indicted for murder yesterday.

Mrs. Kalwaic's son, Henry, died last May 13. Police officials said his body was a mass of welts and bruises. The woman is accused of beating the child with her fists and repeatedly thumping his head on the floor to cure him of jealousy of an older sister.

Mrs. Kalwaic, a college graduate, gave birth to a third child in July while she was being held in county prison here.

DETROIT TRANSIT DISPUTE SETTLED, STOPPAGE ENDS

DETROIT, Sept. 3 (AP)—The busses and streetcars were running as usual today after the city yielded to most of the demands of unionists who pulled a quick work stoppage yesterday.

A walkout of 2000 maintenance workers at the department of street railway garages theatened to tie up municipal transportation. D.S.R. spokesmen said it was a strike, but the repairmen said it was a demonstration.

Just when the busses began to run out of gasoline and break down, Mayor Eugene Van Antwerp announced a settlement. Members of Local 312, CIO United Public Workers won nearly everything they asked for.

HORSE NIPS MAN, SO DOES DOG WHEN HE CALLS TO COMPLAIN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3 (AP)—Walter C. Reeves claims he was bitten in the neck by a horse at a horse show. Then, he says, injury was added to injury when he was bitten by a dog six days later when he called on the owner to complain about being bitten by the horse.

Reeves, a bus driver, filed suit for $15,355 damages yesterday against Dr. Ross H. McCloskey, Pomona (Calif.) physician, described as owner of the horse and dog.

CZECH LEADERS IN TRIBUTE TO FORMER PRESIDENT BENES

PRAGUE, Sept. 3 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist-led Government paid tribute to the memory of former President Eduard Benes today, the first anniversary of his death.

The anniversary passed without comment from the government-controlled morning press, but the official news agency said wreaths from Communist President Klement Gottwald and other leaders were placed on Bene's grave at Sezimovo Usti.

Many peasants were reported filing past Bene's grave.

U.S. COAL SUPPLY FALLS 7 PCT. IN JULY BUT IS LARGER THAN IN JULY, 1948

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP). THE nation's coal pile dwindled almost 7 per cent in July, the Bureau of Mines said yesterday.

Stocks of bituminous coal and lignite fell from 74,161,000 tons in June to 69,119,000 tons on July 31.

The July stocks are well above those for the same month in other postwar years. A year ago they totaled less than 60,000,000 tons, in July 1947, 45,000,000, and in July 1946, 43,000,000.

The bureau said soft coal production during the week ending Aug. 27 was 7,910,000 tons compared with 12,218,000 for the corresponding week of 1948.

Production has been running a little more than half of normal since John L. Lewis put a three-day work week into effect. Cumulative production in 1949 is 313,108,000 tons, a decrease of 71,121,000 tons, or 18.5 per cent, from the corresponding period in 1948.

LI ORDERS ARREST OF MAO, CHINESE COMMUNIST CHIEF

CANTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Acting President Li Sung-jen today ordered the arrest of Mao Tze-tung and 18 other Chinese Communist leaders.

The order will be a little difficult to carry out. The armies of MAO now are pressing toward this refugee nationalist capital.

It appeared likely the order was a belated reply to the Communist branding of Chiang Kai-shek, Li and other nationalist leaders as "war criminals."

Li's order said Mao and others on the list were Communist bandits.

A division of Nationalist troops was rushed out today to meet 2000 to 3000 Red irregulars who were fighting toward Tsungfa, only 35 miles northeast of Canton.

The main front, which nowhere is nearer than 140 miles, remained relatively unchanged. Canton itself was calm.

Red withdrawals continued on the front northwest of Canton. The Ministry of Defense said Manchurian Gen. Lin Piao had pulled out of Changteh, 410 miles northwest of Canton. There has been no satisfactory explanation. The Nationalists say the Reds fell back under pressure.

DECATUR (ILL.) CARTAGE FIRMS ASK UNION TO ACCEPT PAY CUT

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 3 (AP)—Ten Decatur cartage companies asked their drivers and dock workers yesterday to accept an unspecified cut in pay.

Ralph B. Lorenz of Decatur Cartage Co., spokesman for the group, made the request in a letter to the AFL Teamsters Union local. He said it was based on a decline in the cost of living and a 10 to 20 per cent drop in the companies' business from the wartime peak.

Mack Ray, business agent of Local 279, said the union had notified the companies it intended to seek a wage boost. The current contract expires Oct. 31. The drivers now receive $1.32 hourly, dock hands $1.27.

7 KILLED IN PLANE CRASH IN ALASKA

Military Craft Falls Into Cook Inlet—Bodies Being Sought.

A Tenth Rescue Squadron float plane earlier sat down near the wreckage and the pilot brought back some parts of the plane, from which identification was made. The plane had been on a routine training flight and had been in the air only 45 minutes when it crashed.

Crewmen of a C-82 troop carrier plane reported seeing the C-47 appear suddenly out of a cloud, go into a flat spin and plunge into the inlet. They said they thought they saw two packages fall from the doomed plane and said they "might have been bodies."

Five Parachute From Blazing Air Force Plane Over California.

FAIRFIELD, Calif., Sept. 3 (AP)—At least five airmen parachuted late last night from a C-82 "Flying Boxcar" which crashed in flames. One body was found near the wreckage of the giant air force plane.

One of the crewmen who leaped to safety telephoned the Fairfield-Suisun air force base that he was the fifth to jump and only the pilot and co-pilot remained.

An Air Force public information officer said, however, the pilot earlier had reported by radio there were eight men aboard.

None of the crew was identified. Ground crews reaching the scene said the wreckage was strewn over nearly a mile. The plane, apparently attempting a forced landing, hit a drainage ditch and plowed through a marshy field. Visibility was reported good.

AMERICAN TAKES FIRST LOOK AT HIS COUNTRY AT AGE OF 38

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (UP)—Frederick Seaman, a 38-year-old American who has spent all of his life in the Philippines, took his first l : at the United States, and said: "It's far more wonderful than movies, books or pictures can describe."

Seaman, whose father was a Spanish-American war veteran who never returned home, has been working for the Veterans Administration in Manila. He has just been assigned to VA headquarters here.

He said he got his first look at his own country at 2:30 a.m. yesterday when his plane flew over Seattle.

"It looked like a million Christmas trees," he said. "I never saw anything so big and so lit up in my life."

U.S. SAYS RUSSIA BOOSTS DEMANDS IN AUSTRIA TALKS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—The United States last night accused Russia of going back on its word and inflating its demands in the latest Austrian treaty talks, now at a standstill in London.

The State Department said that on important issues in disagreement "Soviet demands for economic advantages" at Austria's expense exceeded principles agreed on by the foreign ministers.

In the controversy over German assets in Austria, the statement said, the Russians are trying to keep "war booty which they had previously agreed to relinquish, as well as the greater share of Austria's oil refining capacity and oil exploration areas, of which they were to have received only some 60 per cent . . ."

The statement said the Russians had pretended to make concessions in the treaty talks, but these involved no reduction in "their excessive claims" but were at the expense of the Yugoslavs. This was in consequence of Russia dropping Yugoslavia's claims at the Paris foreign ministers' meeting, the department added.

Although the three Western powers proposed that the conference resume in New York after a three-week recess, the State Department said that Russian Delegate George Zarubin would agree only to refer this proposal to Moscow.

The deputies have been meeting for weeks in London. Sept. 1 was the deadline for an agreement, failing which the treaty issue should be referred back to the foreign ministers.

BLAZING GASOLINE TRUCK LEAVES A FIERY TRAIL IN TOWN

MORLAND, Kan., Sept. 3 (AP)—A blazing gasoline transport truck roared through this town today, spreading flames that caused three explosions and set fire to two buildings and several trees.

The transport caught fire while it was being filled at a garage. The fire was believed to have been started by a spark.

In an effort to control the spread of the flames, Richmeier jumped into the cab and sped down the street to get the vehicle out of the congested area.

Streaks of flaming gasoline poured from the truck as it moved. The truck crashed into the two parked cars, setting both ablaze. Blasts ripped through both vehicles. After the crash, Richmeier jumped from the truck shortly before it, too, exploded.

The streams of blazing gasoline ignited a building housing the billiard parlor and a restaurant. A number of trees lining the street were set afire also. The billiard parlor was destroyed with a loss estimated at $5000. Most of the restaurant was saved by firemen.

130-TON BRITISH AIRLINER UNDERGOES FIRST TESTS

BRISTOL, England, Sept. 3 (AP)—The 130-ton Brabazon I, one of the biggest airliners in the world, moved under its own power for the first time today—in a series of taxiing runs.

Test Pilot William Pegg guided the eight-engine craft up and down a mile and a half of runway at 10 miles an hour five times while a team of nine technicians studied its 1000 instrument dials.

Soon, perhaps early next week, Pegg hopes to take the plane on its first flight. It has a wing span of 230 feet, a fuselage length of 177, and a rudder which rises 50 feet from the ground. It will never go into commercial service, but a new Brabazon II of which it is the prototype is expected to carry 100 passengers non-stop from London to New York.

YOUTH APPARENTLY INJURED DUMPING FEED FOUND DEAD

Vincent Urban, 16 years old, was found dead last night beside his truck in a field at the Indian Lake Stock Farm, at the junction of United States Highways 67 and 40, north of East St. Louis, where he had been dumping feed to hogs.

His father, Joseph, said the boy apparently had been investigating the truck's dumping mechanism when it gave way and struck Vincent on the back of the head. Urban found his son when he arrived at the field with another load of feed.

JET PLANE TEST PILOT KILLED

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 3 (AP)—An experimental jet plane crashed in flames in suburban Amherst yesterday. The pilot was killed. The Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory identified the victim as Leif W. Larson, 31-year-old test pilot.

One witness, about half a mile away, said the plane must have been traveling about 400 or 500 miles an hour when it zipped close to the treetops, then "dipped into the ground and blew up." The plane was identified as a version of the Lockheed F-80 Shooting Star.

SEA-GOING JEEP TURNS BACK

HALIFAX, Sept. 3 (AP)—The loss of two spare gasoline tanks and choppy seas caused Mr. and Mrs. Ben Carlin to abandon their second try at crossing the Atlantic in an amphibious jeep.

They brought their strange looking craft, the Half Safe, into Halifax yesterday after losing the tanks some 85 miles off shore. The two spare tanks were being towed behind the jeep.

SAILOR CHARGED WITH DESERTION AWAITS VERDICT

Decision on Man Who Served in Foreign Legion to Be Kept Secret Pending Review.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Seaman Patrick James Ryan now must await a naval officers' review of his court-martial before learning his penalty for missing his ship.

He hopes his story that he was shanghaied into the French Foreign Legion, and the scars and broken teeth he says he got in that army, will earn him leniency.

A five-man Navy court-martial adjourned yesterday without acquitting Ryan, 22 years old, of a charge of desertion. Navy legal experts said the action amounts to a finding of guilt but leaves the way open to reduce the charge—perhaps to "unauthorized leave."

Decision Reached.

Comdr. Lloyd Straits, president of the court, said a decision was reached but it would have to remain secret until reviewed by R. Adm. Glenn Davis, Potomac Naval Station commandant who convened the court-martial.

Adm. Davis was expected to announce his and the court's decision Tuesday. He has the power to set aside the court's sentence or reduce it but cannot increase it.

The court in that case gave him the maximum penalty—two years confinement and dishonorable discharge. This sentence eventually was cut to a rating reduction and six months on probation.

He was restored to active duty in May 1947, two months before he missed his ship out of San Remo, Italy.

Asked if he had a final statement to make, Ryan told the court tersely:

"Sir, I was granted liberty leave from my ship on July 3, 1947. I got tight. When I came to, my ship was gone. I tried to get to it. I was shanghaied into the French Foreign Legion. I've got scars all over my body from the beatings I had to take. My teeth were knocked out.

Ate Cats, Dogs.

"I was sent to Indo-China. I got into China. There I lived on any kind of food I could get—cats, dogs, rats. I got back to the Navy and it turned me over to stand trial for desertion."

In summing up the Navy's case, Kroetz told the court he did not believe Ryan's story about being kidnaped into the Foreign Legion. He did believe "100 per cent," he said, Ryan's story of beatings and hardships in the Legion.

If found guilty of desertion, Ryan faces two years' confinement and dishonorable discharge as the maximum sentence.

However, if the court believed he didn't deliberately intend to desert, the maximum sentence is six months' confinement plus the number of days of unauthorized leave.

BRENDA ALLEN OUT OF JAIL; SERVED PANDERING SENTENCE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3 (UP)—Former Hollywood Madam Brenda Allen, key figure in a grand jury investigation of police protected vice, was released from jail yesterday after serving three and a half months of a pandering sentence.

The onetime vice queen appeared with her attorney, Max Solomon, before Superior Judge Robert Scott to be freed on a habeas corpus writ. Solomon said she plans to leave the city until her hearing Oct. 3. She is free on $2000 bond.

MAN SHOT TO DEATH; SHOP OWNER IN VENICE SOUGHT

Police, who said there were no witnesses of the shooting, are seeking the missing confectionery owner, Silas Freeman, Negro. Neighbors told police the two men quarreled last night over a debt Bagsby owed to Freeman. Bagsby, 40 years old, lived at 412 Weaver.

BINAGGIO BEFORE GRAND JURY IN KANSAS CITY CRIME DRIVE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 3 (AP)—Charles Binaggio, north side Democratic leader, testified about 90 minutes yesterday before the Jackson county grand jury. He was the only witness heard in the afternoon.

The grand jury has been working since May 28 under instructions of Circuit Judge Allen C. Southern to clean up "gang killings and general lawlessness."

The judge listed 13 unsolved murders, ending with the March 24 killing of Wolf C. Rimann.

MAY END SUBSIDY ON UNCONTROLLED POTATO CROPS

Brannan Says He Is Planning to Avoid Waste and Loss to Government on Tubers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan told Congress today that he plans to remove Government price supports from potatoes unless farmers agree to control marketing and production.

Brannan wrote Chairman Elmer Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma, of the Senate Agriculture Committee about his plan to jerk out the price props in order "to avoid waste and loss to the Government."

Brannan's letter noted, as an example, that growers of California early potatoes, which are marketed between April 1 and July 15, had rejected a proposed federal marketing agreement in a referendum the last 10 days of June.

State or Area Basis.

These marketing agreements and orders usually operate on a state or area basis. Before becoming effective they must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers or producers. Under them the quality and quantity of products sent to market are regulated in an effort to get farmers a good market price. If this fails the Government steps in and buys the product at support levels.

Brannan said he intends to deny Government price supports to the California early potatoes next year and in subsequent years, unless potato growers there accept the marketing and planting controls.

But in doing so, he took no notice of a compromise flexible price support bill now pending before the Senate. It would continue Government price supports for potatoes near existing levels.

Brannan's Authority.

Brannan informed Senators that he believes he now has authority to remove these supports, if growers reject controls, both under the existing farm law and a delayed flexible support program. The latter, known as the Aiken Act, because it was sponsored by Senator Aiken (Rep.), Vermont, is due to go into operation Jan. 1 unless Congress passes substitute legislation.

In a long and detailed analysis of Government price supports for potatoes, Brannan said the "total cost was tremendous" in 1948. It resulted in a Government outlay of $224,200,000 in 1948 for this one crop.

"There is little doubt that the program will encounter much criticism if it results in extensive commodity waste," he added.

He said the potato surplus amounted to 133,600,000 bushels last year, after surpluses of 34,200,000 bushels in 1947 and 107,800,000 bushels in 1946.

He said that little time remains to work out marketing agreements and orders for the rest of this year but that "in areas where such programs are feasible, eligibility for price support will be conditioned on having appropriate marketing agreements and orders in effect and in operation."

He added that the potato council, major farm organizations and "all important commercial potato producing areas" agree that supports should depend upon controls.

But Brannan said that in the past farmers who failed to co-operate with marketing and planting agreements had benefitted along with those who co-operated. This was unfair, he added, in announcing the new policy of no controls, no supports.

'FLAT BROKE,' SAYS HEIR WITH HOME WORTH $160,000

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3 (AP)—Earle J. Bernheimer, 51-year-old Kansas City department store heir, yesterday challenged the validity of his marriage to Verone Odegard Bernheimer, 27, former blues singer. The Bernheimers were in court on a pre-divorce hearing on her plea for $1125 a month support for herself and their child, Earle Jr.

Bernheimer's attorney asked permission to prove that the seven-year marriage is illegal. The lawyer said Bernheimer had obtained a Mexican divorce early in 1942 from Mrs. Sally Wright Bernheimer, then his wife, but that it was invalid because it was in violation of an injunction she had obtained.

Judge Byron Walters held that the present Bernheimer marriage is valid for purposes of the alimony hearing and took Mrs. Bernheimer's plea for support under advisement.

"I never counted the rooms," replied Bernheimer, saying the market price for the house now is $160,000. He said he believed $420 a month would be a reasonable amount for support of his wife and son.

HEARS FUNERAL OVER PHONE

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 3 (AP)—Too ill to attend her husband's funeral, Mrs. Mamie Brandwine listened by telephone to the eulogy and chanted prayers.

Services for Jacob Brandwine, 81, were held in a funeral chapel yesterday afternoon. A telephone connection was made to the Brandwine home and the telephone in the chapel was placed near a loudspeaker of the amplifying system.

ELECTROCUTED FIGHTING FIRE

She rushed to the scene with two pails of water. A few moments later a motorist saw the fire and stopped. He extinguished the flames. Then he saw Miss Wise's body. She had been electrocuted by a high tension wire which fell to the ground and started the blaze.

BOOKIE RAIDED ON DE BALIVIERE, 19 ARE SEIZED

Detectives Play Pool Until Basement Door Is Unlocked, Then Dart Past Lookout.

After playing pool at the Victory Recreation Parlor, members of the police gambling squad laid down their cues yesterday and raided a handbook in the basement of the establishment at 572 DeBaliviere avenue. Nineteen men found in the basement were arrested.

A door leading to the basement was locked, but when a man with a key opened it to admit a customer, the plainclothes men seized their chance and darted in. They moved so fast that a clerk at the upstairs cigar counter did not have time to push the button sounding a buzzer alarm in the basement.

At the bottom of the stairs was a trick door. One side bore a mirror which presented persons descending the stairs with their own reflection. The other side was transparent, enabling those inside to see who was coming.

Police, who had the place under surveillance for some time, said they found the handbook crowded and doing a flourishing business. There were two telephones in the handbook, the walls of which displayed form and scratch sheets for bets on horse races.

P. S. Shehorn, who gave an address in the 4400 block of Olive street, said he was the owner. He told the Post-Dispatch he had been accepting bets for "four or five weeks." Across the street is the DeBaliviere streetcar barn, and six of the customers arrested were streetcar operators, police reported.

Shehorn and 18 other persons were arrested, including a clerk who identified himself as Joe Plum, living in the 2600 block of Hord avenue, Jennings.

FARM WOMAN DRIVES FROM ARKANSAS TO VERMONT IN WAGON

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Arthur Lemear, the farm wife who set out by horse and wagon for home from Hunt, Ark., July 5, today reached Vermont and rested last night in Rutland.

Mrs. Lemear, making the 1800-mile trip alone, crossed into Vermont from Comstock, N.Y., during the day. She was greeted by cheering spectators as she drove her two-horse team through Fair Haven, Hydeville and Castleton.

She said her husband's health failed to improve in the southwest, so they decided to return to Vermont. Lemear, who rode from Arkansas by bus, is working in Buffalo, N.Y., but plans to rejoin his wife in Bethel.

BENNETT MEYERS MAKES NEW MOVE TO REGAIN LIBERTY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Bennett E. Meyers, the one-time major general ousted from the Army and sent to prison in 1948, was understood today to have made a new bid for early release from custody.

His attorneys, asked about reports that Meyers had suggested a compromise settlement of the Government's $88,000 income tax claims against him, said there have been "some discussions" with the Justice Department on the subject. They declined to talk details.

Both the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Bureau declined official comment.

The former Air Force purchasing officer is now serving a 20 months to five-year term at Lorton (Va.) federal reformatory. The sentence was imposed after his conviction of inducing an associate to commit perjury before a Senate committee which investigated the general's private wartime business activities.

Meyers will be eligible for parole in mid-November after completing the minimum time fixed by the court. The suggested compromise of his income tax cases evidently is intended to bolster his case for freedom before the parole board.

EUROPE ASSEMBLY REJECTS PLAN FOR SINGLE CURRENCY

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 3 (UP)—The new European Assembly today rejected a proposal for a single European currency, but urged all member states to make their currencies freely interchangeable as quickly as possible.

A resolution adopted by the assembly also proposed permanent machinery to co-ordinate the credit policies of the 12 member states, and urged a conference of member states and their overseas territories to seek closer economic co-operation.

It suggested that representatives meet later with officials from the United States and other interested nations in a world economic conference.

PRIEST REPORTED SENTENCED TO DEATH IN POLISH TRIAL

WARSAW, Sept. 3 (AP)—The official Polish news agency said today a military court in Olsztyn (Allenstein) has sentenced a priest and another man to death and six others to prison terms.

The Rev. Stanislaw Junusz and his seven co-defendants were convicted of membership in the illegal organization WIN (Freedom and Independence), the agency said.

PRICE WARNS AGAINST RELYING ON A-BOMB

While Most Destructive Weapon, It Isn't Self-Sufficient, Congressman Says.

DENVER, Sept. 3 (UP)—A member of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy yesterday described modern society as merely struggling on the frontiers of a new and strange way of life which may evolve from atomic experiments.

Representative Melvin Price (Dem.), East St. Louis, said that atomic developments are enabling man every day to learn more of the life about him.

"When the story of the mid-Twentieth century is written," he told a convention of the Enlisted Veterans Association, "the real profits from our investment in atomic energy may be something completely beyond our imaginations today."

He warned that Americans must not let the atomic bomb become "our Maginot line." Price said he considered the A-bomb the "most destructive engine of war ever dreamed of by man, the most devastating explosive, the most nearly decisive weapon in any arsenal."

But, he added, it is not a self-sufficient weapon.

Price urged Americans not to underestimate the capabilities of Russia in the field of atomic energy, and said it would be a mistake for us to assume that Russian atomic experiments did not commence until 1945 when Hiroshima was A-bombed.

He said the United States atomic energy program as "making real headway," and that Atomic Energy Commission Chairman David Lilienthal had been a victim of "un-American" criticism and attacks.

CHINESE SETS SAIL FOR HOME, IS BLOWN BACK TO BRITISH JAIL

BARRY, Wales, Sept. 3 (AP)—Tong Full Ng, 55-year-old Chinese, decided to sail 9000 miles to his native China in an 18-foot open boat.

For the first 36 hours the voyage went nicely. Then the wind and the tide turned on Tong. In spite of all he could do, the boat was borne up on the beach at Barry, 15 miles from his starting point.

Yesterday in the Barry magistrates court, the judges gently explained that Tong had broken the law. He forgot to tell the immigration authorities he was leaving. For that, they gave the sad little Chinese two months in jail.

But the government provided a happy ending today. When Tong has served his time he will be deported home—aboard a steamer.

DEWEY ORDERS POLICE GUARD FOR PAUL ROBESON CONCERT

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 3 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today ordered "all available state police" into the Peekskill area tomorrow to prevent disorder at what he called "pro-Communist meeting" at a Paul Robeson concert tomorrow afternoon.

Dewey acted as sponsors of the concert planned court action to try to keep demonstrating veterans from the scene of the scheduled performance, near the spot where a riot prevented a concert by the Negro singer last Saturday.

The Governor said he ordered the extra troopers at the request of the Westchester county sheriff, Fred W. Ruscoe, but added that he was holding the sheriff and district attorney "strictly accountable" for maintaining order.

The Governor's action came shortly before a United States district judge in New York City refused to act on an application seeking to restrain veterans from staging a protest parade against the recital.

The performance is scheduled to be held only a mile from the spot where demonstrating veterans prevented Robeson frm appearing last Saturday. A riot ensued. Judge John W. Clancy ruled that his court had no authority to grant an injunction against the parade.

NAVY TESTS PATROL PLANE WITH JET, STANDARD ENGINES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—The first of 19 new planes ordered by the Navy—long-range patrol craft powered with a combination of jet and reciprocating engines—has been flight tested, the Navy announced yesterday.

The BM-1 Mercator, built by the Glenn Martin Co. was taken up on Wednesday from the company's Baltimore field.

The plane has a range of more than 2000 miles, a speed in excess of 300 miles an hour, can take off at a total weight of more than 80,000 pounds, and carries a crew of nine. It is intended primarily for long overwater patrols, mainly photographic reconnaissance.

STOCK TRADE NARROW IN PRE-HOLIDAY WEEK

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (UP)—Trading narrowed on the stock market during the preholiday week and sales volume fell off to a 2-month low. Net changes in the main list generally were small but several selected issues had substantial gains or losses, mostly gains. The list finished the week on small gains in the averages. Sales totaled 3,535,180 shares, smallest since the week ending July 2 when the total was 3,333,540. A week ago sales amounted to 3,661,940.

Traders moved coutiously but there appeared to be little bearishness. Somehow the financial district anticipated nothing would be done about sterling devaluation at this time, and many believed there will be no steel strike. Both these items come up for definite decision in a week or so.

Some Special Movements.

While the main body of stocks held to a new narrow range, there were many special movements, some induced by individual news items. For example, Pacific Telephone and General Utilities rose on higher dividends, while Follansbee fell on a dividend omission and Timken Detroit Axle was off on a reduction in its dividend.

Goodrich weakened early in the week on strike news and rallied later. Coca Cola soared 14 points on Monday and then slipped back from its high. Oils enjoyed a strong market in the Thursday session.

On Wednesday, low-priced utilities made up a large portion of the trading. The turnover included a block of 50,000 shares of Commonwealth & Southern, and 18,000 shares of United Corporation. Each made a new high.

Good gains in the oils were made by Skelly, Barnsdall, Superior of California, Amerada and Phillips.

Auto Issues Easier.

Active railroads did little more than hold their own. Mahoning Coal Railroad appeared on the tape at 475 up 32 points. Brooklyn Union steadily made new highs in the utility section. Tobaccos were bid up to new highs for several issues on a report of record output in the fiscal year of the companies.

Automobile issues were easier on the week. Steels had small net gains. Utilities were consistently higher. A few rails gained a point or more. Aircrafts rose on improved order backlogs.

Commodities and bonds were irregular. Commercial loans increased. Money in circulation also rose. Gold supplies declined.

Converting Into A.T & T. Stocks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—About 10 per cent of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. issue of 3⅛ per cent convertible debentures of 1959 were converted Thursday and Friday into A. T. & T. capital stock, the company announced.

The issue of $394,372,900 debentures is convertible into capital stock at the rate of one $100 debenture and $30 cash for each share of A. T. & T. common until June 20, 1951. The conversion period started yesterday.

GIFT WARDROBE LEAVES BEAUTY WINNER 'DIZZY'

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (UP)—Loreen Osgood, who is beautiful but broke, complained yesterday that she would have to be Miss New York City in a borrowed dress. Then things happened so fast they made her dizzy.

The garment industry heard of the plight of the Port Huron (Mich.) brunette who came to New York to be an actress but was only a stenographer until she won the right to represent the city in the Miss America contest next week at Atlantic City.

One gown, made of white horsehair, was insured for $1500.

"Things happened so fast I was dizzy," Miss Osgood said.

Only a few hours before Miss Osgood had said that the big city lacked the spirit of a small city such as Kelso, Wash., the home town of Libby Aldrich, which bought her a wardrobe after she won the title of Miss Washington State.

"Now I've changed my mind," she said.

AIRLINER PILOT PREVENTS CRASH WHEN BRAKES FAIL

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (AP)—The pilot of a chartered airliner saved his 28 passengers from possible injury at municipal airport yesterday after the brakes on his twin engine DC-3 failed.

John Urnezis of Kansas City, Mo., raced one of the plane's engines when he discovered the brakes were not functioning. This swung the craft away from the airport's old administration building. About 50 persons were in the building. Airport officials said many of them could have been injured had the plane struck the building.

The DC-3 had just landed and was taxing across the field when the brake failure was discovered.

Railroader Retires After 53 Years.

TRENTON, Mo. (AP)—Clyde C. Evans, chief dispatcher for the Rock Island Railroad's Missouri-Kansas division, retired Thursday after 53 years of railroad service. He began work as a station helper in Poteau, Indian Territory, later Oklahoma.

HOGS, CATTLE STEADY TO UP ON WEEK, SPRING LAMBS OFF

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE, Sept. 3—Hog receipts Saturday 370; market steady to 25c lower; top $21.75. Cattle receipts 100, calves 50, all carried over for Monday. Sheep receipts none.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Sept. 3 (USDA weekly review of the livestock market)—Good and choice steers and heifers closed the week Friday 25@50c higher with lower grades about steady with last Friday after losing early gains. Cows showed a similar trend, while bulls were as much as 75c lower on tops, others 25@50c off in final deals. Vealers closed steady and replacement steers were mostly steady throughout. Choice 1183 and 1089-lb. steers topped at $28.50; good and choice largely $24.50@28; medium and low good, $18.50@24; cutter and common, $15@17.50. Medium and good replacement steers, $18@21, a few to $22.50 and common, $15@16.50; choice 862-lb. mixed yearlings topped at $28.50; good 857-lb. heifers, $27; good and choice heifers and mixed yearlings went at $24@27.50; common and medium, $16@23, and cutters, $13@15. Good cows reached $16.50, majority $15.50@16, with common and medium cows $14@15; canners and cutters, $11@14. Good sausage bulls topped at $18.75, closing top $18.25 with medium and good for the week $16.50@18.50; cutter and common, $14@16 and light cutter bulls down to $13 late. Good and choice vealers sold largely at $25@30, latter figure top for the week; common and medium vealers $17@24 with culls around $13@14; medium and good heavy slaughter calves $22@24, common and medium $17@21.

Barrows and gilts, 180 lbs. up, finished the week 25@50c higher, lighter weights steady to 25c higher and sows 50@75c higher; top prices ranged from $21.50 Monday and Tuesday to a sparing $22 on Friday. For the week, bulk of 200 to 250 lbs. sold at $21.25@21.75; 260 to 300 lbs., $20@21.50; 350 to 425 lbs., $16.75@18.75; 180 to 190 lbs., $20.50@21.50; 140 to 170 lbs., $17@19.50; 100 to 130 lb. pigs, $14@17; sows, $13.50@18.75; a few to $19.

Spring lambs closed the week 50c@$1 lower, yearlings steady to 50c lower, ewes steady. Spring lambs topped early in the week at $24.50, bulk good and choice at $23@24 with $24 the closing top. Medium and good cashed at $21@$22.75, cull to medium throwouts, $15@18. Good and choice yearling wethers sold at $21@21.50, a load of medium and good at $18; most slaughter ewes brought $6@8.50.

Chicago Livestock Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (UP)—All hogs and the better grades of cattle sold higher on the livestock market this week, with the latter showing its best top for several months. Sheep were mostly steady.

The cattle top was $31, highest since April. This was paid for a load of choice to prime 1166-lb fed steers. Compared to Friday of last week the choice kinds were $1@1.25 higher but all or any early 50c-$1 advance on high medium and good steers was lost late. Common to average-medium steers were weak to 25c lower. Choice heifers were fully 50c higher but lower grades were only steady. Cows sold weak to 50c lower with bulls 50c to $1 lower. Vealers held 50c to $1 higher.

In the sheep market, native spring lambs finished Friday about steady with last week's dull close and fed yearlings wethers were weak to 50c lower. Sheep were steady to somewhat stronger with western grass lambs absent but fed yearlings in liberal supply. The week's top was $24.

Mississippi Valley Stock Yards.

CATTLE—Bulk of better fed steers and heifers sold at $25.50@27 for the week; bulk of beef cows $13.75@14.75; bulk of better bulls $16.25@18.50; bulk of better veal calves $25@30.

HOGS—Top prices ranged for the week from $21.50@22. On the close bulk of 190-260s sold at $21.50@21.75, extreme top $22.

GRAIN MARKET QUIET, PRICE RANGE NARROW

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Grains moved over a narrow price range in quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today. The market did not have much of a trend, but relative weakness in the September corn contract was apparent. It fell more than a cent at one time.

Cash corn arrivals here today totaled 150 cars and the receipts on Tuesday will be heavy as they will include arrivals on both Sunday and Monday. The new corn crop was reported as continuing to do well.

However, Broomhall, British grain authority, pointed out "United States corn at current prices is probably the cheapest livestock feed in the world today and already some (European) countries with dollars to spend are buying this grain for shipment from the Gulf of Mexico."

Lifting of an embargo on wheat shipments to four major terminals had no influence on the market. The embargo was placed in effect at the start of the harvest season when big marketings were expected. The four cities from which the embargo was lifted are Kansas City, Kan.; Kansas City, Mo.; St. Louis, Mo.; and East St. Louis, Ill.

According to talk in cash grain circles, some new crop corn for December shipment has been purchased at about 7 cents under the December delivery. The price was believed to have netted the farmer around 90 cents, which is about 50 cents below the prospective government loan level.

The Agriculture Department reported very slow activity under the international wheat agreement. In the week ended Sept. 1, flour sales equal to 73,322 bushels of wheat were made, smallest for any week since the agreement became effective on Aug. 1. No sales of wheat were made.

Some change may result in this situation, traders said, because of the Government's action late yesterday in raising export subsidy rates on the east coast. The rate was raised 9 cents to 34 cents a bushel, a gain of 14 cents in the last two days. This may increase exports, dealers said.

Member Borrowings Down.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—Stock exchange member borrowings at the end of August were slightly lower than a month ago but sharply above the same date in 1948.

The New York Stock Exchange said member firm loans from banks, trust companies and other lenders of national securities exchange as of the close of Business Aug. 31 amounted to $537,699,589 against $541,715,638 July 31 and $323,489,473 on Aug. 31, 1948.

Of the total amount at the end of last month, $144,381,182 was in direct obligations guaranteed as to principal or interest by the United States Government, as against $170,383,215 at the end of July, and $393,318,407 on all other collateral, compared with $371,332,424 at the end of July.

SCHOOL SEGREGATION AGREEMENT REACHED

Compromise Between East Side Board and Negroes Averts Fund Tie-Up.

Litigation threatening to tie up $677,898 in state school aid to East St. Louis public schools, based on the maintenance of separate schools for Negroes, was averted yesterday when a compromise agreement was reached between the school board and the East Side chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The N.A.A.C.P. has agreed to withhold the suit and the school board has pledged to provide equal educational opportunities for Negro pupils, and to accept any decision made in a pending mandamus suit in Circuit Court at Belleville to force the school board to abide by Illinois statutes barring segregation in public schools.

The N.A.A.C.P. had planned to attempt to enroll several Negro pupils in white public schools when classes open Tuesday. If the pupils had been denied admission, the organization intended to file an injunction suit to restrain County School Superintendent Clarence D. Blair from distributing state school funds to the East St. Louis district. The suit would have charged violation of the state's anti-segregation law.

Loss of the $677,000 state aid, representing about one-fourth of the tentative budget for the East St. Louis schools for the coming academic year, would have necessitated a 35 cent increase in the school tax rate, it was estimated.

Under the agreement, the School Board also agreed to allow the Negro high school teams to use Parsons Field, the public school athletic field, for their games, and to reduce the size of Negro class to conform to that in the white schools. The board also said it would employ Negro craftsmen in making repairs on Negro schools. In return, the N.A.A.C.P. said it would not attempt to enroll Negro pupils in the white schools Tuesday, and would drop its plans for the injunction suit.

The agreement was worked out by a committee comprising Police Commissioner John T. English, Arnold Johnson, banker; Charles Spilker, manager of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and R. A. Barracks, managing editor of the East St. Louis Journal. The controversy over segregated schools resulted in disorders between white and Negro students earlier this year.

ST. LOUIS, BUCHANAN COUNTY CHARTER TALKS PROPOSED

The St. Louis county charter commission decided last night to invite a member of the Buchanan county charter commission to come to St. Louis to discuss with the local group details of the proposed Buchanan county charter.

Residents of Buchanan county, which includes St. Joseph, will vote on the proposed charter in an election Nov. 8. As drawn, it provides for election of a six-member board of supervisors, sheriff, recorder of deeds, circuit clerk and public administrator. The supervisors would appoint a county manager, planning commission, auditor and advisory board for health and welfare. The manager would appoint the prosecuting attorney, superintendent of public works, county clerk, a financial officer and a head of the health and welfare division.

Alfred H. Kerth, chairman of the St. Louis county charter commission, directed the commission's miscellaneous provisions committee to include in its study of merit systems for county employes the system that was in the proposed Jackson county charter. The Jackson county proposal, which was defeated by voters there, included a merit system for most county employes. The St. Louis county commission will meet again at 8 p.m. on Sept. 15, at the St. Louis County Health Department building.

PMW PRESIDENT EXPLAINS LOCALS' MOVE TOWARD AFL

Action of 10 St. Clair county locals of the independent Progressive Mine Workers in joining the Central Trades and Labor Assembly at Belleville as a preliminary step toward seeking affiliation with the American Federation of Labor does not affect the organization as a whole, John Marchiando, president of the union, said today.

Marchiando, whose union has been in and out of the AFL, said that there were no present plans to rejoin it as a state-wide body. The Progressives obtained an AFL charter in 1938 when John L. Lewis led his United Mine Workers out of the federation. When Lewis came back in 1945, Marchiando directed the withdrawal of the Progressives. Lewis subsequently left the AFL again so that the federation now has no miners in its ranks.

The St. Clair locals may function as an affiliate of the member of the Belleville central trades body without formal affiliation with the AFL. Affiliation would require ratification by the AFL Executive Council which meets at the time of the federation's convention at St. Paul, Minn., next month.

FUGITIVE SOUGHT BY 4 STATES ARRESTED AT BUS DEPOT HERE

A fugitive wanted in four states was arrested by special police officers Wednesday night at the Greyhound bus terminal, Broadway and Delmar boulevard, on a tip he was in St. Louis and would attempt to leave town by bus, police announced yesterday.

He is James H. Meares, 42 years old, wanted at Estancia, N.M., for embezzlement of $300 and at Natchez, Miss., for embezzlement of $1000 and on suspicion of murder. Meares also is wanted in South Carolina, where he escaped fom the state penitentiary at Anderson in 1944 and in Georgia, where he escaped earlier from the state penitentiary at Marietta. He was serving terms for embezzlement at the time of his escapes, police said.

Meares, who has waived extradition, is also being held for the Federal Bureau of Investigation on suspicion of violating the Mann act, after a 17-year-old girl told police he paid her bus fare in bringing her to St. Louis with him from Estancia this week.

IN MEMORIAM

FELLHAUER, ROSE K., in loving memory, who departed this life Sept. 3, 1948:

I often sit and think of you,
When I am all alone;
For memory is the only thing,
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by HUSBAND AND FRIENDS.

YORK, IVEY B., in loving memory of our dear mother, who departed this life, Sept. 3, 1937.
ARCH, LOUISE and ELIZABETH.

Vaughan Hearings Called Social Failure

By Elise Morrow

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.

WHATEVER else might be said about the Harry Vaughan-John Maragon-deep freezer hearings, one thing is clear. They have been a social failure.

GENERAL VAUGHAN ... NO KNITTING.

The Howard Hughes, Benny Meyers, and Hiss-Chambers hearings were held in large rooms, with seats available for the public. They were, in many respects, like morning cocktail parties, minus alcohol, and were written up in the local society pages like any other major social event.

"Mrs. Cabinet Member, dressed in a sapphire and poison green print suit with a coq feather which tilted over her forehead and impaled her neighbor, leaned forward eagerly as the Senator lashed the witness. . . ."

IN THOSE HAPPY DAYS, official wives and political dilettantes, elegantly dressed—or what passes in Washington for elegant dressing—crowded the hearing rooms, waved to friends as though they were lunching at the Mayflower Lounge, and fluttered about the Capitol Hill corridors during recesses. A few of them knitted, preserving an interesting social custom for such occasions which gained popularity during the French revolution.

The "five percenter" hearings which were climaxed by General Vaughan's testimony this week, however, were held in a tiny room with no space for glittering bystanders, once the investigators, investigatees and the press had been accommodated. For a change, there was no subsidiary society circus.

WASHINGTON HOSTESSES are contemplating Vice President Alben W. Barkley's attentions to Mrs. Carleton Hadley with mixed feelings. The word on the social grapevine is that it won't be long before the attractive St. Louis widow becomes the bride of our jolly and warm-hearted "Veep."

If the Vice President should marry, it would be a blow to the hostesses, removing from circulation the most charming, and the highest ranking, "extra man," as well as one of the best dancers and story tellers in Washington. Aside from all these virtues, the Vice President is a splendidly domesticated man, with beautiful taste in antiques—and quite a collection. He brought home an exquisite set of Bohemian glass from Paris last year.

★ ★ ★

SENATOR ALEXANDER WILEY of Wisconsin, is another domesticated widower, and also a homespun type; does his own housework, cooks many of his own meals, and now he has taken up doing his own laundry. The Senator bought a batch of nylon shirts recently, so he launders one every night, hangs it on the shower rod, and puts it on next day without ironing.

"Look," said the Senator, pointing to his shirt front, during a recent lunch at the Senate restaurant. "See anything on that shirt? Spilled raspberry jam on it yesterday and it washed out like a dream last night . . . not a shadow of a stain."

Senator Wiley says that taking people to lunch at the Senate restaurant is his greatest pleasure. One night last week, he had dinner at the Shoreham Hotel, and when he finished, asked his waiters to come up to the Senate for lunch with him. The waiters thought the Senator was feeling the hot night and the music, but he finally convinced them that he meant it, so they planned to take him up on it.

★ ★ ★

THE PRESIDENT'S CUP REGATTA, a perennial late summer event involving boats careening around the Potomac, races, and a pageant, comes off next week. The regatta queen this year is Margaret Truman's best friend, Jane Lingo, a chattery, vigorous, attractive brunette, and daughter of a Navy Commander who lives in Washington.

Jane, whom Margaret says has the best sense of humor of anyone she knows, talks incessantly in a Virginia (hoose for house and oot for out) brand of southern accent. Margaret and Jane went through school and college together, dressed dolls together, dated together and short-sheeted each other's beds when they went to West Point for a week-end a few years ago. "That was when we were real young," Jane explains, hastily.

The regatta queens are usually official daughters, and they seem to be blondes and brunettes in alternate years. Last year, the queen was Gerry Clifford, the lush, blonde, peaches and cream daughter of lush, blonde, peaches and cream parents, Presidential Assistant and Mrs. Clark Clifford and the year before, it was dark-haired Drucie Snyder, daughter of Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. John W. Snyder.

Jane will be crowned at a ceremony next Wednesday night at the Watergate, Washington's outdoor auditorium on the Potomac.

Cars for Sale

By Milton Berle

WHEN I peered in the rear-view mirror of my car and saw a long black limousine following me, I was certain that either someone had seen the rushes of my picture or Bob Hope's writers were trailing me to Forest Lawn to find out where I bury the jokes that die on my television shows. I knew it couldn't be the finance company. My car isn't paid for, but they wouldn't take it back in the condition it's in.

I was entirely wrong in both my assumptions, because when the car behind me pulled up to where I could see the driver, he tossed a card into my car. It was just an advertisement telling me that the new autos for 1950 were out and that if I went to a certain used-car dealer I could have my choice of models. They even offered me a trade-in—my car and any new ten thousand dollar bill from the Treasury Department.

I CAN'T BUY A CAR unless my chauffeur is along, but since he got his own car he won't drive mine, so I went to see the new displays alone. The car agency is really wonderful. They feature low-pressure tires and high-pressure salesmen.

We took a ride in one car and the motor purred like a kitten. When we had gone a few miles up the road, I noticed the purring had stopped. I questioned the driver about this, and he explained the phenomenon. Sometimes the kitten falls asleep. But I must say I've never seen a car so easy to drive. One flick of the finger and it swerves to the left. Another flick of the finger and it swerves to the right. They still haven't perfected a flick that makes it go straight.

★ ★ ★

ONE of the big sales points the salesman brought out, while I brought out my checkbook, was that even a baby could drive this car. I wanted to prove it, so I drove over to my house and picked up my daughter Vicki.

I was really afraid to give her the wheel at first, but the salesman insisted. I shrugged my shoulders resignedly and gave Vicki the wheel. The salesman nearly collapsed. He forgot she was in the back seat.

EX-CHIEF EXPLAINS POSITION Former Fire Chief Frank Egenriether talking with reporters at City Hall after a conference yesterday with Mayor Joseph M. Darst. Egenriether quit Aug. 3. During the discussion yesterday the Mayor declined to permit him to withdraw his resignation because of "legal technicalities," He said he rejected offers to become fire marshal or battalion chief and will make no further effort to get back in the department.

SHOUTING FOR THE KLAN Lycurgis Spinks (right), 64-year-old new Imperial Emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, saving with emphasis over the radio last night in Washington that the Klan is a law-abiding organization and not "against" any group of citizens. Spinks, from Thomasville, Ala., was interviewed by Washington correspondents on Mutual's "Meet the Press" program.

BRAINS AND BEAUTY FOR HOLLYWOOD

Four starlets recruited from college campuses by Universal-International studio after an executive decision that brains and beauty both will be a necessity for the actress of the future. Park Opera Chorus in Show for Vets

Members of the dancing chorus of the Municipal Opera in one of the numbers put on yesterday by principals, singers and dancers for wheelchair patients of Veterans Hospital. After the 75-minute show, the performers shared a supper with the veterans provided by former United Service Organizations workers. Arrangements for the entertainment were made by a committee of 25 former U. S. O. members headed by Leslie T. Barco and John Kennedy, production manager of the opera. The park opera ends with the last performance of "Song of Norway," Monday night.

EXODUS BY BUS FOR LABOR DAY HOLIDAY Jam at the Greyhound bus depot late yesterday afternoon from people waiting to board vehicles and others buying tickets (foreground). Thousands of St. Louisans crowded Union Station and other bus stations as they left the city for the Labor day weekend, which will be of three days' duration for many. Highways carried a heavier load than usual and airlines reported a brisk business from holiday travelers.

HANDBOOK RAID Men arrested in a handbook raid yesterday afternoon in the basement of the Victory Recreation Parlor, 572 DeBaliviere avenue, being booked at police headquarters. The establishment is across street from DeBaliviere streetcar barn and six of 19 arrested were streetcar operators. They got variety in their riding habits when they were taken to headquarters in patrol wagons. Police, who had had the place under surveillance for some time, said they found it crowded and doing a flourishing business.

The curious, attracted by the police activity, peering through windows of the recreation parlor. Members of the gambling squad played pool until they saw their chance to follow a customer through a previously locked door.

Half of Jap Homes Have Radios.

TOKYO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Half of Japan's homes now have radios, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's civil communications section announced today. The total is 8,050,000 compared to 5,000,000 at the end of the war.

Flashes of Life

By the Associated Press.

Water Jug Causes Fire.

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP)—A jug of water set fire to Jack Ryan's house in nearby Aurelius.

Fortune Awaits Her.

Donnie Lee, a former waitress, married Antony Marcopulas, Redwood City restaurant owner, Aug. 17, 1948. She later left him and Marcopulas died in December of the same year. He left no will.

Now Attorney F. W. Hammond Jr., of nearby San Carlos, would like to find her to present her with half of Marcopulas's $50,000 estate, to which she is entitled under law. She is thought to be either in southern California or Texas.

Dog Bites Where It Hurts.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A mongrel dog put the bite on a wallet containing $458 and two checks.

William A. Flynn, a retired policeman, reported he lost the wallet near his home yesterday. A short time later, a stranger knocked at Flynn's home and held out the wallet. He told Flynn he had found it on the street.

Just then the dog ran up, snatched the wallet from the stranger's hand and disappeared.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

MY husband acts just like a sulky small boy who won't play because the game doesn't always go his way. He is always finding fault, and takes out most of his ill temper on my daughter by my first marriage. He is not an old man and has no reason to act so crabby. Every time he and I have an argument he blames it all on my little girl. We live in a small apartment, I work so we can save a little, and so he cannot say he is supporting my child, who is in her teens and needs and wants pretty things. She tries to be nice to him and not irritate him, but just the fact that she exists and I have to give her my attention seems quite enough for him. We have been married 14 months and each month things get worse. I love him but does that mean I can't love my child as well? How can I make him behave more like a human being and less like a spoiled kid? I can't spend all my time soothing his ruffled feelings and cheering him up.

MRS. D.

Your husband, whether he realizes it or not, is jealous of your affection for and your attention to your daughter. She is a constant reminder of that first marriage, and also is probably around most of the time when he would prefer to have you to himself. But he knew you had this complication when he married you, and knowing you had been previously married and that the child would be a constant reminder of it, he should have accepted that fact and resolved not to permit it to worry him. His actions are those of a spoiled child, I grant, but perhaps if you could manage so as to give him more attention, praise and make a fuss over him and arrange to let him feel he has a fair share of your undivided attention, this present situation would cease to exist. Try it.

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM A GIRL AGE 16, very short and very sensitive because of it. I have been told some of the boys will not date me because of my lack of height. There is one fellow in my neighborhood whom I like very much. He is just about the nicest boy I know. But he is very tall and when we go out with the crowd around my house he teases me about being so short. I have told this boy how I feel about him, but he won't tell me whether he really cares for me or not. How can I get more dates and how can I get this boy to tell me whether he cares for me and stop teasing me.

TOO SHORT.

With all the wails I get from girls who think they are too tall, there must be plenty of short boys in the world. You really don't have to decide the tallest boy in the crowd is the only one you are interested in. Come a little nearer down to earth and choose someone a few inches shorter. You can wear extra-high heels, you know, and a higher hair-do, and a hat that adds to your height, and clothes that tend to make you look taller. In these ways you can create the illusion of height and that will help a little. As to being teased by the boy about being short, try not to let it worry you. It's all in fun and if he thought it hurt you I am sure he would stop. What with most of us gals being too short, or too tall, or too wide or too narrow we all come in for our share of ribbing one way or another. Just take it and laugh it off. You know what they always say about the nicest things come in small packages.

Ready for School?

By Angelo Patri

SCHOOLS are opening. If you have to enter a child it is a bit late to make the necessary preparations for a good start. But better late than never.

How about the vaccinations? Have them done before sending the child to school. If necessary, go to the school and ask to have a place held for him explaining that he is having his pre-school vaccinations. Don't forget the Schick test which protects the children from diptheria.

Nobody deplores the necessity for such vaccinations more than I do. But having seen what happens when these protective treatments are neglected, I earnestly beg that no child be sent to school unprotected by them. The little children are in need of such preventive treatment because they are most susceptible to childhood's diseases.

IF ONE CHILD should be unfortunate enough to contract measles do not expose other children. Send them away from home to Grandmother or Auntie. Isolate them, but don't allow them to be exposed to contagion or infection. It is a mistaken notion that every child must have such illnesses and the sooner they have them and get over them the better. Some children do not recover from such illnesses.

Are the child's papers in order and do you know where they are? The school people must see and record those papers before they admit the child. So save your own time and the child's and that of the school people by having those papers ready.

DON'T SEND a little child to school by his lonely self this first time. Go with him yourself or let him go with big sister or brother. This first day can be a frightening experience that will hinder a child all his school life. On the other hand it can be such a pleasant one as to make school the nicest place he knows next to home. Make this first day easy and pleasant.

If a child cries for his mother this first day the teacher must stand by and kindly, yet firmly, keep him in school. Deal with him so that he sees that school is not a bad place to be and that the teacher is almost like mother.

But don't let the child go home. Hold him in school for the first three days and after that he will stay gladly.

Let the other children pet him a little. But don't let him go home. And, Mother, please keep away. Be sure you keep away.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

THIS list is typical of the current questions on table service: (1) Shall I use finger bowls when we have no maid? (2) May plates be served from the kitchen when there is no maid? (3) Who crumbs the table before dessert when there is no one waiting on table? (4) Is it possible to have after dinner coffee in the living room without any help? (5) Shall the dishes be left to wash up later since there is no maid, or should the guests be allowed to help if they offer?

(1) When necessary, yes. They can be very pretty if (when table is set) one is put on each plate with short-stemmed flowers in them. (2) Yes, certainly. (3) Not necessary. (4) Certainly, nothing is more charming than coffee making in a glass percolator. (5) If guests are in "party" clothes, I don't think it fair to let them help in the kitchen. No reason why they should.

DEAR MRS. POST: What is your opinion of having those who attend the funeral services in a Funeral Parlor sign a register which is then given to the family of the deceased?

ANSWER: If the family would like this, it is entirely proper. In fact, it is the only way they can have of knowing the complete list of those who came to the service.

My Day -o- By Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N.Y.

A GREAT deal of feeling has been aroused by the riots that took place in Peekskill, N.Y., at a meeting sponsored by the Civil Liberties Union. I, myself, cannot understand why anyone goes to a meeting at which Paul Robeson is going to speak unless they are in sympathy with what he is going to say, since by this time everyone must be familiar with his thinking.

I have been told that what I once experienced, namely, seeing him turn his concert into a medium for Communist propaganda, is his constant practice, so whoever goes to hear him must know what to expect. They might well want to hear him sing, in spite of knowing that he would sing certain songs that they might not like. If so, in this country, it is their privilege to go to hear him and leave. I think if we care for the preservation of our liberties we must allow all people whether we disagree with them or not, to hold meetings and express their views unmolested as long as they do not advocate the overthrow of our government by force.

IT SEEMS to me that peaceful picketing of such a meeting is also an unwise gesture. I can well understand why veterans want to show their displeasure, but I think there are other ways of doing it. They can hold a meeting and see to it that their speakers are as well reported as those at any other meeting. They can see that the press carries refutation of whatever arguments are given at any meeting with which they disagree, but I do not think they need fear that the average American is an easy prey to the Paul Robeson type of propaganda.

I believe the average American should realize that rioting and lawlessness, even when we can prove tha they were, as some people are trying to prove in this case, incited by some Communists, are still not good propaganda for democracy in the world.

★ ★ ★

WE, IN THE UNITED STATES, should, I think, make it clear that we disagree with and disapprove of many views of Paul Robeson, but it is well also for us to remember that Robeson left this country and took his family to the U.S.S.R. until the coming of the war. He wanted to find something he did not find here. He was a brilliant law student and could not find a job in any good New York firm staffed for the most part by men and women of the white race. In other wards, he could not be a lawyer, so he became a singer—a gain in art—but perhaps there was some bitterness in his heart, brought about by the fact that there was no euality of opportunity for educated men of his race. He did not want his boy to have the same experience. Others might feel the same way. In the U.S.S.R. he was recognized as an educated man, as an artist and as an equal. We disapprove of his speeches, but we must also understand him and above all other things, we must be jealous to preserve the liberties that are inherent in true democracy.

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

THERE are so many ways for us cooks to serve fresh peaches and serve them often without any fear of the family or guests telling us to halt with our offering. Peaches naturally are one of our loveliest fruits but their beauty is so fragile that they must be handled with the greatest of respect. They bruise on the slightest provocation and their bruised areas quickly discolor and soon have an off flavor. For the best color, it is usually wise to peel peaches with a stainless paring knife and have salad plates, cocktail glasses or dessert dishes ready so that the peaches may be sliced directly into the dishes to avoid any extra handling. In this way they have their greatest fresh appeal. Carmined lined slices of golden fleshed juicy peaches served in lime juice make a rare cocktail—one that you'll long remember. And the combination of Peach Avocado Salad is equally remarkable in beauty as well as being exceptionally good to eat, and high powered in food values.

Peach Avocado Salad.

Peel avocado, arrange leaves of crisp lettuce on individual salad plates. Slice equal quantity of avocado onto each salad plate. Peel peaches and cut in quarters; place on salad plates. Immediately drizzle with French dressing. Serve immediately. Four servings.

Peach Lime Cocktail.

Two large green limes, one-half cup sugar, one-third cup ice water, one-half pint lime ice, one large, juicy freestone peach.

Squeeze limes and add sugar and ice water. Pour limeade into individual juice glasses (six or eight oz.) or into punch cups, divide lime ice evenly and slice peeled peach in last. Serve immediately. Four servings.

Low Cost Menus.
SUNDAY

SUPPER: Cheese and raisin sandwiches, apple sauce, molasses cookies.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

IN a large proportion of cases a major suit contract should be selected when one partner has a four-card suit and the other has four supporting trumps. There is no denying, however, that at times the "slam-bang" bidder is better off in reaching three no-trump on these same hands. Today's deal is a case in point.

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1♦
Pass	1♥	Pass	1♠
Pass	3♠	Pass	4♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened a club. Declarer (North) won and led a trump to the jack, then returned a low trump to his own king. East won with the ace and shifted to hearts. West continued the suit, and East's spade 10 over-ruffed declarer for the setting trick.

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1♦
Pass	2 N.T.	Pass	3 N.T.
Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened his fourth-highest heart. East put up the jack and was permitted to hold the trick. The heart six was covered by the eight and taken by West with the nine, but now West's hand was virtually dead. Not wanting to give declarer a heart trick, West shifted to a spade. East won and returned the suit. Declarer took this trick in dummy and led a low diamond toward his jack. Whether East put up the queen or ducked, declarer was assured of four diamond tricks, and since he had three spades as sure winners, he did not need either a heart trick or the club finesse!

The moral, if any, may be that "scientific bidding" is not always successful.

Our Women Not Brazen, Writes Elsie

By Elsie Robinson

A BRITISH bachelor, Hugh Corbett, says our girls are brash, brazen and vulgar.

Nor is that all. After three years' residence Corbett has concluded that our women have "cheap taste" and are "brought up in a sex conscious environment." He also takes a crack at the advertising boys by saying they have "stripped the American woman of personality, charm and selectivity.

"While imagining herself to be the acme of sophistication," he continues, "she is in fact pathetically naive and embarrassingly exhibitionistic. Lacking consideration for others, she has conceit to assume that she is the focal point of every situation in which she is involved. Her voice, as a rule, is singularly unmusical."

Now it's all very well for me to take a poke at my sisterhood, which I do on occasion, but any bachelor who tries to do it is inviting homicide—and quick! I am not thinking of the articulate women like myself who are able to answer him. I am thinking of the millions of brave, devoted hard working women who cannot possibly answer him as he deserves.

These women are not "brash, brazen, vulgar and stupid." They are not driving their husbands away from home. They are all too frequently holding those homes together by their unselfish sacrifice and toil. They support old mothers and invalid sisters. They do thousands of kindly things of which the world never hears.

In his article Corbett says that the American female form "has a truly material significance." He charges that few women in the United States are deeply stirred by anything but a fat wallet. That is not true.

If I know one girl who has relinquished a fat job in order to accept a lesser one for someone she loves, I know a hundred. And I am fairly well versed in the habits of my sisters.

I admit the American girl is a spunky package. She is full of initiative and is assertive to a degree. She is also choosy, which may be why Corbett is still a bachelor. But she is essentially womanly.

If I were in deep trouble I would not go and weep on the shoulder of some expensively tailored man with a fat wallet. I would seek out some homely, scrawny, neglected little woman and pour my troubles out to her.

I do not know the women with whom Corbett has associated but I am sure that if he had ever met one real American girl he would never have written the brazen words which he gave in his interview. There is nothing finer, there is no one more courageous, than an American girl. And there is no more generous creature on the whole earth whether her voice is musical or not.

Insulating Materials

IF YOU ever get around to deciding that you want to insulate the walls and roof of your home you will immediately be faced with the job of deciding what sort of insulation to use. Maybe what follows can help you out.

There is something called "Loose Fill Insulation" which is a granular type that can be poured between ceiling joists or into completed walls. It is fine for finished outside walls or unfinished attic floors.

Blanket or roll insulation comes in rolls up to 100 feet in length and is wide enough to fit between standard spaced studding and joists. It is good for new work before the interior wall goes on or for unfinished attics.

Batt type insulation is much the same as blanket except that it comes in short lengths. It's very easy to handle.

Insulation board can be used either behind plaster or as the finished wall. The boards come four feet wide and up to 12 feet in length. They can be used over plaster walls when there is no other practical way of insulating the wall.
